MAY COMPROMISE STATEHOOD WAR

Leaders of Congress Predict Agreement Based on Foraker Plan for Referendum in Southwest.

WILL LET OKLAHOMA IN.

Speaker Cannon Unwilling to Carry Fight to Extremity of Closing Door of Union to Aspirant.

BY RAYMOND.

Washington, D. C., March 15.—[Special.]—It begins to look much like one state and two territories. The house caucus today was a nominal victory for Speaker Cannon, but the moral effect surely will be such as to strengthen the senate in its position.

The house sooner or later will back down more or less, and the result probably will be a bill providing for immediate joint statehood for Oklahoma and Indian territory under the name of Oklahoma, with a referendum for Arizona and New Mexico providing there shall be no joint statehood for them unless each territory votes for it at the special election.

In the long run the house is likely to accept a compromise based on the Foraker amendment which provides for a special election in the two southwest territories.

To maintain discipline and to demonstrate its actual control of the house Speaker Cannon has been forced to insist on a conflict, but after a decent show of opposition the house will agree to a conference and will yield for the sake of saving statehood for Oklahoma, and will let the two southwestern territories alone for the time being. The understanding is, however, that a separate joint statehood bill will be fought out for those two territories in the next congress if the republicans retain control of the house.

Conference, Not Caucus.

There was a meeting of the republican members of the house during the afternoon which both sides were particularly careful to call a conference and not a caucus. If it had been called a caucus three or four dozen members would not have attended at all and would have refused to be bound by it. As it was only a conference they are at liberty to vote with the democrats if they see fit on the floor of the house. The result of the conference was of course an overwhelming majority in support of the policy adopted by Speaker Cannon that the statehood bill should take the usual course and the house should disagree to the amendments of the senate and ask for a conference.

Mr. Mondell of Wyoming moved to concur in the senate amendment striking out Arizona and New Mexico, but directing a conference on the other amendments the senate inserted. This was defeated by a vote of 22 to 43. Hamilton of Michigan, chairman of the house committee on territories, moved the house should nonconcur in the senate amendment and should ask for a conference. This was agreed to by a vote of 100 to 38.

Technically at least this leaves the statehood matter absolutely in the hands of Speaker Cannon. He has the appointment of the conferees. Two out of three will be republicans who are entirely favorable to the Hamilton bill as it passed the house, and one of their number will be Mr. Hamilton himself. They absolutely will control the report of the conferees, and there are not republicans enough in the house to pass the resolution taking the matter out of the hands of the conferees. They can delay as long as they please and can play hide and seek with the representatives of the senate, and more particularly so because a majority of the senate conferees also will be in favor of the two state bill.

Have Power to Kill Bill.

If Speaker Cannon and Senator Beveridge really are determined to prevent the passage of any bill they have the machinery in the conference committee by which to do it with neatness if not with dispatch, because interminable delay and refusal to act is the ordinary method of killing a bill in conference.

In point of fact, however, the condition is not favorable for the house standing up. It is difficult for one house of congress to put up a strong front against the other house unless it evidently is in earnest.

The effect of the republican conference today is to show the senate that while there is a bare majority in the house for the two state bill it is held together only by the personal influence of the speaker. The senate, however, is practically united, or at least there is a good majority for the statehood bill as it stands, with joint statehood for Oklahoma and Indian territory, leaving New Mexico and Arizona out entirely. It scarcely is conceivable the senate would surrender entirely on such a proposition when it knows the house republicans are hopelessly divided and even Speaker Cannon with his great personal influence has been unable to bring into line from thirty to fifty insurgent republicans.

Enabling Act Provided.

As the bill passed the senate, the Burrows amendment practically struck out everything concerning Arizona and New Mexico, leaving nothing more than an enabling act for the admisison of Oklahoma and Indian Territory as a single state upon the adoption of a prescribed constitution following the usual methods. Senator Foraker's amendment to the house bill, providing that Arizona and New Mexico should vote separately on the question of joint statehood and that an adverse vote in either territory should defeat the proposition for union, was passed by the senate. It was followed up entirely by the Burrows amendment eliminating the two southwest territories entirely.

Naturally, the compromise for a conference between the two houses, therefore, will be the Foraker amendment. This would make a bill by which joint statehood for Oklahoma and Indian Territory would be certain, while joint statehood for Arizona and New Mexico would be contingent upon a favorable vote in both territories. At a special election, when the power of the mines and railroads could be exercised to the exclusion of ordinary policies, Arizona almost certainly would vote against joint statehood. The result would be the same, therefore, as if the house should take the Burrows amendment outright. A compromise agreement on the Foraker proposition for a referendum naturally would be more at-

REGISTER PHONE PROTESTS TODAY.

Citizens of Chicago Invited to Tell Council Committee How They Like the Monopoly's Service.

GUIDE FOR ALDERMEN.

They Will Use Information in New Ordinance; Trick of "Grounded Wires" Cuts Off Extensions.

If you have a kick against the way you have been treated by the Chicago Telephone company you will have an opportunity to register the same today with the city authorities. You may tell your troubles to the council committee on gas, oil, and electric light, which meets on the fourth floor of the city hall at 10 o'clock this morning.

The committee is especially desirous of hearing the complaints of citizens against the company in order that it may be guided in its negotiations with the concern for a reduction of rates and for other regulations of this public concession.

Several organizations interested in the telephone question are expected to send representatives. Among them is the Manufacturers' association, which started the litigation to compel the company to abide by the lawful maximum price of $125 for office phones. In the course of its crusade on the business methods of the Chicago concern the association gathered a vast mass of information bearing on the various kinds and quality of service, rates, earnings, etc.

Physicians to Join Protest.

Another organization expected to be represented is the Chicago Medical society, which is seeking reduction in telephone rates for physicians. The society appointed a committee consisting of Dr. W. A. Evans, Dr. Frank Billings, and Dr. John B. Murphy, to call on the council committee.

The physicians complain of the excessive outlay for telephone service they are compelled to make. They must have phones in their offices, their residences, and in addition use slot phones frequently from different parts of the city to keep in touch with their offices and residences.

"I pay more for telephoning than I do for my food," said one physician at the meeting at which the reduction was urged.

Still another delegation will be a committee of the South Chicago Business Men's association, which will be headed by President Jacob Schlosser and Ald. Moynihan.

The telephone company has been busy in South Chicago as in other outlying quarters securing signatures to a petition favoring the company's proposition to reduce rates slightly. The offer is to make the rate to Chicago 5 cents in the face of the Supreme court's decision against tolls within the city limits.

Complaints Still Come In.

Letters complaining of the service and charges of the Chicago company and of the conditions in New York under the measured rate plan continue to pour in upon Mayor Dunne.

In a communication Attorney L. J. Blum of the firm of Blum & Blum shows how the telephone company is attempting to collect under the measured rate $100 in excess of the maximum charge of $125. The letter says in part:

"I can give you the most accurate information, having had dealings with the Chicago Telephone company for many years. In March, 1902, we had a so-called contract with the telephone company, under which we were to pay for 2,500 calls a year about $140.

"At that time we obtained an injunction in the Circuit court restraining them from charging us more than $125. Since that time we have paid them $125 a year, the amount allowed by the ordinance, and now they claim we owe them for that portion which is restrained by the injunction; in other words, for extra calls $410, which gives an average of about $100 cost a year over the $125.

"I have no hesitation in saying that the ordinary law office, according to a measured service, would have to pay between $200 and $300 a year on a measured service, and many mercantile houses, which have occasion to use the phone often, would have to pay many hundreds of dollars more."

Methods in Two Cities.

A comparison of the New York and Chicago telephone service to the disparagement of the latter was furnished in a letter from Walter W. Pollock, secretary and treasurer of the Manufacturers' Appraisal company, which has offices both in this and the eastern city. Says Mr. Pollock:

"The principal points of difference between the service of the Chicago and the New York telephone companies is in the discourteous manner in which it seems as if all of the Chicago Telephone company's employés have a share, and in the uniform courtesy which has always been accorded us in our dealings with the New York company.

"If anything is the matter with your telephone instruments in New York it is attended to promptly, thus setting a good example to the Chicago company. In Chicago if you cannot reach a party you have called for the operator replies, 'The line is busy, please call again,' while in New York the operator secures the number desired and keeps after it until it is not busy, and then calls you up to ascertain whether you still want the desired number."

See New Scheme of Company.

Some of the subscribers to the copper metallic circuit service of the telephone company entered a protest in the afternoon against a scheme which the company is said to have put in practice with the purpose of making life disagreeable to those patrons who have dared to take an active part in the fight against the company's rates. The general effect of the latest action of the company has been to put some of the independent extension telephone instruments out of service, and, subscribers claim, to change metallic circuit lines to "grounded" lines.

When a repair man appears at the office of a subscriber he announces that he has come to put in a "lightning arrester" or a "ground wire." After the ground wire has been put on the subscriber finds he is unable to get "central" on his extension instrument and when he calls up his main telephone there is a queer buzzing sound like a number of people talking at once. When the new wire is cut it becomes easy to get "central" as before and there is no buzzing sound either.

Threatens to Arrest Employes.

Threats to the effect that employés of the company will be arrested and prosecuted for malicious mischief if they persist in their practices were made by Attorney Fred W. Raymond, who has offices on the twelfth

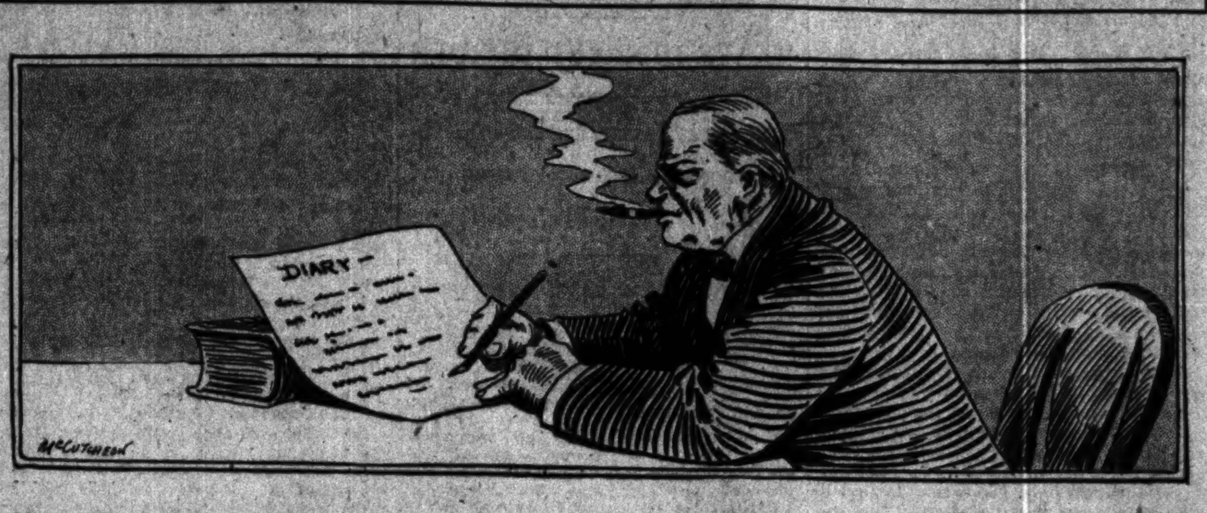
THE DIARY OF A MUCH ABUSED MAN.



Monday—Have just been violently attacked in a magazine article entitled "Corporation Greed." All twaddle, just to make circulation. Finished organization of syndicate to take over the Jerkwater Southern railway for $60,000,000. Will issue $75,000,000 common and $75,000,000 preferred stock and work it off gradually on public.

Tuesday—A fearful attack on me in morning papers. This craze of assailing the property interests of the country is becoming epidemic, but I suppose it appeals to the rabble and makes circulation.

Put in morning with Senator Shark, who agrees to vote for railway rate bill if I appoint his son special counsel at $25,000 a year. Made private agreement with two prominent shippers to give rebates on certain shipments.

Wednesday—A public massmeeting held last night to condemn my methods of finance. The people are going crazy about what they call the greed of the corporations. The newspapers are to blame for exciting the country to the state of frenzied hostility to the solid institutions. If it hadn't been for them we should have escaped this disastrous insurance muddle that has done so much to disturb the business of the country.

Cornered the supply of coal in the middle west and am in a position to make consumers come to my own terms.

Thursday—Preachers have joined the hue and cry about me; say my money is tainted, etc. They're all notoriety seekers, eager to get into the papers. The country's gone mad on the subject.

Had lunch with Judge Jones today and casually gave him the straight about the litigation against my railroad that comes up in his court before long. Have promised to support him with campaign contribution at the next election.

Friday—The Supreme court has just decided that my new bonding project is illegal. The president also has come out in a severe arraignment of my coal corner. Pretty soon the whole country will be infected by this disease of indignation against the property interests, but as long as they don't fool with the tariff I'll not complain.

Was on witness stand today, but said "I don't remember" to every question they asked me. It was none of the public's business, anyway.

Saturday—The grand jury is threatening to indict me. I don't know what the country is coming to. One of my weak kneed directors called in this morning and says we've got only ourselves to blame for this violent clamor against us. He says we're trying to work a good thing to death and that we ought to go slow. I told him that he could go, and not be slow about it, either.

Had my tax assessment reduced from $250,000 to $8,500 today. What's the use of paying taxes when the money's sure to be stolen by the grafters in the treasurer's office?

Sunday—Went to church and heard a good, old fashioned sermon. Told the parson he could put me down for a liberal contribution whenever he needed it, and he seemed greatly pleased.

AIDS FIREMEN AND POLICE.

Council Finance Committee Votes Increase in Pay to Both.

KNOCKS OUT TWO PLATOONS.

Raises Wages 10 Per Cent Next December; Adds 139 Men to Department.

The Chicago fire department was increased in strength by the addition of 139 men and the wages of firemen and policemen were raised by the council finance committee last night. The new men will be installed soon, but the increases will not be effective for several months.

The action is subject to the council's indorsement, but this is said to be certain, for Chairman Bennett announced that the money could be found after a few months for the purpose. The firemen, the patrolmen, and the police operators will receive a horizontal increase of 10 per cent over their present wages, which will mean that their yearly income will be:

Firemen (of rank of privates)	$1,247
Patrolmen	1,210
Operators	990

End of Two Platoon Agitation.

With this action the double platoon system advocated by certain of the privates of the fire department received its quietus for the current year at least. The increased vote was urged by the officers of the department, who at the same time almost without exception condemned the two shift system.

The increases in the salary list will take effect Dec. 1 next. This was a compromise which the committee made on account of the city's lack of funds. It was admitted by all the members that the firemen and policemen deserved the extra pay, the firemen having been promised an increase for a couple of years. But after a consultation with Controller McGann Chairman Bennett reported that the money was not in sight just at present.

One More Man for Each Company.

But the aldermen disliked to put the petitioners off again until next year when it is calculated that the city will have more money. So as an earnest that the extra pay will be given next year the aldermen voted the increases and made them effective the last month of the current year.

The addition to the fire force will give one more man to each company in the service. The advocates of this plan asked for only 129, but the committee threw in ten more for good measure. This will give each fireman twenty-four hours off every six days instead of every twelve days as at present.

The increase in pay voted to the patrolmen and operators will cost the city $291,000 a year, or $24,000 for the one month for which the raise is effective in the current year. The increase for the fire department will cost $120,000 a year, or $10,000 for the current year.

Urged by Chief Campion.

Fire Marshal Campion came before the committee at the opening of the evening session and spoke briefly on the needs of the department.

The chief asserted that the system is championed only by agitators, who he said number less than ninety-five men in the department. "The two platoon system is an impossibility," said he. "Its advocates do not look to the interests of the city, and apparently they care naught for public property or safety. They continue ranting on the subject, with which they are filled, many of them spending little time at home with their families, but going about preaching the two platoon doctrine, causing dissension among the rank and file."

At this point Ald. Zimmer spoke up. "I believe the two platoon system would be a benefit to the fire department," he said, "but it seems because of the opposition it cannot be put into operation. Since the agitation was begun the plan has caused much discontent in the department. I now suggest that we do all we can to get harmony in the department and let the two platoon system for the present, at least, be dropped."

Do a Unique Work.

Ald. Raymer then made a motion for the increase in the salaries of the firemen.

"Both the fireman and the policeman occupy a unique position in civic life," said he. "When they join their respective departments they go into a semi-military life, subject to call for duty at any moment, and as a matter of fact nearly always on duty. In view of these things I believe we should do what little we can to aid them and make their lives at least a little easier."

The action followed, adopted by a unanimous vote.

TAFT TO BECOME JUSTICE.

Practically Has Concluded to Accept Seat on Supreme Bench.

WILL BE ANNOUNCED TODAY.

His Decision Causes Joy Among the Presidential Possibilities.

Washington, D. C., March 15.—[Special.]—Secretary Taft returned from New York tonight after his family conference. He has not yet seen the president and on that account refuses to speak regarding his answer to the offer of a position on the Supreme bench to succeed Justice Brown.

From the best information obtainable, however, it is a good guess to say the secretary of war has concluded to accept the president's offer.

He went away in two minds about the matter, but he was undoubtedly much influenced by the manifest desire of the president that he should accept the position.

Justice Brown will not retire until the close of the present session of the Supreme court, which will be late in May or early in October. It will not be necessary, therefore, for the secretary of war to give up his present work until just prior to the convening of the Supreme court at its October term.

His decision in regard to the Supreme court vacancy will be announced at the White house tomorrow. The president has not been informed as to the result of the family council, at least personally, but he and the particular friends of Secretary Taft think the matter can be considered as decided.

Presidential Chances Were Ignored.

It can be stated on the best authority that any hesitation the secretary of war may have had in his own mind as to whether he should accept or decline the offer made by the president was not based in any way upon the question of his presidential chances.

Secretary Taft has aligned himself openly against Boss Cox in Cincinnati. The secretary's speech at Akron is considered by the Herrick republicans to have been chiefly responsible for the defeat of their candidate for governor last fall. Secretary Taft and Senator Foraker have never been able to sleep in the same political bed for various reasons.

It will be seen, therefore, that from the outset of a presidential campaign Secretary Taft would have to make a fight. He never has been in politics in the ordinary sense of the word and does not relish a personal political battle. He realizes, his friends say, that he would have to fight for the delegation from his own state, fight for the delegates from other states, and then, if nominated, fight for an election.

Contest Would Be Distasteful.

All this to a man of judicial temperament would be exceedingly distasteful, and, while the secretary of war has the natural ambition of every American to become president, he does not believe he personally has the political faculty developed sufficiently to enable him to reach the goal.

Most of his friends think otherwise. They believe he has a better chance for the presidential nomination than any one man whose name has yet been mentioned, and certainly better than any other member of the cabinet.

Secretary Taft is big and broad intellectually as well as physically. He has been before the people and has made a reasonable success in every direction.

Joy Among Dark Horses.

If he announces his acceptance of the Supreme court vacancy tomorrow, as it is reasonably certain he will do, it will be good news to all prospective republican presidential candidates. Vice President Fairbanks will be particularly benefited because Indiana naturally will expect to get the support of Ohio as a mere neighborhood matter. Secretary Shaw and Secretary Root, both in the cabinet, are active presidential possibilities. Few people here believe that Mr. Root, in spite of his great capacity, has much chance for the nomination or to get any delegates outside of New England and the middle states, but he has a good deal better chance with Taft out of the way than otherwise, and the same thing undoubtedly is true of Secretary Shaw.

When President Roosevelt concludes his term of office March 4, 1909, Chief Justice Fuller will be 76 years old. It is a fair inference that he may feel the weight of years sufficiently before that time to induce him to retire, and in that case Secretary Taft almost certainly will succeed him in spite of the unwritten law which prevents promotions on the Supreme bench.

MOB TRIES TO LYNCH 8 MEN.

Omaha Jail Battered In, but Murderers Had Been Removed.

POLICE USE CLUBS FREELY.

Many Heads Broken but Crowd Finally Is Dispersed.

Omaha, Neb., March 16, 2 a. m.—[Special.]—A mob bent on lynching eight murderers, five white men and three negroes, battered in the outer doors of the Douglas county jail in this city at midnight.

A thorough search of the jail, however, proved the murderers had been spirited away.

The police then attacked and dispersed the mob, after many heads had been broken.

Slay in Street Car Holdup.

Several days ago three negroes held up a street car and shot the conductor, James Flury. The wife of one of the negroes took the story to the police and all three were arrested. One of them confessed. The street car men in the city made no concealment of their purpose to lynch the men if Flury died.

In the jail waiting trial were five white men, three accused of murdering Nels Lansten, a saloonkeeper; another charged with killing a relative for the insurance money, and another for murdering a companion after a quarrel.

The street car conductor, Flury, died at 7:30 o'clock last evening, and within an hour a crowd began to assemble around the jail.

Fellow Employes Seek Revenge.

After 11 o'clock the ranks of the crowd were swelled by the arrival of several hundred conductors, motormen, and barn employés of the street railway company, eager for revenge.

Sheriff McDonald had an early tip that a lynching would be attempted and before the crowd was aware of his purpose took all of the eight murderers out of the jail to a place of safety.

Mob Smashes In Prison Door.

At midnight there was a cheer as twenty men came through the crowd carrying a heavy piece of timber twenty-four feet long. As many men as could get hold of it seized it, and, with a few well delivered blows, demolished the outside doors of the jail.

Forty or fifty men gained access to the jail corridor, but by this time the police reserves arrived and attacked the crowd outside.

Sheriff McDonald assured the men inside the jail that the prisoners they wanted had been taken away. He offered to admit a committee inside the steel part of the jail to make a thorough search.

Committee Inspects Empty Jail.

His proposal was accepted and six street railway employés were appointed to investigate.

After half an hour's search the committee was convinced that the men wanted had been removed from the jail.

By this time more police, summoned from several parts of the city, arrived. A vigorous attack was made on the men surrounding the jail. The police used their clubs freely and in ten minutes dispersed the crowds.

When the mob battered in the door it gained access only to the jail building. The structure in which prisoners are confined is a huge cage of chilled steel two stories high. Ten years ago a mob armed with sledge hammers took four hours to break into this steel structure. It succeeded then and lynched a negro.

LOSS $30,000 IN EARLY BLAZE.

Part of Building and Stock of the Paper Mills Supply Company Consumed by Fire.

A fire in a three story brick building at 50 and 52 Custom House court early this morning caused a loss of $20,000 on the building and $10,000 on stock of the Paper Mills Supply company, John Higgins, president.

One hundred and fifty horses stabled at 48 Custom House court in the barns of the McMann Teaming company were led out by firemen and the police from the Harrison street station.

When Chief Campion and the members of engine company No. 10 reached the scene the fire was on the second floor, where it is believed to have started. Sparks were carried for some distance and threatened other buildings in the vicinity.

Persons living in Clark street between Van Buren and Harrison streets were frightened for a time by the rapidity with which the fire spread.

Guests in the Hudson house, 301 Clark street; Joy Yet Lo Restaurant company, 289 Clark street, and the Mayflower hotel, 301 Clark street, fled to the street.

N. Y. LIFE CHIEFS CURS AND LIARS, CRIES HAMILTON

RIPS VEIL OFF TREACHERY

"Hypocrites" Who Knew of His Work and Feigned Innocence Grilled in Vitriolic Speech at Albany.

DRAMATIC ATTACK AMAZES.

Unexpected Appearance of Legislative Agent in Assembly Chamber Is Followed by Stinging Exposure of Duplicity.

Albany, N. Y., March 15.—[Special.]—Like a bolt out of a clear sky Andrew Hamilton, former legislative agent of the New York Life Insurance company and other companies, appeared before the Armstrong insurance investigating committee and members of the legislature this afternoon.

The insurance investigators could scarcely comprehend their eyes when they beheld him. They gasped in amazement. Never was a more dramatic scene witnessed in the legislative halls than that of Hamilton standing in the well of the assembly chamber this afternoon before a room crowded with interested and anxious listeners.

And never was a more earnest or more severe denunciation listened to than that he gave vent to in the hearing not only of members of the legislature but of insurance people, the men who had denounced him and held him alone responsible for the corruption that has come to light.

"Curs" His Term for Trustees.

"Curs" was the name he applied to members of the board of trustees of the New York Life Insurance company. His whole feeling was wrapped up in what he said as in scathing tones he branded the present board of trustees of the New York Life Insurance company as being hypocrites and the cause of the death of the man whom he charged them with betraying—John A. McCall.

Mr. Hamilton charged that the New York Life trustees knew of every dollar he had expended and the purpose for which the money had been expended.

His appearance before the legislators was as unexpected as it was sensational. To his friends, before he went to the assembly chamber, he said he knew it was his duty to expose the board of trustees and to clear the name of John A. McCall. He also wanted to vindicate himself and set himself right in the eyes of the public.

McCall's Son Hears Grilling.

Listening with ears wide open, and drinking in every word, was John C. McCall, secretary of the New York Life Insurance company and son of the man whose name Hamilton was there to clear. Other officers and trustees of the New York Life Insurance company present were D. P. Kingsley, T. A. Buckner, R. W. Weeks, vice presidents, and General Solicitor McIntosh.

Hamilton admitted that he was a lobbyist, and that he handled funds for the purpose of killing hostile legislation. He defended that, and said it was necessary, but he arraigned bitterly the present régime of the New York Life Insurance company. Especially bitter was he in his references to William B. Hornblower, whom he referred to, but not by name, as the "Pecksniff" of three administrations of the New York Life from the time of ex-President Beers and the "Talleyrand" of the present "reformed" administration.

The whole tenor of Hamilton's statement was that the trustees knew all the time what he was doing, and that they were falsifying when they declared it was not until the investigation that they knew what he had been doing.

McCall the Only Honest Official.

He disclaimed any responsibility for the vouchers he gave and said that if the trustees didn't know what the vouchers were for they were remiss in their duties. And he declared that John A. McCall had to be shown cause for every dollar he (Hamilton) expended.

He made no effort to tell who had got the money nor the manner in which it had been paid. His conclusion was sensational and dramatic as he declared the board of trustees of the New York Life Insurance company should be legislated out of office, as they were "a lot of curs" and not the kind of men to bear the responsibility of caring for such a vast amount of business.

It isn't likely that Hamilton will make any furthter statement now. Today's outburst was taken to mean that he defied the suits against him and wanted to let the whole world know the trustees are not innocent. After he had finished he walked to Senator Armstrong, and the latter said:

"Judge, it is said you claim the investigating committee did not permit you to make any statement. Now, if you want to give any information to the committee it will sit at any time you choose."

Keep Up Investigation, He Says.

"O, no," said Hamilton, "there is no use in that. It would do no good. I have said all I care to say."

"But could you offer any suggestions that would help us?" asked the chairman of the investigating committee.

"No, you're all right. Just keep on with this legislation. Don't change it. It's the proper thing. It's right," said Hamilton.

Hamilton appeared in the assembly chamber as James E. McIntosh, counsel for the New York Life Insurance company, was addressing the committee and begging that the present trustees of the New York Life be not turned out of office. Hamilton stood rooted to the ground for a second, then called a friend excitedly, and whispered to him:

"I want to speak after he gets through. I want to follow him. He's the tool of Perkins."

Word was sent to Senator Armstrong asking permission for Hamilton to speak. It readily was given, and when Hamilton came into the well of the chamber amazement was written on every face.

Hamilton Does Not Mince Words.

"I wish to state," said Judge Hamilton, "that my remarks here will be confined entirely to the New York Life Insurance company and the gentlemen who manage it. For the other companies I have a high and loyal respect, because, so far as I have seen, I have not yet found amongst them curs and traitors.

"I address you upon and in advocacy of one bill solely, which I have not read, but the purport of which appears in the papers, and I say that it is your duty to report in favor of the measure that will remove the trustees of the New York Life Insurance company upon Nov. 21 next arbitrarily.

"I look around this circle and I see here many members of that board of trustees. I see amongst them men who have sat and listened to the stories of my victories in their behalf and applauded, and I wonder whether it was like that line in Goldsmith—whether it was 'counterfeited glee' or whether the attitude they have since taken has been one of counterfeited honesty.

"One feature that has been an important event in the investigations of your committee, Mr. Chairman, has been the question of my transactions and of my vouchers, and you have heard all the sweet protestations of innocence that have come along, and how the only one was the dead man—killed—that they drove into his grave and deserted, and the 'yellow dog'; that made an appeal to me to come down here and say something for him and just a word for myself—not that we are asserting any defense, or making any apologies, or asking any immunity, but because what I say is said in support of this measure which you gentlemen have proposed.

Unveils Duplicity of Trustees.

"Why, when they say they did not know what was going on it excites my laughter and derision.

"The 'Pecksniff' of three administrations, and who thinks that he is the Talleyrand of the present one, the confidant of the Beers scandal and author of the Beers pension, rotates through one administration and rotates through another, and, as I say, thinks that he is going to be like Talleyrand, an indispensable member of another administration—do you think that he, the man who held the same relation to Mr. Beers that I did to Mr. McCall through his administration, could sit there for thirteen years and not know what and how the expenditures that were made were to be made, and how they were disbursed?

"Remark that I say that when I disbursed my expenditures, not a dollar was disbursed in a way that could be criticised; and yet he and such like him sit, not judging me as peers, but judging me as conquerors, talking about 'yellow dogs.'

"In every administration of a great public concern there are many things to be done which, in the hurried line of duty and in the desire for victory, cannot always be delayed. But there never was a line or a thing that was done in the New York Life in my administration of my department but the executive officers, one and all, were conscious of what the purpose was, or what the object was, and of what the expense was. I say this now, and when I look around and see their faces before me, I challenge contradiction.

How He Made His Voucher "Go."

"Let us consider for a moment the criticism that has been made in regard to the payments that have been made to me upon my single voucher. Remember, I did not go in there and own this company. I went in there as a humble little lawyer, a country lawyer—and I got in there because I beat 'Dr. Pecksniff' in his Beers pension, and I beat him with all the legion of great names that he had around him, and I beat him single handed and alone. And when I won my victory then they said: 'Well, we will give you a chance here,' and then I started in to perform my duties.

"When the 1st of the month came and my voucher went in, that was the time to have said to me: 'Sir, you have not submitted a proper voucher.' Whose duty was it to do that? The auditing committee of the trustees. Were they perfunctory? No. Salaried? A special salary for chairman, another for deputy, a due compensation for others that attended.

"Suppose that it passed the first month. When the accounts came in the vouchers were there for protection in the hands of the controller. And it came to a second month, and it went to a fifth month, and it went to a tenth month, and it went to a year; and all the time I was carrying forward the business and the purposes and the protection and saving money for these insurance companies.

Years Pass Without a Kick.

"But the tenth month passed, and there was no objection. And the first year passed and there was no objection. And the second year, and the third year, and the fourth, and the fifth, and the sixth, and the seventh, the eighth, the ninth, and the tenth, and then, when the cry came out, they say, 'Well, we did not know anything about it. This is the fellow, this is the man that has done it all.'

"If they had stopped, if they had performed their duty when they should have done it, if it was a duty—but, mark, I am not assuming or asserting or accepting that it was a duty—but if it was a duty, they should have stopped it at its inception. And when they continued, and continued to stand by me, the faults, the blame, the responsibility, are theirs, and not mine.

"I would have stopped the first month, and if I could not have performed my duties without presenting detailed vouchers, I could have surrendered my contract. Never, as the evidence of your investigation shows, until you reached it, was there a single criticism.

"Why, how could there be? They sat there meekly, cashing the emoluments that came to them for the performance of their duty, with the vouchers there under their noses, and if they took them and looked at them, why, then, they approved what was done, and I stand approved. If they did not take them and look at them, then they deceived me into the assumption that they performed their duty and that they were satisfied with the manner and condition of my accounts."

Signed for Every Dollar He Used.

Judge Hamilton then went on "to correct the press assertions" which, he said, nobody on the part of the company has assumed to do, to the effect that "what is called the Paris account was actually reported upon and passed upon by the auditing committee of the New York Life.

"And let me say further," he added, "that never a dollar of the New York Life's money passed through my hands to which I did not put my 'John Hancock.'

"You remember," he continued, "the story of the steel trust dividend; that money was not paid me, but was paid to J. P. Morgan & Co., to take up some notes which I had discounted in order to pay for facilities and for the purposes of the time, the obligations of the New York Life.

"Now it must not be said that this responsibility of this auditing can be confined to A, B, and C. During this long period of years there has been a rotating membership; this time A and B, next year B and C, and next year D and E; so that all this knowledge has spread.

"It simply excites my laughter when I hear the gentlemen assert, those who are here and in my hearing, and others, that they did not know that Andrew Hamilton was defending the New York Life and the insurance interests generally throughout the United States on behalf of the principles which the officers of the insurance companies believed to be necessary for their success, and for the benefit of the policy holders.

Trustees Liars and Hypocrites?

"Why, if there was trouble and an agent would write from a far off country, and say: 'If this bill passes it is going to kill our business out here,' they would rush in, you know, to the president and say: 'Here's this agent's letter; for heaven's sake, we will lose all our business out there.'

"'Well, send for the judge.' All right, the judge will come. 'Sit down.' 'Well, what is the trouble?' 'Heavens, if this bill passes we might as well get out of that state.' 'All right, we will have to see what the objections are to it; we will have to agitate; we will have the press do something; we will have the politicians do something; we will have the agents do something; we will have the policy holders do something; we will get men of influence to go ahead and see if we cannot beat it.'

"And we would beat it. Then the word would come: 'It is beaten.' And they would come in and pat me on the back; these men that would not know me now would come in and pat me on the back, and say: 'You did it.'

"Now, about the vouchers, all I say about that is I did not keep the books of the New York Life. I never saw the inside of one of their books. And when $1,000 or $5,000 came into my possession, I gave my voucher for it.

A Word in Defense of McCall.

"If I was going to do anything wrong with it, or put it in my pocket, I would have got it in another way— and I would not have got it because, I want to tell you, that the stingiest man I ever saw in my life that ever audited an account was John A. McCall. I had to go up and show cause before—well, I had to show cause first before I went into it and then when I came back.

"I had to show cause before I could pay my bills. So that I never knew, and could not know, how the accounts were charged, whether $5,000 was charged to this account or that or the other. I did not keep their books, I had no responsibility for that, and if there were errors and wrong in that it lays right down at the administration and it comes right back to the board of trustees of the New York Life and to nobody else.

"Now, I am simply in this interruption of the ordinary course of the hearing today giving one chapter. The volume will be made of successive chapters.

"About the methods and the vouchers: I have no excuse whatever to offer about the form of the vouchers that were accepted for the disbursements that I made to the various branch agencies. The insurance world today is the greatest financial proposition in the United States. And as great affairs always tend, it commands a higher law.

"In defending its rights and its property you cannot stop to kick every cur that comes along and barks; and if you could sweep them out in other, perhaps mysterious but honest ways, you are defending and asserting the higher law which great enterprises have a right to command.

Calls Trustees a "Lot of Curs."

"So, I say, when these vouchers were given over they were right, and when the auditing committee approved them, then they stood as sponsors for them. If they did not approve them, then they failed to perform their duty. And the reason I come forward now is not to apologize for these vouchers but to say this: These men, with their responsibilities upon their shoulders, and upon mine, they have something to account for.

"They may talk about the 'yellow dog,' but the 'yellow dog' is a dog of courage and of loyalty, but the curs who stood around this funeral that has occurred, and the curs who knew of these transactions and shrank into the shoes—they are the curs. And that is the reason that I come to speak before you and say that the great interest of two billions of dollars of life insurance and four hundred millions of dollars of assets can never be safely intrusted to the hands and administration of a lot of curs."

Hamilton's Heart in His Talk.

Hamilton's appearance was not that of a sick man or a man who had been critically ill. He was faultlessly dressed. His face showed her had nerved himself for this undertaking and he had counted its effect. With him came the son-in-law of Anthony N. Brady, and in the rear of the chamber stood Hamilton's son-in-law, James Cox Brady, son of Anthony N. Brady.

Hamilton talked in low tones, not permitting his voice to rise at any time. But he spoke with earnestness and at times with passion. When he referred to the death of John A. McCall he was on the verge of breaking down, so overcome that his voice became choked, and he grasped the side of the desk. It was only momentary, however.

His remarks were enjoyed by the majority of the people present, who occasionally interrupted to laugh or to applaud a remark he made in scoring the New York Life trustees. Seated side by side were Senator Thomas F. Grady and Assemblyman Edwin A. Merritt, and Hamilton seemed to be directing the majority of his statements to them, for he kept looking at them and making all his gestures at them.

When he had concluded Senator John C. Fitzgerald stepped over to his side and shook hands with him. None of the life insurance people spoke to him and he was permitted to make his way out of the chamber.

Andrew Hamilton was not the only one to demand that the present board of trustees should be legislated out of office. Samuel D. Untermyer and John De Witt Warner also made similar arguments.

Save Us from Corruption.

Mr. Untermyer dismissed the claim of the big life insurance companies regarding the contingency reserve fund by claiming that the interest on their surplus was sufficient for such purposes, and if a contingency reserve fund was necessary only the smaller companies needed it. He pleaded for a thorough house cleaning in all of the big insurance companies.

"Save us from this bottomless pit of corruption which exists," he exclaimed with much warmth of feeling. "You have only scratched the surface. Strike while the policy holder is awake, or there will be a return to the conditions which the Armstrong committee has exposed. There should be a change in the trustees of the big companies at their scheduled meetings this spring. Don't wait until November.

"The New York Life never was under such one man control as it is today. When McCall was alive Mr. Perkins made a pretense of consulting him. Now there is no necessity of consulting any one, and he does as he pleases."

McIntosh made an earnest plea for the trustees of the New York Life Insurance company. Indeed, today's arguments on the part of the companies' representatives savored of a desperate effort on the part of the trustees to preserve their own positions.

It was when he had concluded such an address that Hamilton came forward with his vitriolic speech denouncing the trustees and urging that they be legislated out of office, branding them as "hypocrites, liars, and curs."

Hornblower Makes Denial.

New York, March 15.—[Special.]—William B. Hornblower said tonight, relative to Andrew Hamilton's charges:

"So far as Judge Hamilton states or implies that I acted as disbursing agent or had anything to do with disbursing funds in the Beers' administration in legislative matters or anything else, it is absolutely untrue. So far as Judge Hamilton states that I knew of amounts of money paid to him for legislative or other purposes, as found by the Fowler committee report, it is untrue."

The matter of Beers' pension, which Hamilton referred to, was this: When Beers retired as head of the company back in the early 90s the board of trustees voted him a pension of $30,000 a year. There was some doubt whether this pension was legal. The matter was referred to Mr. Hornblower and other eminent counsel. When John A. McCall took office he asked Hamilton for an opinion in regard to the legality of the pension. Hamilton said he did not believe it would stand, and the pension was killed.

PARKHURST PLOT DECLARED A HOAX

Lawrence Rogers Tells New York Police He Started the Story; Is Arrested.

HEARS HUSBAND MURDER

Mrs. Louis Nosser, Locked in Bathroom, Unable to Prevent Tragedy.

NEW YORK BUREAU CHICAGO TRIBUNE.
New York, March 15.

"Plot" Against Dr. Parkhurst All a Joke.

The alleged plot to assassinate the Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst was all a hoax, according to a confession made today by Lawrence Rogers, the man who told the story upon which the investigation of the alleged plot was based. Rogers' confession was made before Magistrate Wahle in police court this afternoon while he was being examined in John Doe proceedings in connection with the affair. He promptly was arrested on the motion of District Attorney Jerome and held to the grand jury on a charge of perjury.

According to the story upon which today's proceedings were begun, Rogers, a former prison guard, alleged that he had been approached with an offer of $500 if he would put Dr. Parkhurst's "lights out." He was led to unfold his story to Robert Kelly of the Citizens' union through gratitude, it was said, because Kelly once had done him a good turn. In this story Rogers involved the police in the alleged plot to take Dr. Parkhurst's life. It was through Kelly also that Richard Wilson, a private detective, made a statement to the district attorney in which he likewise accused the police.

Kelly finally laid his information before the Parkhurst society, and the district attorney was notified. The district attorney's men overheard a conversation between Rogers and Wilson uptown in which they discussed the case, and they used their knowledge of this conversation afterward as a lever to get Wilson to tell what he knew. Rogers told his story willingly to the district attorney, but Wilson proved an unwilling witness.

When Rogers was taken into court today to testify against two policemen who had been named in this story he made the confession. "It was all a joke," he said. "I started it as a joke, and when they got pressing me hard I kept striking them so I could hold my job. I made the affidavit all right, but I won't send any innocent man to jail. I'll take ten years myself first."

Locked in Bath, Woman Hears Husband Slay.

Louis Nosser, a racetrack man, locked his wife in a bathroom today and while she was a prisoner there shot and killed Miss Stella Reynolds of New Orleans, an actress, who was a visitor at their home, and then killed himself. Miss Reynolds, it was said, was formerly an intimate friend of Nosser. The murder and suicide was the sequence of a stormy scene last evening when Miss Reynolds called at the Nosser home.

Mrs. Nosser objected to the call, and during the argument which followed her husband swallowed a small quantity of laudanum. Both women, by uniting their efforts, forced him to take an emetic immediately, and the poison did him no apparent harm. Miss Reynolds then remained with Mrs. Nosser all night. Today while his wife was in the bathroom Nosser turned the key, and disregarding her protestations to be let out he went to Miss Reynolds' room.

Their voices, the man threatening and the woman pleading, were heard by the wife in the bathroom. She sprang to a telephone which ran from this room to the office of the apartment house and told a maid who answered her ring to hurry to the apartment and release her. As the maid entered the apartment she heard Nosser saying to the woman: "There is no use for you and I to live any longer. The best thing I can do is to kill you and kill myself."

Nosser then shot Miss Reynolds in the temple and himself in the forehead, both dying almost instantly. Miss Reynolds' stage name was Estelle Young. Nosser was 40 years of age and Miss Reynolds about 25.

Eleven Survivors of British King Landed.

The Mannheim reached port today with eleven survivors of the British King, which foundered with twenty-seven men on board 150 miles south of Sable island last Sunday. Capt. Schau of the Mannheim said that on Saturday, twenty-four hours before the disaster, he sighted the British King and signaled its captain to stop his engines in order that boats from the Mannheim might be able to overtake the steamer and rescue the crew. But the tempest which later sent the ship to the bottom seemed to have conspired against the British King. Through the masses of spray and the great waves the signal which was sent "stop" was read "stop on board." The latter signal means don't leave the ship. Had the British King's engines been stopped then, Capt. Schau said, his boats could have saved the ill fated crew, because the storm was not as bad as it became later.

Will Defend Mrs. Williams, Morgan's Accuser.

Friends of Mrs. Ella Barbara Williams, who was arrested yesterday at the entrance of the office of J. Pierpont Morgan & Co., today held an indignation meeting at her boarding house, 44 West Twenty-fifth street, and induced Sylvester S. Taylor, former deputy attorney, to see she is "not railroaded to an insane asylum," as they expressed it.

It developed today that Mrs. Williams received a letter from the Morgan firm yesterday morning, in response to which she started downtown to visit the office.

"Mrs. Williams is as sane as anybody," said Taylor. "She may have got a little bit excited, but this proceeding is an outrage. We know she had gone to Morgan's office and received sums of $300 and $700 at a time. She must have had some claim on Morgan."

Man in Canal Identified as Kidnapers' Guard.

The police of this city and of Newark, N. J., are puzzled over an unusual mystery which has grown out of the kidnaping ten days ago of Antonio Bozuffi of this city, the young son of a wealthy Italian banker. Tonight the body of a man found murdered last Tuesday morning in the Morris canal, Newark, was identified by young Bozuffi as that of the man who acted as his keeper up to the time he escaped from his abductors. The Newark police had tried in vain to trace the man's identity.

Mme. Sembrich's Husband Hurt in Auto Accident.

Prof. Guillaume Stengel, the husband of Mme. Sembrich, the prima donna, is in a serious condition today at the Savoy hotel as a result of an automobile accident last night. He had gone to a steamship pier to see some friends off, and, as the auto ran upon the dock, one wheel struck a gate. The shock threw Prof. Stengel against a glass window in the automobile, cutting him badly and rendering him unconscious.

ALTON B. PARKER DENIES IT.

Democratic Leader States He Didn't Say That Roosevelt Was Seeking a Third Term.

Augusta, Ga., March 15.—Alton B. Parker passed through this city this morning on his way to Camden, where he went to confer with David Bennett Hill. He denied having given out an alleged interview at Birmingham to the effect that he believed Roosevelt will seek another nomination and declined to discuss that subject.

WALSH ROADS ON MARKET

CLEARING HOUSE FAILS IN FIRST EFFORT TO SELL.

Conference in New York Between J. B. Forgan, E. A. Hamill, and J. C. Hutchins, and Heads of the Lake Shore, Pennsylvania, and Rock Island—Price Asked Said to Be Too High—Deal in a Deadlock for the Present.

New York, March 15.—[Special.]—John R. Walsh's railroads, the Chicago Southern and the Indiana Southern, were not sold today because the price demanded was too high.

In financial circles recently it was declared that Walsh's creditors had named $25,000,000 as the minimum price they would take for the railway properties. The offer of the Lake Shore-Pennsylvania-Rock Island combination is said to be near $20,000,000.

The Chicago committee is expected to submit the offer of the combination to the creditors without delay. Meanwhile, negotiations may be said to be at a standstill.

Attempt to Sell Roads.

The negotiations for the sale of the two railroads were opened today at a conference between representatives of the Chicago clearing house committee and the heads of the Lake Shore, Pennsylvania, and Rock Island railroads.

The Chicago clearing house was represented by J. B. Forgan, president of the First National bank; E. A. Hamill, president of the Corn Exchange bank; and J. C. Hutchins, of counsel to the Illinois Trust and Savings bank. These institutions represent the principal Walsh creditors.

For the railroads, President W. H. Newman and Vice Presidents W. C. Brown and John Carstensen represented the Lake Shore; James McCrea the Pennsylvania; and President Robert Mather the Rock Island company, of which he is also general counsel.

Chicago Terms Too High.

The conference lasted several hours. No statement was issued by any of the principals, but it was learned that no agreement was reached because of the terms demanded by the Chicago creditors.

The Indiana Southern railway has a funded debt of $5,000,000 with assets in excess of $11,000,000. The Chicago Southern railway's funded debt is $4,000,000 and the capital stock $1,500,000.

Just what propositions were made at the meeting could not be ascertained, but it was reported that the creditors favored the sale of the two companies' assets, the proceeds to be thrown into the bonds.

OFFICERS SEEK MEN NAMED IN NOTES OF JOHN R. WALSH.

Armour Institute Instructor, Who Is Subpoenaed, Says He Knows Nothing About the Transactions.

Federal officers are seeking the men whose names are said to appear on the twenty-nine so-called "memorandum notes" involved in the charges made against John R. Walsh, former head of the Chicago National bank. These men are wanted to testify when the case is called for hearing on Monday before United States Commissioner Foote.

George Paradis, an instructor at the Armour institute, was subpoenaed, but he declared that he knows nothing concerning the Walsh case and never had dealings with Mr. Walsh. It was said that the name George Paradis appears on $600,000 worth of the notes, but none of the government officials will verify or deny this rumor. Mr. Paradis came to Chicago six months ago.

Notes calling for an aggregate of almost $3,000,000 are in the possession of the First Trust and Savings bank as trustee. E. K. Boisot, vice president of the bank, has been subpoenaed to produce the notes and $3,000,000 in bonds, security for the notes.

"DEPEW AND PLATT UNFIT MORALLY AND POLITICALLY."

County Committee in New York Asked in Resolution to Demand Resignations of United States Senators.

New York, March 15.—[Special.]—The republican county committee received a jolt tonight when James A. Allen sprung a resolution pronouncing Senators Platt and Depew morally and politically unfit to occupy seats in the United States senate and demanding that they resign forthwith and that if they do not they be expelled.

There was a squally five minutes during which it looked as if the individual delegates would have to go on record. Then the combined efforts of Lemuel Ely Quigg and Frank Raymond, both long time Platt followers, defeated the proposition. It was tabled by an overwhelming vote.

Quigg strove to head off the resolution and prevent its being read. He was overruled by Chairman Herbert Parsons, who held the resolution pertinent matter for the county committee to take up. Quigg again interrupted the reading on points of order, but was overruled.

Allen is a former assemblyman and a member of the county committee. "Much to our shame and more to the shame of our party the great state of New York is at present virtually without any representation in the United States senate," he said. "It would be better for us if those seats were vacant."

The resolution alleged that recent disclosures concerning Platt and Depew have established that they are morally and politically unworthy of membership in the senate of the United States; that their presence there is a shameful reflection upon the honor, morals, and dignity of New York, an insult to the other states, and a menace to free government; and that their usefulness as senators in all respects had ceased.

The resolution demanded their immediate resignation or expulsion.

CALLS LIFE INSURANCE MEN UP TO DATE DANIEL QUILPS.

Mrs. S. M. Jelley in Address Before Women's Club Compares Them to Character in Dickens' "Old Curiosity Shop."

Daniel Quilp, the cunning old ogre of Charles Dickens' "Old Curiosity Shop," could have been either a New York Life Insurance president or a Pittsburg millionaire if he had lived in this day and age in America, according to Mrs. S. M. Jelley of the Dickens club of Chicago. In discussing Quilp before the club at its weekly meeting last night at the Grand Pacific hotel Mrs. Jelley said:

"Quilp showed no mean mentality. Dickens endowed him with wit, much suavity of manner, a good sense of humor, the ability to get money.

"Under the inspiration of better environment and the transforming influence of a bath, with a clean towel, he would have blossomed like the rose and most things would have been possible to him. Had he lived in the United States he might have been one of our multimillionaires—might have been the president of an Equitable or a New York Life Insurance company. He possessed all the earmarks of such gentlemen. Notwithstanding his physical handicap, his nimbleness of wit and his ability to play a part would have enabled him to shine the bright particular star at a Pittsburg orgy—aided by that nice little way of his, he would have drunk from his lady's slipper with such grace and caressing glance and delightful raillery as to be the admiration and envy of all.

"Unfortunately for himself, however, Quilp lived in England, where violation of the law is not often a purchasable privilege, and his malicious scheming to ruin Kit's character by sending him to prison proved a juggernaut."

JEWISH WRONGS AMAZE THE CZAR.

Nicholas, Shocked by Revelations, Orders Reform Steps at Once.

TRIUMPH FOR DE WITTE.

Premier's Enemy in Cabinet Is Compelled to Make Radical Change in Policy.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 15.—The czar is reported to have been shocked and amazed at the revelations of Jewish oppression revealed to him by the deputation which Premier de Witte received on March 7.

As a result Premier de Witte has been able to force Minister of the Interior Durnovo to issue instructions to prevent further massacres of the Jews and to prosecute all persons guilty of instigating them.

The entire Jewish question has been raised and may be settled forthwith.

Count de Witte is understood to have talked quite bluntly to the czar regarding the innumerable difficulties which his opponents were raising on this and other questions, and is said to have asked permission to resign the premiership.

The emperor, it is added, insisted that Count de Witte must remain in office, and at the same time instructed him to prepare a project providing for the equality of the Jews for presentation to the national assembly. Such a bill is now said to have been prepared.

Admit Torture of Young Girl.

The procurator of Tamboff has investigated the case of Mlle. Spiridonovo, the 17 year old girl who shot M. Luzhenoffsky, chief of the secret police of Tamboff, and who, it has been alleged, was treated in prison with extreme cruelty. The procurator reported that he found the allegations of cruelty to be correct, but the minister of war has asked the minister of justice to take no action until the military authorities can make a separate investigation.

It is alleged that the girl was knocked down and beaten by Cossacks with whips and rifle butts. She was then dragged by her hair downstairs to a sleigh, taken to the police station, undressed, and thrust into a damp, cold cell, where she was subjected to eleven hours of torment in order to force her to reveal the names of her accomplices.

Two officers repeatedly dragged her back and forth across her cell, tearing her hair, burning her flesh with their cigarets, and threatened her with abandonment to the Cossacks unless she confessed. Her skull was fractured in two places, one eye was injured, and her body was a mass of bruises from head to foot.

Cruelties to Warsaw Prisoners.

Prof. Courtenay, a member of the academy of sciences, in an open letter today describes the horrible tortures to which he asserts the political prisoners at Warsaw were subjected to by Chief of Police Greun. He cites as examples two cases in which prisoners were starved and on four consecutive nights were beaten with clubs, jumped on, their hair pulled out by the roots, and the soles of their feet cut with knives until they signed statements confessing their guilt.

Insuring Freedom of Election.

In order to assure freedom of ballots in elections for members of the national assembly, the council of ministers is preparing a series of regulations for the punishment of those interfering with the normal course of the elections by threats of violence.

Persons guilty of preventing members of the national assembly or council of the empire from proceeding from their homes to fulfill the duties to which they have been elected, shall be deprived of civil rights for from four to six years and imprisoned at hard labor.

For damaging the houses of parliament or throwing bombs with the purpose of injuring them the penalty is prescribed of ten to fifteen years' imprisonment at hard labor, or if such persons shall be armed they may be sentenced to fifteen or twenty years' imprisonment, or to life imprisonment at hard labor.

MOWS DOWN NIGERIA NATIVES.

British Punitive Force Almost Annihilates Enemy at Zokoto and Advances to Satiru.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, March 15.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Zungeru, Nigeria, says a British punitive force, commanded by Capt. Goodwin, attacked Zokoto on March 12. The natives twice charged the British square, but were almost annihilated. The British then advanced to Satiru, which they found to be strongly held. They bombarded the place. The defenders fought desperately, facing the British charges. The place finally was captured at the point of the bayonet. The natives were driven out and pursued by mounted troops. More than 300 were killed, including their leader. The revolt now is crushed, the loyal chiefs coöperating with the troops. One British officer was severely wounded.

THREE EVILS IN NOSTRUM 'ADS.'

Wisconsin Editor Says They Are Untruthful, Indecent, and Don't Pay Papers Enough.

Eau Claire, Wis., March 15.—[Special.]—Patent medicine advertisers do wrong in three ways according to a paper by Editor Otto Zander of the Brillion News before the Wisconsin Press association today.

Zander's contention was that patent medicine advertisements generally are untruthful and frequently indecent, and that the publishers are not even well paid for their sin of publishing this false and vulgar stuff.

Charles Lowater of the Spring Valley Sun advocated the organization of a Wisconsin publishers' mutual fire insurance company.

SAYS U. S. MAY INTERVENE

ALGECIRAS RUMOR WANTS ROOSEVELT TO BREAK DEADLOCK.

Gossip at the Morocco Conference Renews Report That the President May Come to the Rescue of the Situation — St. Petersburg Diplomat Opines That American Interests Will Be in Jeopardy if Germany Secures Bagdad Railway Concession.

[Copyright: 1906: By the New York Herald.]

ALGECIRAS, March 15.—There is much talk of the possibility of intervention and there are hints that some one was hard at work trying to prevent the disgrace and misfortune of such a ghastly failure as the breaking up of the Moroccan conference without a satisfactory issue being arrived at, and that the personage who might come to the rescue in the hour of need would be President Roosevelt.

Every one has noticed of late the active part taken by Mr. White to further any proposal, coming from any quarter, seeming to form a general basis for discussion of a possible arrangement. He would be the very man in case the assent of the powers were given to carry out such an important mission if it were decided upon by President Roosevelt to intervene.

American Interests Threatened.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, March 16, 3 a. m.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of THE TRIBUNE quotes the ambassador of a nation that is greatly interested in the result of the conference at Algeciras as saying that the United States has good ground for intervening in regard to the Bagdad railway, which touches vital American interests.

If Germany, in compensation for concessions in regard to Morocco, gets Mesopotamia with an outlet to the gulf of Persia, American exports would be cut down one-half, for that country affords the same raw material as America. Cheap labor and cheap transportation would preclude competition.

Recent developments in the far east, according to this ambassador, have destroyed American hopes in that direction. If the United States watches indifferently while the European powers divide Asia and Africa, it soon will be faced by serious problems. America therefore should participate in the settlement of the Bagdad railway and similar questions. Algeciras represents a stepping stone for wise American action.

Renewed Anxiety in Berlin.

BERLIN, March 15.—The delay in arriving at an agreement at Algeciras causes a recurrence of mild pessimism, which was evident on the boerse today. Imperial 3s declined and the money market was lightly affected, as the French are indisposed to lend money freely until the Moroccan question is settled. No one mentions war as a remote possibility, but the finances of Germany are so closely connected with international politics that investment and speculation are affected by the deadlock at Algeciras when it was believed here that the whole question was as good as settled.

MIDSHIPMEN FORM A TRUST TO KEEP SCHOLARSHIP DOWN.

Secretary of Navy Takes Steps to Counteract Effect of Unique Combination of Cadets at Annapolis.

Washington, D. C., March 15.—Midshipmen at Annapolis have been conspiring to prevent a high standard of scholarship, according to the statement of Secretary Bonaparte before the house committee on naval affairs today.

Brilliancy has been discouraged and a sort of trade union agreement to hold all midshipmen on a dead level so far as class records are concerned has been in existence. There has been a tendency to place the men who barely passed on a plane with those having higher records and anything like superior records has been discouraged.

Secretary Bonaparte said that a recent order for the graduation in September of members of the senior class who have good averages and holding the others until six months later had already affected the combination against high grades and improved class records.

The academy board of the Naval academy has consented to the resignation of the following midshipmen: John M. Knapp, Missouri; Reginald F. Ludlow, Wisconsin; John F. Shea, North Dakota; Roy M. Watson, Michigan.

BOND COMPANY OF CHICAGO CHARGED WITH INSOLVENCY.

American Reserve Taken Into Louisville Bankruptcy Court Brings Damage Suits Against Accusers.

Louisville, Ky., March 15.—Charges of fraud and insolvency were made in a suit filed late yesterday against the American Reserve Bond company of Chicago, asking for the appointment of a receiver for the concern. This company was the result of a merger of the Southern Mutual Investment company of Lexington, Ky., the Colonial Securities, and the American Investment companies of St. Louis.

The officers are charged with having formed the Austin Land and Lumber company for purposes of fraud, and that as a result of their operations the company is insolvent, with obligations of many millions of dollars.

After the filing of this suit the bond company filed a counter suit against a long list of defendants, mostly residents of Kentucky, charging them with instigating a fictitious investigation to depreciate the value of the company's investments. The company asks $50,000 damages.

CHANCE TO AVERT MINERS' STRIKE.

Movement in Favor of Putting Whole Issue Before Commission of 1902.

PEACE PROSPECTS GROW.

President Mitchell's Address Favors Conciliation Consistent with Cause.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Indianapolis, Ind., March 15.—[Special.]—President Mitchell is hesitating tonight to play a diplomatic card which may avert the threatened strike in the anthracite coal region. This is a move to put the whole dispute between the miners and the anthracite operators up to the Roosevelt strike commission which was appointed by the president to settle the 1902 strike.

The miners are turning to this solution of the anthracite problem with eagerness. On all sides President Mitchell is being urged to follow this course. The miners' leader himself retains his usual silent attitude, but there are those close to him who prophesy that an appeal to the arbitration body will be made before the adjournment of the miners' convention.

The move is asserted to have two strong points in its favor. In the first place, it is exactly the thing which the anthracite operators recommended in their letter in which they refused the miners' demands. The operators, it is believed, cannot reject a proposition to allow the intervention of the Roosevelt commission which they themselves have suggested.

Commission Officially in Existence.

Again it is felt that the arbitration board will render a decision which would give the miners at least some of the demands they are seeking to enforce. It is known that the commission created by the president is fully empowered to act in the matter. Although appointed especially for the purpose of settling the 1902 strike, the commission was continued after the adjudication of that strike and officially is in existence today. Its authority does not terminate until April 1. The miners feel safe in leaving their dispute in the hands of Judge George Gray of Delaware, who is the chairman and umpire of the commission. They believe also that President Roosevelt would be pleased to see the controversy submitted to the body which he selected for a final attempt at reaching a peaceful settlement.

Should the anthracite operators refuse to accept the arbitration plan the miners believe that by proposing it they at least will have gained a measure of sympathy from the public. Then, they say, they would be better prepared to go into a strike.

Peace Prospects Brighter.

Prospects of peace in all the bituminous districts, with the probable exception of Illinois, are growing brighter hourly. There seems to be, however, a wide range of difference among the miners as to what attitude the bituminous operators will take when they meet here next Monday. A majority feel that Francis L. Robbins, the big Pittsburg operator, will be able to swing the western Pennsylvania men into line behind him and effect a compromise settlement with the miners of that district. The Ohio and Indiana operators, it is believed, readily will follow.

One report that Mr. Robbins held a conference in Cincinnati yesterday with F. S. Peabody of Chicago and secured the support of the latter, added considerable strength to the hopes held by many soft coal miners.

The only matter of interest in the opening session of the miners' convention, which began at the German house auditorium in the morning, was President Mitchell's address. This was in the nature of a report to the delegates of the events which have transpired since the adjournment of the last convention. In speaking to the miners, however, President Mitchell outlined in a general way his policy.

Mitchell for Conciliation.

This was found in the expression of the hope that a settlement can be reached with the operators on a basis which will be "reasonably satisfactory" to the mine workers. He declared also that, while reports indicate that the bituminous operators seem to be split, he was "convinced that the urgency and seriousness of the situation will prompt them to make such reasonable concessions in the matter of wages and conditions" as will enable the miners to continue under the interstate agreement which has been so propsperous for them.

The tone of President Mitchell's address was one of conciliation and indicated clearly that he is in favor of conciliation provided it is possible to escape too great humiliation. The most pertinent portion of his address was as follows:

"Aside from my own impressions and the impressions of those of my colleagues, with whom I consulted, the letter from the president of the United States, addressed to Mr. Robbins and to me, seemed sufficient justification to warrant ourselves and our employers in making another effort to reach an agreement.

Favors Reasonable Concessions.

"While, of course, the many conflicting and injudicious statements emanating from various sources purporting to reflect the views of operators seem to indicate entire absence of unity and concord among them in regard to the question of advancing wages, I am, nevertheless, hopeful, if not fully convinced, that the urgency and seriousness of the situation will prompt them to make such reasonable concessions in the matter of wages and conditions as will enable us to join them in the rehabilitation of our joint movement and the perpetuation of the practical business relationship under which we have worked with mutual advantage during the last eight years. And to this end I feel it incumbent upon me to say that a large degree of responsibility will rest upon us if these proposed negotiations lead to success.

"As to the power and scope of the convention, you have undoubtedly noted from the call which was issued by your international secretary-treasurer that while the principal purpose of the meeting is to consider our wage agreements, its function is not confined to the one subject. It may in addition thereto transact such other business as may be lawfully brought before it.

"In the consideration and discussion of all matters coming before the convention it is my earnest hope that acrimonious debate will be eliminated and that we shall stand united in an earnest effort to serve our people and to secure for them a larger measure of the fruits of their toil, that when we leave Indianapolis our organization may have regained any prestige lost as the result of the international dissension, and that even those unfriendly to labor may be satisfied that the United Mineworkers of America is a sane, just, business association, whose highest purpose is not to achieve victories by means of its great strength but through the inherent justice that lies in the cause it represents."

DOLAN LOSES HIS APPEAL.

INTERNATIONAL BOARD UPHOLDS PRESIDENT MITCHELL.

Ousting of Chief of Pittsburg Local of United Mineworkers of America for Violation of Instructions Is Upheld—Discussion of Case in Indianapolis Is Bitter—He Presents Long Written Protest Against Action of Miners' Leader.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Indianapolis, Ind., March 15.—[Special.]—Patrick Dolan, the aggressive opponent of President Mitchell, was squelched tonight by the miners' national executive board. His protest against his removal from the presidency of Pittsburg local No. 5 came before the board and the members unanimously voted to support President Mitchell.

Dolan presented a pitiable object. Physically he is almost a wreck. Almost blind and in a highly excited and nervous condition, the Pittsburg man pleaded his case in vain before the miners' tribunal. When the board's decision was told him at midnight Dolan almost collapsed.

When he recovered Dolan said that he will make no further effort to secure the recognition of the national organization, but will contest the validity of his claims to the presidency of district No. 5 in the courts of Allegheny county, Pa.

Dolan and Bellingham both explained to the board that Bellingham's only connection with the casting of the vote of District No. 5 was to voice Dolan's wishes when the latter was seized with a violent fit of coughing and was unable to speak. Bellingham himself was opposed to accepting the operators' proposition. The two men will be seated as delegates in the convention until the credentials committee reports either for or against them.

Dolan's Appeal to Union.

Dolan's statement of his case to the executive board was in the form of the following letter:

"Pittsburg, Pa., March 12, 1906.—To the Members of the International Executive Board, U. M. W. of A.—Brothers: In accordance with the provisions of the constitution of District No. 5, United Mineworkers of America, an election for officers for said district was held in the month of December, 1904. At that election I was elected president of District No. 5, U. M. W. of A., for the term beginning April 1, 1905, and ending March 31, 1906. To the best of my knowledge no protest was made against the result of that election.

"In the month of December, 1905, and in accordance with the provisions of the constitution of District No. 5, another election was held to determine the choice of the officers of that district for the terms beginning April 1, 1906, and ending March 31, 1907.

"The election was held according to the constitution and the report of the tellers was read to the convention and showed that I was regularly elected president for the term beginning April 1, 1906, and ending March 31, 1907.

Demand for His Resignation.

"At an adjourned meeting of the regular annual convention of district 5, held in Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 5, a resolution was introduced demanding my resignation as president for alleged violation of instructions in voting for a certain proposition at the joint conference of operators and miners in Indianapolis the first week in February, 1906.

"At a later session of the convention the office of president was declared vacant by a resolution, adopted by a vote of the convention over my protest, and an appeal taken from my decision that the proceedings were contrary to the constitution of the organization.

"At a later date President Mitchell recognized the right of the convention to remove officers contrary to the constitution by appointing three members of the international executive board to take charge of the affairs of the district until a new election would take place.

"I appealed from the action of the delegates in convention of district No. 5 in declaring certain offices vacant and providing for a new election, for the following causes:

First—I was the regularly elected president of district 5, U. M. W. of A., and serving in office at the time the office was declared vacant.

Second—Over three-fourths of the delegates to the convention of district No. 5 had no instructions to demand an advance in wages, and had no authority to instruct their officers.

Third—I believed that when I voted at Indianapolis I was representing the real sentiment of the mine workers of the Pittsburg district at that time.

Fourth—If I committed a wrong I was entitled to a hearing and a fair trial as to whether or not I was guilty.

Fifth—That it is contrary to the constitution to declare offices vacant without giving those charged with committing wrong a chance for a fair trial.

Sixth—The election now being held in district No. 5 is not regular, because it is not in accordance with the constitution of the district, but is being conducted under a set of special rules, contrary to the constitution of District No. 5, U. M. W. of A.

Grounds for His Appeal.

"I appeal from the decision and action of President Mitchell on the controversy in district No. 5, U. M. W. of A., for the following reasons:

First—President Mitchell in letter to Brother John Cairns, dated Jan. 9, 1906, said: "I have no authority to interpret the constitution of a district organization."

Second—The international president has no constitutional authority showing that delegates can remove men from office who have been elected by a referendum vote.

Third—The right of a fair trial has been set aside by President Mitchell's action.

Fourth—The constitution of District 5 has been ignored by the international president.

Fifth—The international president has exceeded any constitutional authority vested in him by appointing international officers to take charge of district affairs when the district is organized and in charge of regularly appointed officers.

"All of which is submitted for your investigation, consideration, and decision. I shall be ready at any time to appear before your body and give information bearing on the above facts."

Meetings of the national scale committee and the anthracite committee were held tonight, but no business was transacted. The latter selected a subcommittee of seven which will hold another meeting today. It evidently is the program of President Mitchell to have the convention drag along until next week, when the bituminous operators convene. Little business was transacted today, and it is believed not much of importance will be transacted tomorrow.

WRIT FOR IDAHO MINE LEADERS.

Court Sets Hearing on Habeas Corpus Plea at Boise for Next Monday—Orchard Arraigned.

Boise, Idaho, March 15.—[Special.]—Judge Beatty of the United States District court today issued an alternative writ of habeas corpus for the accused leaders of the Western Federation of Miners, Moyer, Haywood, and Pettibone.

The writs were made returnable Monday morning, when the matter will be argued.

Seven heavily armed guards, five of them bearing rifles, assisted Sheriff Jasper C. Nicholas in taking Harry Orchard from the penitentiary to Caldwell today, where he was arraigned on an indictment identical with those against Moyer, Haywood, and Pettibone, charging him with the murder of former Gov. Steunenberg. He was given until tomorrow to plead, and then was taken before the grand jury.

The delegates of the longshoremen's association represent about 6,000 dock workers at Lake Erie ports and South Chicago.

Wife and the Husband She Would Leave for Her Stepson.

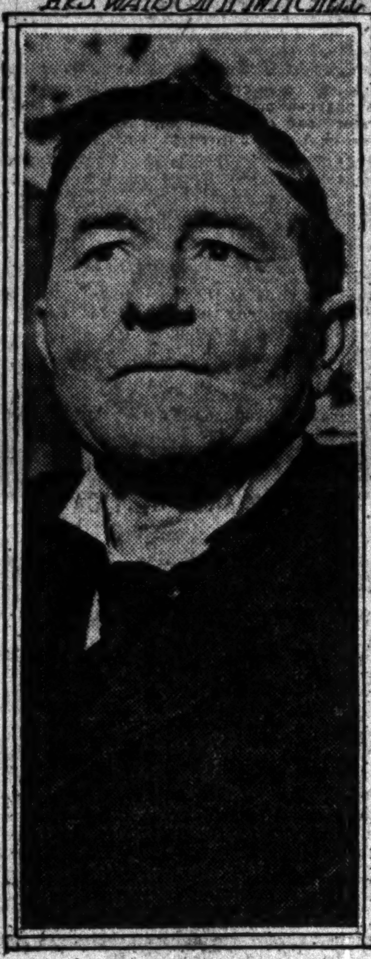
MRS. WATSON H. TWITCHELL



WATSON H. TWITCHELL

LOVES HER STEPSON BEST

MRS. BERTHA TWITCHELL CONFIRMS OTHERS' TESTIMONY.

Tells Judge McEwen She Has No Affection for Husband, Twice Her Age, but Is Sure She Is on Right Track in Intrusting Her Heart to Spouse's Boy—Court Will Grant a Decree of Divorce to the Elder Man—Other Marital Woes.

This is the next to the last chapter in a story of real life—the chapter in which the plot loses its mystery, fears for the welfare of the characters are allayed, and "everything comes out right."

Mrs. Bertha Twitchell, 40 North Green street, was called into Judge McEwen's court yesterday to choose between the love of her 24 year old stepson and that of her husband. Blushingly she chose the younger man, and Judge McEwen decided to grant the elder Twitchell the divorce for which he applied on Wednesday. She said she was anxious to have her marriage annulled.

The young woman's husband, Watson H. Twitchell, was not present in court during the testimony. He was at work in his office, 60 Green street, where he told callers that he should not be called a hero because he gave up his wife to his son.

Twitchell Senior Acquiesces.

"I don't want much said about this matter," he ventured as a kindly smile stole to the corners of his mouth. "You see I am 56 years old and my wife is only 24, so it is natural that she should transfer her affections to my son Edward. I am glad they are happy and I shall be happy to know that they love each other. I love my boy, and I believe that the divorce is the right thing, inasmuch as my wife and I seemed incompatible."

The genial manufacturer of grocers' sundries smiled again in a fatherly way and tried to make the best of the predicament. He looked wistfully about the office as if hoping that some one would enter the dingy place and cheer him up. Then he put on his coat and started off to keep a business engagement.

Wife Waits in Court.

Mrs. Twitchell in the meantime was waiting nervously in Judge McEwen's courtroom. Her attorney, L. L. Brunhild, explained to reporters that the young woman would make no contest in the case. She moved in her seat as if trying to avoid the gaze of the spectators.

When the case was called Mrs. Twitchell, her cheeks rosy with the glow of health, told how she had lived in a little country town in Michigan until last December.

"It was at my home that I met Mr. Twitchell, and it was there that we were married in December," she said. "We came to Chicago to live and I met Edward, his son. After the first week Mr. Twitchell and I never lived happily together."

"Why didn't you?" questioned the judge.

"Well, you see our ideas were not the same," explained the woman slowly. "One evening after dinner I fainted and Edward rushed to help me. My husband seemed to think his son liked me too well and I was afraid he would get angry and do something."

Love for Husband Cools.

"To come to the point, you didn't care whether your husband left you or not, did you, Mrs. Twitchell?" suggested Judge McEwen.

The little woman hesitated. For a moment her lips trembled and a solitary tear stole out upon her cheek. She tried to answer, but the words would not come.

"Won't you tell us," said the judge, gently.

"Why I—I guess I didn't care much," she faltered. "No, I was not sorry that he wanted to give me up."

She continued her story:

"I went to work for my husband after that because I thought that would be best. I paid for what I got and he and Edward paid for the things they got. I was entirely indifferent to my husband and I found it hard to pretend to love him when I didn't care for him."

On Right Track Now.

"Do you think you are on the right track now—do you think you really love your husband no longer?"

"Yes, that's it; I am on the right track now," sighed the witness.

"All right," declared Judge McEwen, "I think it would be wise to grant the divorce. You are sure you like the son Edward?"

"Yes, I am sure I like him, O, so much," answered the girl, blushingly.

It is announced that the son and the young woman will be wedded after all legal obstacles are swept away. The young man did not appear in court and kept away from his friends all day.

APPOINTED AS APPRAISER FOR MARSHALL FIELD ESTATE.

Arthur L. Currey, Special National Bank Examiner, Named to Determine the Amount Due as the Inheritance Tax.

Arthur L. Currey, a special national bank examiner, who made the last examination of the books of the Chicago National bank, which led to action by the federal authorities, was appointed yesterday as appraiser of the estate of Marshall Field by Judge Carter. Mr. Currey will make an examination of the estate to ascertain its value at the time of the merchant's death and make a report to enable the court to determine the amount of inheritance tax.

Mr. Currey was selected because he is considered an expert in such work and previously has acted in a similar capacity. He was the appraiser in the estates of Leander J. McCormick, Jacob Rosenberg, and others.

Mr. Currey will hold hearings in room 709 of the Schiller building and will have the assistance of Percy V. Castle and Walter K. Lincoln, assistant attorneys general of Illinois. The Field estate will produce the largest inheritance tax ever received by a state in the union. It will require at least three months' work to complete the task. The law will allow Currey $10 a day for his work.

SPURNS $2,000 A YEAR SALARY.

Chicago Woman Settlement Worker Declines Offer of That Amount for Similar Services at Joliet.

Mrs. Herman Falkenstein, head resident of the Humboldt Settlement house, 783 Armitage avenue, prefers charity work in Chicago to a $2,000 a year position in Joliet. A committee representing the Amalgamated Women's Clubs of Joliet offered her the above salary to institute and manage a settlement house in that city.

Miss Myrtle Falkenstein, 17 years old, who is her mother's lieutenant in settlement work, persuaded her mother to stay in Chicago.

"You are doing good work, mamma, and you know there are more poor people in the Humboldt park district that there are in Joliet, and they need your care. What if you don't get as much money here? I will help you. I am satisfied as long as I have an opportunity to help the poor and unfortunate."

Mrs. Falkenstein wired the Joliet women that she would prefer much to remain in Chicago. She has been with the Humboldt settlement six years, and enjoys a national reputation for settlement work.

PUTS BLAME ON GARFIELD

PACKERS' LAWYER INSISTS ON IMMUNITY FOR CLIENTS.

Declares It Was the Duty of the Corporations Commissioner to Protect Them from Prosecution After He Had Secured Information from Them—Attorney General Moody Probably Will Address the Jury Tomorrow in Judge Humphrey's Court

Replying to District Attorney Morrison in the beef hearing before Judge Humphrey in the federal court yesterday, Attorney Moritz Rosenthal argued that the serving of subpoenas and the administration of the oath were not necessary to give the defendant packers immunity from prosecution.

"The case was not one where the defendants were obliged to demand that subpoenas be issued and that they be sworn," he said, in discussing the inquiry begun by Commissioner Garfield. "It was for the government to ask that.

Claims Immunity as a Right.

"Immunity comes from the government to the individual and is given in return for something sought by the government—it is not sought in the first instance by the individual. Thus it was for Mr. Garfield, when he deprived these defendants of some of their constitutional rights, to see that they should have immunity."

A dispute arose between the speaker and counsel for the government when the former referred to the grant of immunity to Assistant Treasurer McRoberts of Armour & Co. as having been conceded by the government, although he had not asked for it.

"I requested that the court postpone the matter until the next day," interrupted District Attorney Morrison.

"Without giving sufficient reason why it should be postponed," was the retort.

Moody May Speak Tomorrow.

The argument of District Attorney Morrison will be resumed today and probably will consume most if not all of the session. The speech of Attorney General Moody, which will follow, may be delivered on Saturday in order to permit the attorney general to return to Washington as soon as possible. The question of holding court on Saturday was postponed until today for consideration.

"Better stay over," said John S. Miller, attorney for the packers, to the attorney general as court adjourned. "We'll take you out to the stockyards."

"But will you bring me back?" questioned the attorney general.

U. OF C. PLANS TO IMPORT MONKEYS FOR EXPERIMENTS.

Professors in Physiology Department Will Use Simians in Place of Dogs in Their Work.

University of Chicago professors are going to study monkeys.

As soon as possible a large number of representative simians will be imported from Africa and shipped to the physiology building of the university, where quarters have been prepared for them. It is said that as many as 100 will be brought from the groves of the central parts of the dark continent.

Members of the faculty of the medical department of the university are interested keenly in the study of the development of the animals. It is the plan of the members of the physiology department to experiment upon them, using them to a certain extent in place of dogs, the animals now most used in research experiments.

Members of the physiology department are said to have been considering for some time the advisability of importing monkeys, but were able to come to no satisfactory decision regarding the enterprise until the results of the venture at Johns Hopkins proved successful. Johns Hopkins is said to be the only university in the world where monkeys are now used for experimental purposes.

A year ago members of the physiology department secured a monkey for experimental purposes. He was nourished and prepared for the first experiment, but on the way to the operating table the monkey became frightened, and before they could begin the tests the animal became afflicted with heart disease and died.

It is stated officially that the monkeys will not be used for experimenting purposes in the classroom or in the laboratory. They will be used only in research work.

FLAYS BEEF MEN AND ROCKEFELLER

Samuel Alschuler, in Speech, Denounces Them as Moral Violators of the Law.

SAYS RICH ARE IMMUNE.

Makes Bitter Address at "Christian Citizenship Rally" in Englewood Church.

The beef packers, who are under indictment on the charge of violating the Sherman antitrust law, and John D. Rockefeller, who is hiding from subpoena servers, were held up as moral violators of the law before the youth of the land by Samuel Alschuler last night in an address at the "Christian citizenship rally" at the Englewood Presbyterian church, Sixty-fourth street and Yale avenue. The speaker did not mention his subjects by name, but his allusions were so specific as to satisfy every one in the big audience as to who was meant.

"In our city," he said, "we now have the appalling spectacle of citizens at the head of a great industry testing the question of whether their indictment for violation of the law was brought about under that provision of the constitution which provides that a man shall not be compelled to give evidence against himself.

Denounces Attitude of Packers.

"It is not the question of whether guilty or not guilty, but whether they ought to be exempted from prosecution on the grounds that they told facts about themselves under the promise that they should be exempt from prosecution. A splendid example for the American people to follow!

"If a poor devil gets in the sweat box and is made to tell the truth about himself he speedily comes to trial. But when it is one in the high places the question is raised whether he shall be spared because he told about himself.

"The richest man, the man who has amassed wealth beyond the dreams of avarice, is now skulking about, a fugitive from justice. He is hiding, first here, then there with his retainers. He is fearful because he has been asked to appear in a court of justice and explain certain matters.

"In old English times the man who avoided a process of law was deemed guilty of outlawry and his property was confiscated.

Calls U. of C. an Atonement.

"Although this man piled up these great buildings near us—the University of Chicago—in his endeavor to make his peace with God, man, and the devil, they will not suffice to overcome the spectacle of the wealthiest man defying the law of the land, that law the sanctity of which only can make his wealth secure.

"In Peoria a man defied the law, but at last he fell. There has been nothing more calamitous to the morality of the youth of the land and the American citizen than the fall of Dougherty. You may say that strikers violate the law. What can you say to them, when they have such examples before them? We're too much given to following the 'roast beef' and neglecting other things worth while in life."

Mr. Alschuler grilled the man who tries to avoid jury service. He declared that the citizen should look upon jury service as a debt he owes the government and accept the service cheerfully.

"We are all Cæsars," said Mr. Alschuler. "Render unto the people the things that are the people's," he continued in paraphrase.

Parker Talks on Graft.

State Senator Francis W. Parker talked on the subject of graft. He declared that graft now exists in "doing nothing instead of doing something." He defined government as of two kinds, "visible" and "invisible." He asserted that the "visible" government was used by the invisible government to further the interests of the small body of people who make up the "invisible" government.

"The important looking men do not take a satchel full of money with them when they go to meet the legislator at the train," said Senator Parker. "They invite him to a little game of poker. He doesn't know anything about the game, but he wins from $100 to $1,000 just the same. The result finally is that he usually votes 'right.' The corporate interests have got about what they want. All they want is that conditions shall not be disturbed."

The speaker likened the senatorial and other victims of graft investigation to broken plaster images. He predicted the early elimination of graft.

Raps Men Who Don't Vote.

Charles G. Kindred, pastor of the Englewood Church of Christ, took a rap at the man who does not vote.

"I know a Sunday school superintendent in this district of the city who has not voted in fifteen years," said the Rev. Kindred. "Men who do that sort of thing cultivate the soil that graft flourishes in. It might be termed a Sunday school edition of graft. I shall look out for that man.

"The saloonkeepers throughout the city are raising the price of beer. I wish they would raise the price so high that men would have to drink it out of thimbles. These same men are trying to intimidate and defeat the men who have been courageous enough to bring about the necessity for a raise in the price of beer. When an attempt is made to intimidate such men I call it outlawry."

The preacher said that the crying need of the hour was a better understanding of public questions. He advocated a thoroughly nonpartisan discussion of public questions in the press.

Try Pastor for Wife Murder.

New Albany, Ind., March 15.—In the trial of the Rev. Ulysses G. Sutherlin, charged with killing his wife, Miss Rosa Young today identified the rope with which it is claimed by the defense Mrs. Sutherlin hanged herself, and also identified a dress skirt covered with hair. She said Mrs. Sutherlin was of a happy disposition and was not of unsound mind.

DEMANDS $750,000 OF HUSBAND'S KIN

Guardian of Shopgirl Who Wed Rich Youth Says They Drove Her Insane.

PUBLIC CARE IN ASYLUM.

Story of Mrs. Emma Lonstorf Being Told by Witnesses in Milwaukee Court.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 15.—[Special.]—Insane past all chance of recovery, as her physician testified, Mrs. Emma Lonstorf, daughter of a janitor, and herself a shopgirl before she married Otto, the son of the late millionaire, Nicholas Lonstorf, sat smiling and laughing in court today, while her guardian, John Randall, pressed her suit for $750,000 against the mother, brothers, and sisters of her husband.

Her attorneys declare the woman's condition is due to her treatment by her husband and his relatives, and their refusal to allow her child to be buried in the Lonstorf family burying ground. The original complaint, which makes Mrs. Margaret Lonstorf, mother of Otto; Ald. George Lonstorf, his brother; and others as defendants, asked $250,000 damages for alienating her husband's affection and depriving her of his companionship and support. Today Judge Ludwig allowed the plaintiff's attorneys to amend the complaint by making the damages asked $750,000.

Woman Left Public Charity.

Otto Lonstorf is said to be in Seattle, having returned from a trip to Nome, whither, the prosecution alleges, he was induced to go by his relatives, leaving his wife a public charity at the Milwaukee hospital for the insane, of which she has been an inmate since March, 1903.

A pathetic incident of the trial occurred during the testimony of Mrs. Margaret Lonstorf this afternoon when, pleased by some vagary of her own mind, Mrs. Emma laughed outright and with apparent enjoyment for some time. Her guardian and a nurse from the hospital quieted her while the relatives of her husband looked on as though they did not know her. She evidently was not capable of comprehending who they were.

Mrs. Margaret Lonstorf's testimony was the interesting feature of the day's proceedings from the point of view of the spectators who thronged the courtroom, drawn by the wealth and social position of the Lonstorfs and the romance attending the "marriage of the shop girl and the rich young man."

Her first acquaintance with her daughter-in-law, she said, was about a year previous to the latter's marriage to Otto in 1894. She sought the girl at the home of her father, she said, because Otto had told her he was going to marry her.

"I went to inform the girl that if Otto married her he would have to support her by his own work," said the witness. "I told her he never had been able to support himself, and that she was foolish to marry him. I told her this so that she might know beforehand that in marrying Otto she was not getting wealth."

Never Saw Daughter as Such.

"I never have seen Emma from that time until now. Although I had been opposed to the marriage, when I learned it had taken place I told Otto to be good and kind to his wife. During the next three years Otto came to my house only four times. I do not know why he did not come more frequently. I did not ask him to.

"I was not present when their child was baptized nor at its funeral. I refused to allow it to be placed in the family vault because the body was not in a metallic coffin. When I took Otto to Europe for five months I did it to have some one to look after my trunks. I did not ask him if he had made provision for the support of his wife during his absence. On my return I heard she was in an asylum and asked Otto to take her out, that a change might benefit her and restore her reason, but he refused and told me he had no use for her."

Mrs. Lonstorf denied having contributed anything toward the support of Otto during his trip to Nome or since he has been in Seattle.

The testimony of Dr. Frederick Fowle of the Milwaukee hospital also was heard with interest. One of the plaintiff's attorneys suggested Mrs. Emma be allowed to take the witness stand, but to this Dr. Fowle objected. He declared her mental condition was such she could not testify and the chances were heavily against her ever gaining sanity.

"Mrs. Lonstorf was committed to the asylum on March 3, 1903, and her condition has since deteriorated," said Dr. Fowle. "The chances are against her recovery."

"Has anything been paid for her support at the hospital?" he was asked.

"Nothing," answered Dr. Fowle.

"Has anything ever been paid by Otto or any member of the Lonstorf family for her clothes since she has been at the hospital?"

"No," said Dr. Fowle.

"Has she ever been visited there by her husband or any member of the Lonstorf family?" was asked.

"No," said the witness.

IVENS' WITNESSES TANGLED IN TRYING TO PROVE ALIBI.

Brother of Mrs. Hollister's Slayer Gives Testimony Which Is Contradictory of His Former Statements.

The attempt to prove an alibi for Richard Ivens, the self-confessed murderer of Mrs. Bessie Hollister, was weakened materially yesterday by the testimony of Harold R. Ivens, brother of the defendant. His testimony was torn into shreds by the questions of Assistant State's Attorney Olson, who produced a typewritten record of contradictory statements made by him to State's Attorney Healy on Jan. 15.

In the direct examination Harold Ivens gave a minute account of the happenings in the Ivens residence on the night of the crime, apparently remembering every detail perfectly. In the cross examination Attorney Olson said:

"At what time did you leave home?"

"It was about 7:23 or 7:24 o'clock."

Here Attorney Olson read a statement from the record of Jan. 15 in which the witness said he left the house "about 6 o'clock." The witness did not remember having made such a statement, and his entire direct testimony was reviewed in a similar manner, nearly every statement being overthrown.

SUES HUSBAND WHO 'RENEGED.'

Mrs. Charles W. Carman Wants Divorce, Saying Spouse Refused to Follow Suit and Slapped Her.

A game of cards in which her husband refused to follow suit led Mrs. Charles W. Carman to seek a divorce. Carman is a painter of miniature portraits, and his wife, who lives at 681 Lincoln avenue, says he "decorated" her right eye as the climax to a series of violent differences.

"Our first quarrel came six months after we were married," Mrs. Carman told Judge McEwen yesterday. "We were playing euchre, and Charles and I were opponents. I led, but Charles 'reneged.' If he had followed suit I would have taken the trick. In the quarrel following he slapped me."

Judge McEwen, after a vain attempt to effect a reconciliation, took the case under advisement.

SHERRICK FACES PRISON.

FORMER AUDITOR CONVICTED OF EMBEZZLING STATE FUNDS.

Indianapolis Jury Returns Verdict Which Means Imprisonment for One to Twenty-one Years—Accused Almost Collapses When He Hears Result of Trial—Compelled to Go to Jail Pending Motion for a New Trial—Hanly May Extend Pardon.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 15.—[Special.]—David E. Sherrick, former auditor of state, stands tonight as a felon, with a penitentiary sentence of one to twenty-one years hanging over him. A verdict of guilty of embezzling state funds was returned by the jury at 9:30 o'clock this morning. Sherrick will be taken to jail pending the motion for a new trial.

Though Sherrick had stated after the court's instructions to the jury that he had no hope of acquittal, the blow fell with crushing effect. His face became pale and he trembled as he grabbed his chair for support.

Compelled to Go to Jail.

Then another blow for Sherrick fell. Up to this time he has been under the impression that his bond for $10,000 was still in force and that he would not have to go to jail. In this he was disappointed. According to the statute a bond expires when the verdict of the jury is returned and the defendant must be placed in custody of the sheriff.

It is understood among mutual friends of Gov. Hanly and Mr. Sherrick that the former may pardon Sherrick as soon as the court passes upon the application for a new trial, or at least parole him till after the Supreme court passes upon the appeal. Friends of the governor say he is not disposed to push Sherrick further, and that he will exercise clemency at the proper time. The governor refused this afternoon to say what he would do.

Ohio Treasurer Short $1,100,000.

Cincinnati, O., March 15.—[Special.]—The grand jury that convenes March 20 will be asked to investigate an alleged shortage of $1,100,000 in the accounts of County Treasurer Rudolph K. Hynicka.

County Prosecutor Hiram M. Rulison said this afternoon he would take the step as a result of a communication from State Auditor Guilbert, calling his attention to the report of a committee of two experts who were appointed by Probate Judge C. M. Malsbary three weeks ago to count the money in the treasury vaults. The experts found that Hynicka had $1,100,000 loaned out to banks on which he was receiving interest.

Prosecutor Rulison says he regards the cases of the Hamilton county treasurer as being identical with that of David E. Sherrick, ex-auditor of Indiana, who has just been convicted of embezzlement for loaning out public funds.

RECONSIDERS LONG GRANT TO CRUSHED STONE ROAD.

Discussion of Dolese & Shepard's Rail Line Causes Council Committee to Rescind Its Recommendation.

Under pressure of the publicity evoked the council committee on streets and alleys west yesterday reconsidered its recommendation of a fifty year franchise for Dolese & Shepard's Chicago and Illinois Western railroad.

When the committee met Ald. Dever wanted to know whether the project was a switch track or a full fledged railroad intended to carry passengers. Ald. Uhlir, through whose ward the line is intended to pass, was on hand to demand subways and compensation. Attorney Herbert S. Duncombe, representing Dolese & Shepard, answered some of the questions and some he did not.

"This railroad is designed principally for the shipping of crushed stone from the quarries at Gary, Ill.," said the attorney. "I don't know whether it would ever be feasible to carry passengers. The company has constructed twelve miles from Gary to Hawthorne at a cost of $300,000. We have agreed to elevate our tracks when the other roads there are required to."

"But, gentlemen," said Ald. Uhlir, "I and some of you have signed the Municipal Voters' league pledge not to vote for a franchise of a term longer than twenty years. How can you stand for this fifty year term?"

"That pledge refers only to street railways, not steam railways," said Chairman Hunter. "Because of the comment in the newspapers," he continued, "I have taken the initiative in having the recommendation of the ordinance reconsidered for further investigation. The matter will be considered at the next meeting of the committee."

THINKS HUSBAND HAS ELOPED.

Mrs. Edward F. Cooke Appeals to Police to Find Man Who Is Missing.

Believing that her husband, Edward F. Cooke, a coal salesman, with offices at 303 Dearborn street, who has been missing from his home since Monday, has eloped with Miss Leon Snyder, 225 Twenty-eighth street, his wife last evening asked the police to search for him.

Cooke, who lived with his wife and two children at 3816 Calumet avenue, took with him $700 when he disappeared.

Miss Snyder, whom the police could not find at her home, is said to have been an acquaintance of Cooke before his marriage. The police also learned that he had been seen in Miss Snyder's company before his disappearance.

Sugar and Starch

Please the Palate, but Sometimes Play Hob With Digestion.

Sugar and starch, as found in ordinary food, are intended to supply energy and strength, keep up steam to drive the human machine, and this they do if properly digested.

But when the digestive apparatus has had too much work crowded upon it, or when it becomes weakened from any cause, the food decays (there is no other word so expressive) in the stomach and intestines, and not only produces gas to distend the stomach and crowd and weaken the heart, but promotes other disease conditions which develop into serious liver, stomach and sometimes heart trouble.

It is important that the food present the sugar and starch to the stomach in such form that they may be readily digested and pass to the nerves and blood to energize the machine without overtaxing the organs.

Grape-Nuts food does this perfectly. It is prepared by mechanical (not chemical) processes, similar to those through which food passes in the healthy human digestive machinery, and is, when taken into the system, pre-digested, soluble and easily assimilated. It is made of wheat and barley, and as it comes from the package, is adapted and grateful to even the weakest stomach of adult or babe.

A lady writes from Woonsocket, R. I.

"Grape-Nuts," she says, "is truly a wonderful food. I have been practically living upon it for the last four months, and I am stronger today, both physically and mentally, than I have been before for years.

"For some twelve or fifteen years I had lived on sweet and starchy foods until my digestive organs were almost worn out, and I had been troubled for a long time with nervous dyspepsia or indigestion in its worst form. Everything I ate fermented and I belched gas from my stomach most of the time.

"My doctor advised me to try Grape-Nuts and so I began using it three times a day, and it has done wonders for me. It has strengthened my muscles, toned up my nerves and rested my brain. The headaches that used to punish me have disappeared.

"I have gained strength to work and power to think. Grape-Nuts is worth more to me than all the medicine in the world.

"When my baby was cutting his teeth this summer I cured him of his bowel trouble by feeding him Grape-Nuts soaked in milk." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

PRAISE VAN HISE, BUT URGE REFORM

Wisconsin University Investigators to Advise Change in Business System.

EXONERATION FOR KNAPP

Committee Expected to Declare Deposed Professor an Efficient Instructor.

Madison, Wis., March 15.—[Special.]—The university investigating committee practically finished its work tonight, and went into executive session to discuss the first draft of its report. One witness will be examined tomorrow, and the whole of the testimony then will be complete. The recommendations which the report will contain are:

1. The committee will commend President Van Hise for the progress which the university has made under his administration. It will declare him in no way to blame for the irregularities which the investigation has unearthed.

2. It will commend Regents Magnus Swenson and Lucius S. Hanks for their excellent services on the board.

Will Advise Business Change.

3. It will advise a change in the business administration of the university, probably recommending that university finances be intrusted to a board, similar to the state board of control, whose members shall be paid for their services. The passage of a law requiring the university to submit a budget which must be approved by the governor, secretary of state, and treasurer will be recommended.

4. The committee will urge that the president of the university be relieved of all financial responsibility, so that he can devote his entire time to university work proper.

5. Dean Henry will be censured. The loss of many good men, such as Profs. Carlyle, King, Craig, and Knapp will be attributed to him. Miss Ida Herfurth and Leslie H. Adams also will be severely censured and their dismissal probably will be advised.

Will Sustain Knapp.

6. Prof. Knapp will be declared an efficient instructor.

7. The committee will recommend that the legislature give to the university $350,000, enough to pay the running expenses from July 1, 1906, to Feb. 1, 1907.

The report will not touch upon the minor matters that have been brought to the committee's notice. Football will not be mentioned. Petty jealousies among the professors will receive slight mention. The practice of the university in borrowing from private individuals will be denounced.

RICH MAN'S SON ARRESTED; FATHER CRITICALLY ILL.

Henry O. Parker's Sixteen Year Old Boy Charged with Forgery and Passing Worthless Checks.

William Parker, son of Henry O. Parker, a former vice president of the board of trade, who was arrested late Wednesday evening charged with forgery and passing worthless checks, remained a prisoner in the central police station yesterday. His father is unconscious, suffering from a stroke of paralysis, in his apartments at Sunnyside and Kenmore avenues, where he was taken a few months ago from his residence in Wheaton.

Two cab drivers had the boy, who is 16 years of age, arrested, asserting that he refused to pay his carriage fare. With him when he was taken at a restaurant at the southwest corner of Monroe and Clark streets was a chorus girl with whom he had been riding about the city. The boy recently gave her a $500 diamond ring, it is said.

After being arrested young Parker admitted having forged his father's name, the police say, to many checks and circulating them in Wheaton and Chicago. Among his victims are:

Sim Wineman, saloon, 98 Randolph street, $50.

William Quinn, saloon, Madison and Clark streets, $60.

Union restaurant, 111 Randolph street, $25.

Dollinger & Nichols, Wheaton, $145.

When Mrs. Parker was told of the arrest of her son she became hysterical. She did not, however, furnish bonds for his release.

TO FIGHT SCHOOL "PULL"

OPPONENTS OF HAYES RESOLUTION BEGIN CAMPAIGN.

Members Who Were Absent Last Monday Night Are Expected to Make the Board of Education Reverse Its Action — Trustee White, Who Is Leading the Fight, Says He Is Confident of Securing Sufficient Support to Achieve Victory.

The six members of the board of education who voted to uphold the Dawes anti-pull rule Wednesday night began a campaign yesterday to secure a reconsideration of the action of the board in adopting the resolution presented by Trustee John J. Hayes. Every member of the board who was absent from the meeting Wednesday night was seen. Trustee R. A. White is leading the fight to put the Dawes resolution back in the code of rules of the board.

"I am confident that we will have enough votes at the next meeting of the board to win out," he said.

Condemned Action of Board.

Regarding the action taken by the board Mr. White said:

"There is one word which best will describe the action of the board in rescinding the anti-pull rule and that word is 'reactionary.' Just at this time, when the whole tendency of public life is to get away from political pull in any of its phases, it is a strange thing that a body of the dignity of the board of education, dealing with matters of such vital concern, should take such action."

At the next meeting of the board the members who voted against the rescinding resolution will question again the decision of President Tilden that the resolution was adopted when only eight votes were recorded for it instead of eleven, a majority of all the members of the board.

Plamondon Explains His Vote.

Trustee Charles A. Plamondon said he had been attacked because of his attitude toward the Dawes rule.

"I want it understood distinctly," he declared, "that I did not vote for the Hayes resolution because I want the system of political pull restored to the schools. I did so because of my belief that the Dawes rule has been used unfairly. Several persons have been reported as having attempted to exercise pull while hundreds who tried to influence the superintendent were not reported. It is to this feature that I object, to the operation of the rule rather than to its spirit. Under the present merit system pull cannot be used with or without the Dawes rule."

The committee on the Parental school, headed by Trustee Kuflewski, will begin today its investigation of the charges made against Supt. T. H. MacQueary of failing to pay for school board coal which he used at his own residence.

COMMANDER EVA BOOTH HERE FOR SALVATION ARMY SESSION.

Arrives in Chicago to Attend Congress of Western Leaders—Gives Public Address Tonight.

Miss Eva Booth, commander of the Salvation army, arrived in the city last night to attend the first annual congress of the western territory, which includes all states west of the Mississippi river, and which will be in session several days.

Miss Booth did not arrive in time to attend the opening session of the congress, held in the evening at the West End Woman's club house, Monroe street and Ashland boulevard. She will speak tonight at Orchestra hall, the subject being "Wonderful."

"The army used to hold a national congress each year in New York City, but recently has been divided into an eastern and western division," said Miss Booth. "For that reason the east and west will hold their respective congresses, this being the first congress of the western territory."

PHONOGRAPHS JAR HIS NERVES.

Agent of West Side Building Appeals to Health Department to Subdue Noise of the Machines.

The health department has been asked to put a stop to the nerve shattering "sidewalk phonographs" which play continuously from noon until midnight to attract the passersby to 5 cent theaters.

W. C. Moody, agent for a building at the southeast corner of Halsted street and Jackson boulevard, complained that one of these large phonographs is in constant operation at 181 Halsted street, adjoining his building.

"The tenants have complained to me about the noise, and it is worse than a nuisance," he declared. "It starts shortly after 11 o'clock in the morning and does not stop until after 11 o'clock at night."

OPINION UPHOLDS TELEGRAPH TAX.

Assistant Corporation Counsel Hoyne Declares Rights of City Are Clear.

WIDE SCOPE FOR A LEVY.

Compensation May Be Demanded for All Poles and Wires in Corporate Limits.

The Western Union and the Postal Telegraph companies are practically at the mercy of the city, according to an opinion given to the council committee on gas, oil, and electric lights yesterday by Assistant Corporation Counsel Maclay Hoyne, who declares that the city council can pass a general ordinance fixing the license fees and the compensation and regulating the business of the companies within the city limits without negotiating with them, and they will be obliged to accept the terms if they are not exorbitant or unreasonable.

Powers Claimed for City.

Mr. Hoyne's opinion covers the following points:

The city may have the power to refuse a permit to the companies for the occupation of the streets where only interstate commerce business is done.

The companies cannot occupy the streets without the consent of the city and must accept the city's terms.

They must pay compensation for the use of the public space thus occupied.

They must pay compensation upon all local business.

The city can exact license fees for the use of poles, wires, and conduits, both for the past and in the future.

The companies can be compelled to place underground all wires now existing in the streets or hereafter installed.

May Get Back Compensation.

Following the decision of the United States Supreme court in the ninety-nine year case, which took from the traction companies their claims to the streets of Chicago, Mr. Hoyne thinks the city can exact concessions from the telegraph companies which will add several hundred thousand dollars to the revenue of the city, as well as simplify many of the problems which have bothered it for some years.

He holds that the city may not only impose a license for the poles and wires for the future, but it may be able to collect compensation due for past use. If they should refuse to accept the general regulation ordinance, he declares the city can secure judgments in the courts and compel the companies to pay. The opinion is a reply to the resolution adopted by the council last Monday night for an ordinance requiring the telegraph companies to pay a pole tax.

Have No Rights in Streets.

Mr. Hoyne holds that the only rights possessed by the companies are those given by congress. They have no city ordinances granting them permission to use the streets, because the grants given by the old towns expired with annexation, as decided by the state Supreme court in the telephone case. Mr. Hoyne finds that the act of congress granting the companies the right to do interstate business did not give them the right to occupy streets in a municipality without the consent of the city.

In the compensation features Mr. Hoyne cites cases decided in the courts in support of his contention that the city can exact compensation for the space occupied by the companies, impose taxes on the local business, and collect license fees to defray the expense of inspecting and supervising the lines.

In the case of the city of St. Louis against the Western Union the United States Supreme court held that the tax of $5 on each pole is not excessive, and Mr. Hoyne declares that Chicago can exact such a tax upon the thousands of poles in the streets and alleys of this city.

"CASH BUYERS" TO FACE TRIAL.

Stockholders Are Requested to Turn Over Evidence to the Prosecution.

KAHN MAKES FUTILE PLEA

Tries Hard to Avoid Testing Solvency of the Concern in Federal Court.

Stockholders in the Cash Buyers' Union First National Coöperative society will meet in the federal building today at the call of the postoffice authorities for the purpose of putting their case in the hands of the government for prosecution. They have been requested to bring with them all literature they received through the mails from the society.

Julius Kahn, president of the concern in the receiver's hands, endeavored yesterday to reach some method of settlement with his creditors in order to avoid the publicity of the solvency trial, which is scheduled for Judge Bethea's court on Monday. The creditors, however, went right on preparing their case for trial, admitting that a conference might be held this morning in Judge Bethea's chambers.

President Kahn was examined perfunctorily before Referee in Bankruptcy Wean in the afternoon in regard to some features of the suppressed report which the expert accountants working for the receiver have turned in. Mr. Kahn disputed the accuracy of the report in some particulars.

Letter to the Stockholders.

The meeting of stockholders in the federal building is the result of the following letter, sent out generally as soon as the postoffice inspectors got at the books of the company and found out the names of the subscribers:

Dear Sir: As you are doubtless aware, a receiver is in possession of the place of business of the Cash Buyers' Union First National Coöperative society upon petition of its merchandise creditors. It appears from the books of the company that you are one of the holders of its preferred stock and as such have rights in the premises which you are anxious, doubtless, to have recognized by the court.

You are requested, in your own interest, to call at this office at 2 p. m., Friday, March 16, room [illegible], new federal building, Adams and Dearborn streets, and bring with you all correspondence and literature which you have received from this company, as well as your stock certificates. Please bring this letter with you for identification and treat this matter as confidential.

This action, coming so soon after the report of the accountants, is taken by some as evidence that the case will be taken into the Criminal court as soon as the civil case is off the docket, and immediately if that is sidestepped.

Features of the Report.

Some interesting features of the suppressed report became known during the day. The assets and liabilities, as computed by the accountants, are approximately as follows:

Assets, in tangible property and merchandise at the building at Jackson boulevard and Green street, exclusive of so-called "good will" and the $300,000 unpaid stock subscriptions, $200,000.

Liabilities, exclusive of the $1,250,000 paid in by the stockholders, $425,000.

In far as the "good will," which Receiver Day has held out as offering so much hope, is concerned, the accountants have left that with a question mark after it. Attorneys in the case say the stockholders who have not paid their subscriptions in full cannot be held liable for the amounts due.

How Dividends Were Paid.

The point which the government has been seeking to learn is whether the declared dividends have been paid in money sent in by the stockholders or in money earned in the business. This is answered by the report in detail.

The books of the company show a direct loss of $125,000 since the organization of the business. Against this figure the report gives $104,000 as the amount paid out in four dividends. In one period of six months, it is asserted, the company lost $60,000, still a dividend of $45,000 was paid out of "earnings." There is also said to be a difference of $100,000 in the amount received for shares as given by the Metropolitan Trust and Savings bank, which acted as registrar until six months ago, and the amount shown in the books at the company offices.

Assurances to Investors.

In the literature in the possession of the government sent out by the society the following statement is made in answer to the question as to whether the shareholders are liable for the debts of the society in case of failure:

Your shares are absolutely nonassessable. Under no circumstances, debts or otherwise, can any shareholder be called upon for anything additional to the amount invested. There is little possibility of failure when you take into consideration that the foundation of this society is an established business of eighteen 'years' standing, conducted successfully all that time.

Another statement in regard to dividends is this:

The first year under the coöperative plan has enabled the society to pay two semi-annual dividends at the rate of 10 per cent per annum. In the coming six months there is every opportunity of accomplishing a large volume of business, and this permit a 15 per cent annual earning. It may be added that the Cash Buyers' union has made as high as 40 per cent on the capital invested.

Money Spent for Advertising.

In the examination before Referee Wean, Mr. Kahn was asked if he had examined the report. He replied that he had glanced at it. He was asked why, if he did not know the contents, he had made such a strenuous effort to have it suppressed. When asked for a criticism of the conclusions arrived at by the accountants, he was advised by his counsel not to answer.

"Did you ever use this stock in any other way than disposing of it to customers?" he was asked.

"Yes, at one time I used it for $50,000 worth of advertising."

"Are the stock subscriptions not paid for all in writing?"

"Yes."

"Did you send a prospectus to customers with the application blank?"

"Some of them."

"You have given the accountants every aid in your power?"

"I have."

The hearing was adjourned indefinitely.

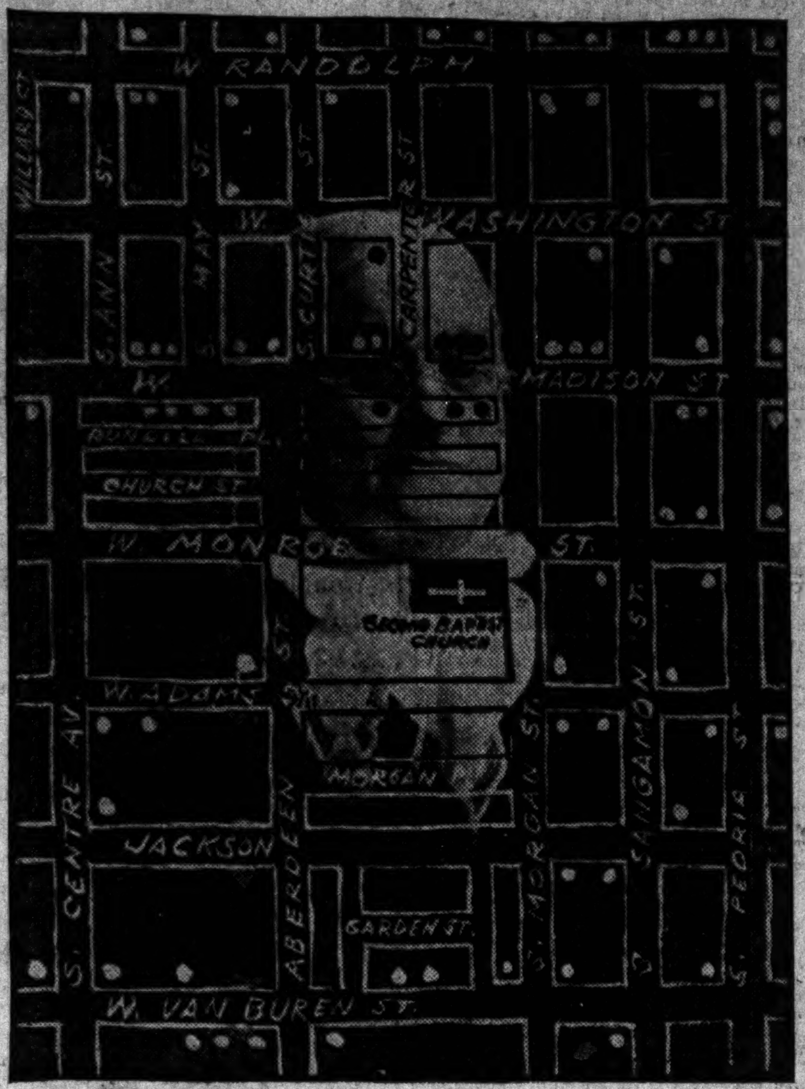
District with More than Eighty Saloons to Have an "Aunt Lizzie" Memorial.

In this picture the spots indicate the location of saloons. In approximately twenty-eight squares there are more than eighty saloons.



The Late Eliza N. Aiken ("Aunt Lizzie.")

OASIS IN MORAL DESERT.

SOCIAL SETTLEMENT FOR CENTER OF SALOON DISTRICT.

Second Baptist Church Will Provide Rendezvous for Young People, Including Clubrooms, Indoor Games, Gymnasium, and Refreshments—Institution to Be Established as a Memorial to "Aunt Lizzie" Aiken, Veteran War Nurse and Missionary.

A social settlement designed to compete directly with neighboring saloons and dance halls, offering opportunities for refreshment as well as clubrooms, a gymnasium, and indoor games, is the most recent development in Chicago religious work.

The institution is to be built by the Second Baptist church, Morgan and Monroe streets, of which the Rev. John Roach Straton is the pastor. Within a radius of three blocks of the church there are eighty-three saloons. With these and with their accompanying dance halls and dives the settlement will contend for the favor of the thousands of young men and women who live in the boarding houses which occupy the greater part of the region.

The Second church, when it was founded was the center of an aristocratic residence district, but with the growth in population the character of the region has changed, residences giving way to stores and saloons and homes to boarding houses. Unlike many other churches of the city, however, it has been its consistent policy to remain on its original site and make itself the center of an active fight against the streams of vice coming in from the Halsted and Randolph street regions.

Dr. Straton, the pastor, is young, of vigorous temperament, and is determined to carry out this policy of action.

Memorial for a War Nurse.

The settlement is to be a memorial to Mrs. Elizabeth Aiken, familiarly known as "Aunt Lizzie" Aiken, who was an army nurse during the civil war and during the forty years from that time until her death last January was connected with the Second church as city missionary. By her will she bequeathed $3,000, the savings of a lifetime, to the church. It has been determined to make this amount the nucleus of the settlement enterprise, and in her memory the settlement will be known as "The Aunt Lizzie Aiken Memorial Institute."

A building to cost $100,000 will be erected on land immediately adjoining the church edifice, where a settlement will be conducted under distinctly Christian auspices. Plans for the building and equipment have not asumed definite shape, but a general scheme of action has been decided on.

The building will be provided with library, reading and club rooms, as well as a gymnasium and facilities for games and manual training. To make the competition with the drinks and free lunches of the saloons more direct, refreshments of some kind, probably including soft drinks, will always be available.

Rendezvous for Young People.

Every effort will be made to make the place a popular resort for young people of both sexes. There will always be "open house," and, while religious work will be carried on to a degree, no restrictions as to religious affiliations will be placed.

Second church is in the exact geographical center of one of the most densely saloon infested regions of the city. Immediately around the church is a district composed almost entirely of boarding houses, in which live thousands of young men and women who spend their days in the downtown district.

In the whole region, according to Dr. Straton, there is not a single place where young people can go for social pastime except the saloons, dance halls, and dives. It is to remedy these conditions that the settlement work is undertaken.

"We are determined to hold the fort, instead of moving out to pleasanter surroundings, as other city churches have done. Our membership is scattered over the city," said Dr. Straton, "but we feel that there is a great field for service here. We want the new building to be an open home for all the young people of the section."

OBITUARY.

LEONARD LAWSHE SKELTON, who died Wednesday at his house, 42 Seeley avenue, will be buried today. He was born July 18, 1863, and was a son of the Rev. William D. Skelton. He graduated from the Northwestern university in 1885, and was assistant physician in the hospital for the insane at Kankakee [1890-'91]. He was married in 1893 to Antoinette Juergens, and is survived by one son. In 1905 he was elected as professor and head of the department of neurology and psychiatry in the American College of Medicine and Surgery. The funeral will be held in the Park Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, Park avenue and Robey street, at 1:30 p. m.

CLEAN BILL FOR STANHOPE

BUILDING COMMISSIONER BARTZEN'S CHARGES DISMISSED.

Civil Service Commission, After All Day Session, Exonerates Deputy Commissioner and Holds He Has Performed Duty Satisfactorily—His Explanations Are Accepted When Accuser Fails to Produce Any Evidence Against Him.

Deputy Building Commissioner Leon E. Stanhope was given a "clean bill of health" yesterday afternoon. All the charges against him were dismised by the civil service commission.

The commission spent the entire day hearing the testimony produced by Building Commissioner Peter Bartzen, who was Stanhope's accuser, but on each of the eight counts the commission ruled that Stanhope was not responsible and exonerated him fully.

Stanhope met each of the charges with satisfactory answers, and none of the witnesses of Commissioner Bartzen could break down the explanations.

"Erasing of Name" Explained.

One of the principal charges was that Mr. Stanhope had approved the plans of the Washington Park fireproof warehouse and then erased his name from the plans when they were found defective. When the matter was explained it was found that Mr. Stanhope's name had not been placed on the plans, but that only a portion of the stamp had been used, the name being obliterated by placing a piece of paper over that part of the stamp.

Some of the letters of the name were not covered by the paper, and when Commissioner Bartzen saw the plans he jumped to the conclusion that Stanhope's name had been erased mysteriously.

Mr. Stanhope explained that the architects wanted George Williams, who then was building commissioner, to approve the plans, but he refused to do so. Stanhope said for that reason he only had placed a portion of the stamp upon the plans in order to allow Mr. Williams to insert his signature. The former building commissioner later again refused to approve the plans, so they remained without the signature.

Nearly all the other charges, which appeared of a serious nature, were found to lack wrongful intent or negligence, and it was not necessary for Mr. Stanhope to produce any witnesses in his defense.

Stanhope Says He Will Resign.

When the hearing was dismissed, and the commission gave its opinion, Mr. Stanhope explained that he intends to resign his position with the city, as he has reëntered his practice as an architect and finds it more profitable and agreeable than working for the city.

SUSAN B. ANTHONY EULOGIZED.

W. C. T. U. Annual Meeting Held Memorial Service for Noted Advocate of Equal Suffrage.

The Chicago Woman's Christian Temperance union held its annual meeting yesterday in Willard hall. There was a business session in the forenoon and a memorial service during the noon hour for Susan B. Anthony.

At the afternoon session addresses were made by the Rev. William A. Quayle, pastor of St. James' Methodist church, on "The Enforcement of Law," and by Miss Helen L. Hood, editor of the Watch Tower, the state W. C. T. U. organ, on "The Advantages of Municipal Suffrage for Chicago Women." General discussion on each subject followed the addresses.

Funeral of Miss Anthony.

Rochester, N. Y., March 15.—Susan B. Anthony, who died March 13, was buried in Mount Hope cemetery today. The funeral was held at the Central Presbyterian church. The eulogies were pronounced by the Rev. Dr. Charles C. Albertson, pastor of the Central church; the Rev. Dr. William C. Gannett, pastor of the First Unitarian church; William Lloyd Garrison of Lawrence, Mass., Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt of New York, the Rev. Dr. Anna Howard Shaw of Philadelphia, and Mrs. R. Jerome Jeffrey of Rochester.

SHOOTS AN ALLEGED SWINDLER

Paul Stozky Says He Put Bullet Into Franklin Hamilton Because He Gave Him Raised Bill.

Franklin P. Hamilton passed a "raised" bill on Paul Stozky, a clothing merchant, 794 Milwaukee avenue, last night and was shot for his pains. His wounds were dressed at St. Mary's hospital and was locked up at the West Chicago avenue police station. Stozky went to the station and gave himself up and was released on his own bond. He said Hamilton showed him a good $10 bill and made a small purchase, after which he put a "raised" $1 bill into Stozky's hands. Stozky said Hamilton had worked the trick on him before and he was tired of it.

AGREE ON FORM OF I. M. O. BALLOT

Election Commissioners Let Mayor Dunne Determine on the Wording of It.

HEARST IS FOR RAINEY.

Eastern Democrat Supports Congressman for Illinois Convention Chairman.

Mayor Dunne and the election commissioners have about agreed on the form in which the two municipal ownership and operation propositions shall be submitted to the voters April 3. Attorney W. W. Wheelock, representing the board, decided that the city administration, being chiefly interested in the form of the propositions, should be satisfied with the manner in which the questions were placed on the ballots. He laid the matter before Mr. Dunne, and the mayor asked Attorney Glenn E. Plumb to act for him.

The two attorneys have decided that the question of operation shall be submitted in the following form:

PROPOSED OPERATION OF STREET RAILWAYS BY THE CITY OF CHICAGO.

"Shall the city proceed to operate street railways?"

On the right hand side of the ballot will be found the squares for the "Yes" and "No" vote. The portion of the question in quotations is that contained in the city council ordinance, but the municipal ownership people were desirous of having the proposition headed in the best fashion.

Statement of the Question.

The heading for the Mueller certificate ordinance is not prepared yet, but the question will be stated as follows:

Shall the ordinance entitled "an ordinance authorizing the city of Chicago to construct, acquire, purchase, own, and maintain street railways within its corporate limits and providing the means therefor," passed by the city council of said city on the 18th day of January A. D., 1906, making provision for the issue of street railway certificates not to exceed in amount $75,000,000, be approved.

One Candidate Withdraws.

The aldermanic situation in the Twenty-second ward was simplified to some extent yesterday when George Mackowitsch, independent democrat, withdrew. His petition and that of "Maj." John W. Sampson had been contested by Ald. Michael D. Dougherty, the regular democratic nominee. The Sampson hearing was begun first and the commissioners decided to compare his petition with the registry books, which will be done tomorrow. Sampson swore that he collected the signatures by a house to house canvass.

Discuss the Primary Law.

Republican and democratic politicians met with the election commissioners during the morning to discuss disputed points in the primary law. Attorney Wheelock intimated that he believed the call for the senatorial conventions should indicate the number of candidates for the legislature to be nominated. Louis Rinaker, for the republican leaders, said the number should be left to the senatorial conventions. George E. Cole and the Legislative Voters' league is endeavoring to secure full lists of nominations. No decision was reached.

Hearst Democrats with Rainey.

Congressman Henry T. Rainey, who is the choice of the majority rule democrats for temporary chairman of the democratic state convention, will not be opposed by the Hearst people in Illinois. Congressman William R. Hearst has announced this in Washington, saying he not only would advocate Congressman Rainey for chairman of the convention but for any other office, as he is a friend in whom he has great confidence.

The idea that the Hearst democrats would oppose Rainey originated in the opposition of men mistakenly supposed to be with the Hearst movement in Illinois, who in reality do not represent it in anything. Congressman Rainey was indorsed by the executive committee of the Majority Rule league in Chicago on Sunday, when a declaration of independence from the Hopkins-Sullivan-Quinn faction was adopted.

Colonization in Twentieth Ward.

Colonization on a small scale in the Twentieth ward was charged by Ald. Nicholas Finn. He asserted that instances have come to his attention where voters have been registered from saloons and places above saloons, where they never were registered before.

CLAIMS HALF OF BIG ESTATE.

Charles H. Baker Asks Court to Apportion His Share of Property, Valued at More than $3,000,000.

Charles Hinkley Baker, a civil engineer, appealed to the Superior court yesterday to adjudicate his interest in the estate of his father, William T. Baker, a broker and banker and once president of the board of trade, who died Oct. 3, 1903.

In his bill he asserts that he entered into a partnership with his father for the formation of a system of power companies in Washington state and was to have a half interest in the profits. The elder Baker is said to have died without signing any articles of agreement with his son, and, as all stock and property was in the name of the father, the estate was turned over to Howard W. Baker as trustee and administrator.

The share of the estate in which Baker claims a half interest consists of shares in the Seattle and Tacoma Power company, valued at $3,471,300, and buildings and land in Washington valued at $90,500.

Seeks Nomination for State Senator.

WALTER CLYDE JONES

Walter Clyde Jones of the Seventh ward has announced his candidacy for the republican nomination for the state senate in the Fifth Senatorial district for the seat now held by State Senator Francis W. Parker, who is contesting the Second district congressional nomination with Congressman James R. Mann.

James Edgar Brown, who has announced his candidacy, will withdraw in favor of Mr. Jones, it is said, and the contest for the nomination will be narrowed down to one between Mr. Jones and H. R. Rathbone.

The former will represent the Deneen forces, which are endeavoring to win the congressional nomination for Senator Parker. Mr. Rathbone says he has endeavored to keep himself clear from the congressional contest, but the Deneen faction in Hyde Park is not satisfied with his appearance of neutrality. He is charged with being a Mann-Jamieson candidate in disguise.

Mr. Jones was born in Iowa, but has been in Chicago politics for ten years. He campaigned the city in the Carter-Hanecy primary fight and in the Harlan-Stewart primary fight. He was a Deneen worker in the last state primaries and was a delegate in the deadlocked convention.

CHICAGO GIVEN GOLD BRICK IN OWNERSHIP ORDINANCE.

So Says Ald. Hunter When Debating with Werno in Austin Methodist Church—Resolutions Adopted.

At an old fashioned lyceum debate last night, held under the auspices of the Men's league of the Austin Methodist church, Ald. Charles Werno, chairman of the council committee on local transportation, and Ald. Thomas Hunter, a member, "took part." The question was, "Resolved, that immediate municipal ownership, as exemplified in the 'mayor's ordinance,' is mightier than ultimate municipal ownership, as set forth in the 'contract plan.'"

Ald. Werno spoke for an hour and a half. Then Ald. Hunter, after eulogizing the dead extension ordinance, broke away from his typewritten manuscript.

"You've been handed a gold brick," he said, "with municipal ownership attached to it. You were promised municipal ownership four different times by Mayor Harrison, and last fall Mr. Dunne promised you immediate municipal ownership—you remember how immediate it was to be. They haven't worked it out yet.

"If the $75,000,000 ordinance passes and the city tries operation and it falls down—I think it will—and there are foreclosure proceedings, you'll find that you'll buy the music ultimately."

Resolutions to be sent to the finance committee, urging that every cent of the increased revenue derived from the high license measure be used in the rehabilitation and increasing of the police force were passed by the league.

GOATS AMONG ELIGIBLE SHEEP.

Civil Service Board Finds Two Men with Criminal Records Have Qualified for Appointment as Police.

The civil service commission discovered yesterday that two of the eligibles on the list of patrolmen have criminal records, and their pictures are in the rogues' gallery. The discovery led the commissioners to discuss the advisability of comparing more of the eligibles with the criminal statistics.

They have appealed to the council finance committee for emergency funds for more investigators to aid in eliminating the undesired candidates from the eligible list and weeding out those who are not competent.

It is expected that 100 men will be approved by the commission by tomorrow, so that they can report to Chief Collins to be placed on the force if he wants them.

CULLOM TO SAVE DOMINGO TREATY.

President Asks Illinois Man to Galvanize the Apparently Dead Compact.

ROOT PLEADS FOR ACTION.

Secretary of State Argues with Senate Committee in Behalf of Roosevelt's Policy.

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

Washington, D. C., March 15.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt has confided to Senator Cullom the well nigh hopeless task of resuscitating the corpse of his Santo Domingan policy.

It developed today upon the return of Senator Cullom from the south, when the president and he had a long conference regarding the fate of the Santo Domingan treaty. The president made it clear that he was not in accord with the program Senator Lodge had indicated that he and other administration supporters in the senate would pursue—of pressing the senate for a vote upon the treaty, and if the instrument were rejected to move that it be recommitted to the committee on foreign relations. Under Senator Lodge's plan the senators opposed to American intervention in Santo Domingan affairs would be placed upon record without the treaty itself being harmed, and as the treaty would remain undisposed of the president could pursue his policy in the island without adverse criticism.

But the president is not satisfied with this program. He wants positive and not negative action. Reposing confidence in the judgment of Senator Cullom, he has requested that statesman to establish definitely whether there is any hope of the ratification of the treaty after the railroad rate question is out of the way.

Hope for More Support.

It is believed after the railroad rate question is disposed of and the feeling it has engendered has disappeared, republicans will more solidly unite in support of republican policies. There is not the slightest doubt in the world that the democrats held their caucus, at which it was determined to oppose the Dominican treaty, at the instance of the disgruntled republicans. Should Senator Cullom establish that it will be impossible to secure ratification in consequence of the declination of four of the democrats to join with the republicans, then he will urge his colleagues to vote for a joint resolution approving what the president has done in Santo Domingo and authorizing him to continue the existing policy of intervention.

Secretary Root has made a long statement to the senate committee on foreign relations which is considered confidential, but a copy of which has come into possession of THE TRIBUNE correspondent. This statement is a strong argument in behalf of ratification.

"I do not think there is much question of theory in Santo Domingo," Root said. "I look at it rather as a matter of actually dealing with the situation in the most sensible and practical way. The situation is that here is an island which is between our island of Porto Rico—about 100 miles from it—and Cuba, almost within sight and sound of our naval station at Guantanamo, directly on the route between the Atlantic and gulf ports of the United States and the isthmian canal, or the place where the isthmian canal is expected at some time to be. The people of this island have come to us and said: 'We cannot maintain an orderly government, capable of protecting life and property, and discharge our international obligations without having some help.'

Island of No Government.

"The history of the island shows that to be a fact. It has been for a long period a scene of discord, strife, and bloodshed; no property and no life secure, a continual series of revolutions, and as one of the incidents of that series of revolutions the piling up of an enormous nominal debt, which rests as a wet blanket on all the activities of the island, and as an absolute preventive against prosperity. There is no such cohesive power among the inhabitants of the island as will make it possible for them to get out of this wretched condition, a condition which is abhorrent to every humane man and which ought not to be permitted on our doorstep."

Secretary Root explained that he was not referring to the government of Hayti, which was bad enough, but of Santo Domingo only.

"There is no majority party in Santo Domingo," he continued. "It is split up into a number of groups. Any party that has control of the government must be merely a plurality party, and the moment any one party gets into control there is a tendency of the others to combine for the purpose of driving it out; then they turn against each other, and some one of the combination gets control; then there is a recombination against it, which drives it out, and so the rearrangement of groups, which has a tendency to unsettle government matters.

"Debt is one of the consequences. It is merely one of the symptoms of the disease—this piling up of an enormous debt, much of it fraudulent, much of it illegal, created in a most unconstitutional manner by the men who happened for the time to be in control, the men thrown up by the revolution and passing away in a short time. That debt is one of the incidents of that serial condition. Another incident is the prevention of productive enterprise, because no one can be sure of reaping the fruits of his labors or of retaining property created by his enterprise and industry."

Some Changes Are Necessary.

Secretary Root told the committee, in the light of a year's experience and observation, that some changes in the treaty would be advisable, but not with respect to the deposit of the money in the bank in New York and the control of that fund. He believed in keeping the money there in order that it might not be too attractive to the revolutionists of Santo Domingo.

Secretary Root stated, in reference to the claim of the Santo Domingo Improvement Company of New York, that all the facts he has been able to get casts not a doubt upon the honesty of the claim to the extent that was agreed upon—$4,500,000. He said he thought it would be unfortunate in dealing with a situation where there are Belgian, German, French, and Italian claims, and the claims of almost every other country on earth, to undertake, first, to cast doubt upon the validity of an American claim, and, next, to foreclose inquiry into it by action of the senate while providing for an inquiry into the claims of all other nations. He thought it would be more injurious to the improvement company than it would be beneficial.

All Depends on the Senate.

"Now, if the senate will not give its sanction to that I do not know how it will be possible for the state department to do anything more for American interests in Santo Domingo, and practically we will have to abandon the attempt to save them, because through diplomacy and diplomatic intercourse with the government of Santo Domingo we cannot do things in Santo Domingo any more than you can control mobs in Russia by writing letters to the Russian government.

"I do not think that a permanent arrangement will be necessary. I think the stability of a government for a period tends to create further stability. Observe the history of the South and Central American peoples. There has been a steady progress in the line of stable government. States that formerly were having revolutions every few years or every few months gradually are emerging from that condition and acquiring a capacity for orderly government. I think if we can help the government of Santo Domingo to stand on its own feet, if we can put the moral forces of the United States behind it, it gradually will acquire consistency and strength and the people will turn themselves from the excited condition they are in now to industry and to productive pursuits.

"I think if we can hold the situation long enough for the people of Santo Domingo to turn their attention from broils and conflicts to productive industry they will be able to go along."

MAY COMPROMISE STATEHOOD WAR.

Could Nullify Whole Measure.

As the situation now stands, therefore, Speaker Cannon has it in his power to kill the whole statehood measure. This would be to punish Oklahoma people, however, and it is hardly likely the speaker would be justified, even if he felt so inclined, in making them innocent victims. There was some plain talking in the republican conference today. Uncle Joe did not hesitate to give a spade its right name at frequent intervals. Some other members brought up new features of the campaign against joint statehood for Arizona and New Mexico.

The charge was made positively in conference that Senator Dryden of New Jersey and Senator Bulkeley of Connecticut, each of whom is president of an insurance company, had been led to oppose joint statehood for the southwest, because the companies they represented had a financial holding out there which would be subjected to a tax not now imposed. This put them, of course, in the same class with Senator Alger, who last year announced on the floor of the senate that he had personal financial interests in Arizona which he would be obliged to sacrifice or dispose of in case they were brought under control of a state.

It also clearly was stated in conference and not seriously denied that a combination was formed by both house and senate between the anti-statehood men, tobacco men, and beet sugar men, the terms of which required joint action against the Philippine tariff and statehood bill. It also was asserted that this combination here had been extended, at least partially, to the railroad lobby in the senate.

House Leaders Indignant.

It was no wonder Speaker Cannon and the house leaders were indignant. They felt that a meritorious piece of legislation had been slaughtered at the demand of special interests, and they were able to point for confirmation to the fact that the Philippine tariff was hung up in committee for the express purpose of holding the combination together on statehood and railroad rates.

There was a good deal of bad blood in the republican conference today, and Speaker Cannon successfully put Mr. Babcock of Wisconsin in a hole by inquiring whether in order to prevent statehood for Arizona and New Mexico he would be willing to go to the extent of preventing statehood for Oklahoma and Indian territory. The house organization won, so far as a vote in conference goes, and they had votes enough to have called a caucus if they had so desired. It was well understood, however, in the long run, public opinion probably would not justify a denial of statehood to Oklahoma and Indian territory, which are so manifestly fitted for it, pending an attempt to link Arizona and New Mexico together in a single state.

Political Possibilities Threat.

Joint statehood for Arizona and New Mexico always has been, from the point of view of eminent republicans, merely a choice of evils. Few people here believe Arizona and New Mexico together are entitled to representation in the United States senate or are really fitted for the duties and privileges of statehood. The one impelling reason looking toward their union has been that just so long as they stay out as individual territories they constitute a threat.

There can be no doubt at all if the democrats at any time should secure control of congress and elect a president as well they certainly would put Arizona and New Mexico into the union as separate states, giving each of them two United States senators and a corresponding abnormal vote in the electoral college. If it could be made certain the republicans would control the government in whole or in part for the next ten years the party leaders here would be delighted to have Arizona and New Mexico remain as territories during all that time. For this reason, therefore, it would be difficult, if not impossible, for Speaker Cannon to hold a majority of the house indefinitely for any proposition which will deny statehood for Oklahoma, and as a result it is likely there will be a conference compromise on the basis of the Foraker amendment.

BLAME FOR LEONARD WOOD

DEMOCRATS IN CONGRESS CRITICISE RECENT BATTLE.

In the House Jones of Virginia Declares He Is Unable to Understand How President Roosevelt Could Indorse Killing of Women and Children — Thinks Siege Would Have Accomplished Purpose as Well as a Fight—Censure in the Senate.

Washington, D. C., March 15.—Democratic members of congress were in a mood to denounce Gen. Leonard Wood for his recent attack on the Moro bandits.

In the house Mr. Jones of Virginia denounced the affair as a "blot." He added that, making every allowance for the personal relations known to exist between the president and Gen. Wood, he was unable to understand how the president could indorse the killing of women and children. It had shocked the whole nation.

"In my judgment," he continued, "this action on the part of the commanding general of our forces in the Moro provinces cannot be condoned or excused. It would only have required a wait of a few weeks to have starved out the Moros when they would have surrendered."

Calls Story Improbable.

Mr. Jones regarded as highly improbable that the Moros took their children in their arms as shields and charged the American troops. The Moros could not fight in that manner.

Mr. Williams [Miss.] followed to give the republican party "a little advice on statehood," but prefaced this by reading a poem written, he said, by a member, entitled "The Charge of the Wood Brigade" (what the heathen call the massacre of Mount Dajo). It was a parody on the "Charge of the Light Brigade," and contained references to the killing of women and children.

Criticism in the Senate.

In the senate the president's message on the subject of the recent battle was read and Mr. Culberson asked whether this was intended as a reply to the resolution recently adopted by the senate at his instance, and Mr. Bacon replied that it could not be a reply to the resolution as it failed to cover the ground.

"What we want especially to know," he said, "is what provocation there was for this wholesale slaughter, for we must call it such, in view of the fact that none escaped, regardless of age or sex." He hoped, he said, that the facts would show that there had been extreme provocation. He regarded the affair as most regrettable.

Mr. Lodge replied that so far no news had been received except by cable, and he had no doubt that as soon as news should be received, it would be supplied as a matter of course.

"When the facts are received," he went on, "it will be time enough to talk about slaughter and massacre, if the facts justify such talk, which I don't believe they will."

Mr. Bacon also declared that he had not meant in the absence of facts any reflection on any one, but merely intended to express the regrt that all must feel over the unfortunate affair.

The urgent appeal sent out some time ago by President Roosevelt, and the efforts being made by the officers of the National Red Cross are resulting in largely increased contributions from all sections of the country.

TILLMAN PLEADS FOR A RATE LAW.

South Carolina Senator Warns Senate That Country Will Resent Delay.

NATION NOT TO BE DENIED

Attempt to Ignore Popular Will Means More Drastic Measures.

Washington, D. C., March 15.—Senator Tillman in presenting the railroad rate bill to the senate today warned his colleagues, republican and democratic, that the railroad rate question as an issue could not be stifled or ignored. He said:

"The demand of the people for relief from the oppressions and wrongs they now endure may be thwarted by the great influence of the railroad corporations. This influence has hitherto been paramount, and its representatives in the two houses may feel that it is safe to refuse to redress the grievances and to continue the policy of noninterference. They may ignore popular clamor and either pass no bill at all or enact one that will prove wholly inadequate.

Only Damming the Stream.

"Such action on their part will, in my judgment, be unwise and will only dam up the water. The issue will be made the paramount one in the next election, and those who are responsible for delay or inadequate legislation will find that when at last the flood gates of popular wrath and indignation are hoisted there will be some fine grinding done.

"If those most interested in these great properties will not consent to wise legislation to relieve the distress of the people there is danger of more radical policies and leaders coming to the front, with the result that legislation far more drastic and dangerous than anything proposed in this bill and the amendments to be offered will be enacted."

Senator Tillman, at the outset of his report, admitted that there was a wide divergence of views over many features of the railroad rate question. He alluded to the fact that republicans and democrats in the senate were divided, although in the house both parties had united in passing the Hepburn bill.

The South Carolina senator admitted that there were features in the bill he did not approve and which, in his judgment, should be changed. The phrase "a just, reasonable, and fairly remunerative rate" he considered dangerous in the extreme. They are open to the construction, he said, that a rate should be "fairly remunerative" on immense amounts of watered stock.

Denounces Railroad Rapacity.

The report on the whole was moderate in tone. Only once did the South Carolina senator's characteristic vehemence assert itself. In denouncing railroad rapacity he said:

"Vested with the rights of eminent domain to construct their lines, and granted liberal franchises and charters, the railroads, designed to be public carriers for the benefit of the whole people, in the last few years have become rapidly transformed into the veriest band of robbers—highwaymen who do not thrust their pistols in the faces of their victims and demand money or their lives, but who levy tribute in freight rates which are as high as the traffic will bear, deny access to market, monopolize with brazen effrontery one of the prime necessaries of life—coal—and in every way show their absolute contempt for the people and the people's rights."

Senator Newland's Views.

The views of Senator Newlands of Nevada on the rate bill also were presented to the senate. He expressed belief that the Hepburn bill would not be as effective as it should be unless it contained a provision for the national incorporation of railroads engaged in interstate commerce. He also favored provision guarding against overcapitalization, for fixing with certainty the rule for the taxation of railway property by the states, and prescribing a fixed limit for dividends.

In concluding, Senator Newlands declared that unless the railroads submitted to proper regulation by law the people would demand government ownership.

Senator Nelson of Minnesota addressed the senate in favor of the Hepburn bill, contending it was sufficient for present requirements as it stood. He argued at length that no review provision is necessary to the completion of the bill.

Concluding, Mr. Nelson advised the senate to follow the house in carrying into execution the views of the president. He praised the president as "great, energetic, and vigilant."

Talk of a Compromise.

If a compromise is effected in the senate on the railroad rate bill the indications are that it will be in the nature of a time limit on the suspension of orders of the interstate commerce commission. Several senators said today that if they thought a review by the courts could be facilitated in such manner as would insure the protection of the interests of shippers a judicial review feature could be adopted.

It is argued that congress could provide that the decision should be returned within a stated period from the date of appeal and in that manner the suspension of the order of the commission brought down to a minimum.

Various periods of time have been suggested as a limit, but from the discussion it appeared that ninety days would be the maximum if opponents of the court review feature are to be induced to accept the compromise.

The additional power which President Roosevelt suggested should be given the interstate commerce commission in making the special investigation into the coal and oil industry as related to transportation, was given by the house today in the passage of the Townsend resolution on that subject.

Illinois Man Appointed Consul.

Washington, D. C., March 15.—The president sent to the senate today the nomination of George Eugene Eager, Illinois, to be consul at Barmen, Germany.

Needless Alarm.

Here's a Poor Man Coughing Away His Lungs—At Least So His Relatives Think.

It's cough, cough; hack, hack, hack; all day and sometimes all night.

"Must be consumption," thinks the alarmed ones.

And of course, there is always the possibility that they may be right.

But in most cases they're wrong; because Dyspepsia is so much more common than Consumption.

And Dyspepsia causes chronic Cough, just like Consumption.

The dyspeptic cough, it is well to remember, can be quickly cured by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

No need to be alarmed about it, unless you make up your mind to neglect it.

Then, indeed, you must look out for danger; for the Dyspeptic Cough often grows into a Consumptive Cough if neglected, by the constant lung irritation which it causes.

So the best way is to waste no time, but begin at once the use of these famous little tablets, the timely using of which has saved many a sick person from ending in a consumptive's grave.

Remember, however, if you please, that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will positively NOT cure Consumption, but prevent it.

Of course, they can always be depended on to cure all the other symptoms of indigestion.

They are a universal cure, for one universal disease.

They cure nothing else; but what they do, they do thoroughly and well.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the result of the most thorough investigation into the inside causes and the cure, of Indigestion, that has ever been attempted.

They have solved a problem, the answer to which a hundred thousand physicians in America are today groping for in vain.

They cure the most severe, long-continued chronic, complicated cases of Indigestion that can be found. They are far ahead of the most modern medical practice, because the most successful physicians of the day, in the cure of diseases of the digestive organs, are using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets as a basis for their success.

They stoop to Stuart's to conquer.

And Stuart's lift them up, out of the rut.

If, therefore, you are a victim of this dread disease, which counts its victims by the million, brace up and take new heart, for you cannot fail to cure your trouble, if you will only put your faith in this great remedy, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

They are positively, frankly, truly, a sure and permanent relief.

Try them.

TRIBUNE "WANTS" BRING RETURNS

PLAN TO HURRY TUNNEL ACTION.

Council Transportation Committee to Consider Matter at Its Next Meeting.

TIRED OF MAYOR'S DELAY.

Subject Is Made a Special Order Because of General Demand by the Public.

The council committee on local transportation indicated yesterday that it may take the tunnel question out of the mayor's hands if he persists in his refusal to come to an agreement with the Union Traction company as to some means of caring for the people when the tunnels are taken out.

In consultation Tuesday evening with ex-Corporation Counsel Tolman, representing the River Improvement association, and W. W. Gurley for the Union Traction company, the mayor practically agreed that the United States Supreme court decision in the "ninety-nine year case" had removed all his objections to granting the Union Traction company a temporary permit to trolleyize its cable lines so the cars could be brought over the bridges when the tunnels are taken out.

Suddenly Changes His Mind.

Wednesday morning, however, he announced he could not consent to the trolley permits unless the company would agree not to ask for a rehearing in the "ninety-nine year case." Furthermore, he wanted to know whether the company would accept Mueller law certificates in exchange for its tangible property which the city will have to buy when it gets the chance to go into the street car business.

He was told that could not be done for the reason the company could not stop a petition for a rehearing if it wanted to, and as for the Mueller law certificates nobody connected with the corporation considered them worth anything.

Mr. Tolman thought the only course left was to go to the council and ask it to settle the tunnel troubles. The opportunity came when a petition of the Southwest Improvement association was presented asking for a permit to allow the Chicago City Railway company to extend its trolley in State street from Eighteenth to Nineteenth, and putting one in Eighteenth street from State street to Wabash avenue, so as to bring Archer avenue cars uptown by way of Wabash avenue and allow a better type of cars in Archer avenue.

Special Order for Next Monday.

"The corporation counsel decided against this trolley permit on the ground it might give the company some added rights under the 'ninety-nine year' claims," said Chairman Werno, "but since then the Supreme court of the United States has wiped those claims out of existence."

"There is no use in handling this matter of trolleyizing piecemeal," put in Ald. Bennett. "The thing we ought to do is to make a clean sweep of the whole matter, north, south, and west sides. We ought to take the whole matter up and settle it, tunnels and all. There is no time for delay. It is a matter which affects directly everybody who uses a west or a north side car, and indirectly everybody on the south side."

"I move we take it up now," said Ald. Hunter, but the other members agreed that in the absence of an ordinance nothing would be gained by that, so it was made a special order for next week's meeting.

"L" Extension Is Favored.

The committee recommended for passage the ordinance granting the Metrpoolitan road the right to extend its Humboldt Park branch to the city limits at Seventy-second avenue. The plan of the road is to form a connection there with an interurban road which runs from the Fox Lake territory and thus give this road an entrance into Chicago. An amendment was adopted providing that the Metropolitan within seven years must elevate the tracks from its present terminus to the city limits.

The committee granted permission to the Chicago City railway to change its track curves at Madison street and Wabash avenue and Randolph street and Wabash avenue so as to allow the new Indina avenue cars to get around them without danger of accident.

Clarence S. Knight asked for several amendments to the Lake street "L" elevated ordinance in order to make possible the proposed Oak Park extension. He asked that the company be allowed to do an express business on all of its lines, that it be not required longer to run regular trains between Fifty-second and Austin avenues, that the life of the corporation be extended to [illegible], and some minor matters. He was asked to submit his amendments in writing. Among other questions which were asked him was whether the company would consent to carry passengers for a 5 cent fare not only to the present but the future city limits.

"It can't be done," said Mr. Knight. "The Desplaines river is as far as any company can carry a passenger for 5 cents."

TELLS STAND OF DRUGGISTS.

President Avery of Retailers' Association Says Conditions Might Be—Once Were—Much Worse.

Chicago, March 15.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—In this morning's issue of THE TRIBUNE appears a number of interviews of druggists relative to the telephone situation, which seems to call for a statement on the part of the Retail Druggists' association.

While there may be in this city, containing more than a thousand drug stores, some who have personal grievances, their expression of dissatisfaction should not be construed to apply that there exists a widespread feeling of antagonism in the present relations existing between the company and druggists.

The amount of telephone business transacted from drug stores represents a large portion of the public service in the use of the telephone.

It has been frequently expressed at the meetings of our association, and the sentiment generally indorsed by Chicago druggists, that present conditions of telephone service are far superior to those of any previous time in the memory of druggists.

It is felt that a return to the old flat rate plan as applied to drug store service would be a step backwards, and the introduction of two or more competing companies, requiring in drug stores the installation of each and every system for the accommodation of the public, would produce conditions intolerable, and of such serious injury to the business of the same as to necessitate a discontinuance on the part of druggists in affording telephone service to the public.

The present measured service plan has eliminated a former nuisance and great obstruction to business, that of parties monopolizing the line for frivolous conversation.

A majority of druggists fully appreciate the loss of dead beat patronage, and are pleased to have the more active business use of the phone which measured service affords.

CHARLES H. AVERY,
President Chicago Retail Druggists' Association.

WARNING TO ALL HOUSEWIVES.

Two Men Sell to Many Women Vile Compound Covered with Layer of Pure Butter.

F. R. Pritchard, secretary of the health department, warns all persons against purchasing butter from two men who represent themselves as agents for the Clover Valley Butter company of Aurora, with Chicago offices at 67 South Water street.

The men have been operating in the vicinity of Douglas park, selling ten pound jars of "fresh, pure country butter." A layer of butter one inch in thickness is in the jar, but below this is what is described by Secretary Pritchard as "grease so vile that it cannot be used for greasing a wagon axle."

The Clover Valley Butter company is not located at 67 South Water street.

floor of the Security building. Other attorneys talked of getting out an injunction to restrain the company from putting in "grounded wires."

Mr. Raymond said he was unable to understand how a "philanthropic concern like the Chicago Telephone company could have gone on five years before making the discovery that its subscribers run great risk of death from heavy charges of electricity." Mr. Raymond said the company hoped to bluff the city council into permitting it to charge $175 as a flat rate on the plea that "we can't furnish our usual service for $125 and the subscribers are kicking."

Will Keep on Kicking.

"I shall continue to kick every time the company tries to change my copper metallic circuit instrument into one of the old style grounded instruments with inferior service," said Mr. Raymond. "If the repair man persists I will have him arrested. I have paid up to April 1 for a metallic circuit instrument, and I will not submit to having metallic circuit service taken away under my face and eyes while I am paying for it.

"When the man came up here first and told me that he was going to fix up something to protect me from charges of electricity I asked him if it would interfere with the present service. He said it would not. Later I learned from a friend that the company had put his extension 'phone out of business by putting in the new wire. I stopped the repair man in my office just as he was about to make the final connection."

The complaints against the "ground wire" were made to W. A. Paulsen, president of the Wapaul Electric company, 120 Randolph street. Mr. Paulsen was asked to make an inspection, and in some cases he cut the ground wire and thus restored the former kind of service. Among those who complained were Wood & Wood, attorneys, in the First National Bank building; Murrell & Takken, 95 Dearborn street; W. E. Solomon & Co., 159 La Salle street; and the United Automatic Register company, 87 West Jackson boulevard.

Wheeler Pleads Ignorance.

President Arthur D. Wheeler of the telephone company last night was asked about the "ground wires." He said he knew nothing about their recent installation.

"This is some scheme against the company from the looks of it," he asserted.

"But I saw one of the wires that had been spliced and I am certain that wires are being put in for some purpose," said the questioner.

Mr. Wheeler was reminded that the extension phones would not work after the ground wire was put on. He brightened perceptibly.

"Whose instruments are those?" he demanded. "Are they ours or are they other instruments that are being used to steal our current?"

"The people who use the independent phones claim that the law permits them to do so," said the interviewer.

"Well, I don't know of any legal decision giving them any such right," concluded Mr. Wheeler.

Plan War on Phone Trust.

Galesburg, Ill., March 15.—[Special.]—Representatives of sixteen independent telephone exchanges in this part of Illinois met here today to complete organization with a view to competing against the Central Union. Among the larger cities represented were Burlington, Galesburg, Canton, Macomb, Kewanee, and Monmouth. The officers elected were: President, W. J. McQuiston, Monmouth; vice president, C. M. Erwin, Macomb; secretary treasurer, R. G. Roadstrum, Galesburg.

Arrangements were made to form a state organization to contest with the Central Union for long distance and toll business.

It was decided to urge a better toll service, at less cost, establish a clearing house somewhere in the state where business settlements can be effected, make the toll apparatus standard and uniform, and to push the extension of toll lines from this district and coöperate with the district systems of Illinois, Iowa, and Indiana in the fight against the Central Union.

ATTEMPTS SUICIDE IN STREET.

Mrs. Marie Servis, Who Recently Left Her Husband, Tries to Kill Herself by Swallowing Chloroform.

Mrs. Marie Servis, 37 years old, a domestic in the residence of Simon W. Strauss, the furniture dealer, drank chloroform with suicidal intent last evening at Indiana avenue and Thirty-fifth street. The police took her to Provident hospital. After she recovered sufficiently she asked to be taken to the Michael Reese hospital. Mrs. Servis and her husband, George Servis, lived at 3020 Calumet avenue. A few months ago they quarreled and Mrs. Servis left her husband.

CALLS ANTI-FEE LAW VOID

HEALY ATTACKS MEASURE REGULATING JUDGES' SALARIES.

State's Attorney, at the Hearing of Test Suit, Holds That the Measure Signed by Governor Is Not the One Which Passed the Legislature—His Contention, if Sustained, Will Mean Reinstatement of the Fines System in His Office.

State's Attorney John J. Healy yesterday made an attack on the law regulating the salaries of the state's attorney and the judges of the Superior and Circuit courts. If his contention is sustained the fee and fines system in the state's attorney's office will be reinstated and the salaries of the judges may be decreased from the present $10,000 a year to the $7,000 yearly which they received before the law was passed.

The contention of the state's attorney as presented at the trial of the test case brought against him by Cook county to recover $7,200 in fees retained by Mr. Healy until the validity of the law can be determined is that the law which was signed by Gov. Yates May 10, 1901, was not the law which passed the house and the senate.

Says Change Was Unauthorized.

Before the final reading of the bill it was amended so that the section relating to the salaries of the judges should read $10,000 a year instead of $12,000. Then it was passed both by the house and the senate and sent to the governor for his approval.

Before it was signed, it is asserted by Mr. Healy, an engrossing clerk noticed the difference between the salaries of the judges and the state's attorney. A section of the constitution provides that the salaries of the judges shall not be less than that of the state's attorney. It is claimed by Mr. Healy that the clerk, without any action by either house or senate, changed the bill to read $10,000 for both judges and state's attorney.

If Judge Windes holds that an unauthorized change was made in the bill before the signature of the governor, Mr. Healy will argue that the section relating to the salary of the state's attorney is invalid and that that official acts now under the old fee system and not under the salary law.

Lawyers Differ on Question.

Attorney Frank L. Shepard and Assistant County Attorney Struckman, who represent the county in the proceedings, both asserted that if the contention of Mr. Healy is upheld the entire law will be vitiated and that the salaries of the judges will be decreased to the $7,000 they received before the passage of the law. There is a difference of opinion among judges and lawyers on that phase of the question, many holding that a section or even a portion of a section may be declared invalid without affecting the other parts of the law.

Origin of the Suit.

The suit before Judge Windes was brought by County Attorney Lewis to determine whether the fees of the office should be paid into the county treasurer or the county superintendent of schools. Since the passage of the law Mr. Healy has agreed to abide by the law even in the event of a decision by the courts declaring its provision regarding his office unconstitutional. He said in the afternoon that he would not accept more than the $10,000 allowed him by law.

DENEEN STIRRING PURE FOOD WORK.

Commission's New State Analyst to Tour Eastern States for Data for Statutes.

ACTION IS PERSONAL ONE.

Governor Declares Department No Longer Shall Be "Laughing Stock" for Its Inefficiency.

Gov. Deneen has taken a personal hand in directing the activities of the Illinois food department. He has determined that the Illinois commission no longer shall remain a "laughing stock" to those directing the food departments of other states, where satisfactory work has been done in guarding the consumers against adulterated food products.

The first step in improving the work of the department will be taken by Dr. Thomas J. Bryan, recently appointed state analyst to succeed Dr. E. N. Eaton. By direct orders from the governor Dr. Bryan will leave this morning on a tour of the eastern states for the purpose of studying the various pure food laws in operation in the east.

Will Seek Data for Laws.

He also will gather data on food standards and other information of value to be used in placing the Illinois food department on the highest possible basis of efficiency. Dr. Bryan's trip to the east is scheduled to consume two weeks, following which he will make a tour of Wisconsin, Minnesota, and North and South Dakota, where probably the best pure food laws in the union are in operation.

Dr. Bryan's observations of the workings of the laws and standards in the various states will be embodied in a report to the governor. From the data gathered it is believed a standard for food products in Illinois will be adopted, which will meet the requirements of a law designed to protect the interests of the consumers.

Takes Up Work in Chicago.

Dr. Bryan arrived in Chicago yesterday and began the duties of his office.

"I have held several conferences with Gov. Deneen on the subject of the work in the food department," he said. "The governor directed me to take a trip east to study the food laws in operation there. After the eastern trip I shall go northwest.

"Gov. Deneen is determined that the department shall be efficient. He told me that nothing short of the best work will be tolerated in the department. I have promised that nothing that I can do to place the department on a high grade of efficiency shall be left undone."

The governor's determination to take a hand in the matter came about as a result of THE TRIBUNE's pure food crusade and its exposé of the condition of inertia existing in the Illinois food department under the direction of A. Hanby Jones, who directed the work by telephone from Robinson, Ill.

Chicago Dealers to Be Prosecuted.

Commissioner Jones at present is busy prosecuting cases in the down state counties. Nearly sixty cases will have to be disposed of before a batch of forty cases of Chicago dealers can be taken up. Following is a list of Chicago dealers found to be selling adulterated food products:

Blair's tea store, 125 North Park avenue, Austin; Strawberry preserves; coal tar dye; glucose jelly.

Nissen Bros., 139 North Park avenue, Austin; ground black pepper; contains shells and sand.

J. H. Birk & Bro., 889 West North avenue; white vinegar; very low acid.

Mrs. L. Strauth, 1384 West North avenue; black raspberry preserves; Chicago Concentrating company; glucose.

C. Christenson, 925 North California avenue; black pepper; sand and black, corky tissues.

Richard Yates, 880 North California avenue; cherry preserves; Chicago Concentrating company; glucose, starch, and aniline.

Labor Asks to Aid Fight.

Suits against these dealers will be started next week. A committee of the Chicago Federation of Labor, headed by J. J. McAuliff and C. D. Wheeler, held a conference with Commissioner Jones in the afternoon. The committee sought information on how the labor federation could help in the pure food agitation.

Fatally Hurt by Street Car.

Charles Kaspar, 993 Central Park avenue, was knocked from a wagon by a street car last night at Kingsbury and Superior streets. He was taken to Alexian Brothers' hospital, where it was reported that his skull was fractured and that he probably would not recover.

NERVOUS?

Read This

"For five years I was so sick I could hardly walk across the floor, and was very weak and nervous," writes Miss Mattie Slusher, of Cambria, Va., "but after taking Cardui I found myself greatly relieved."

Do you worry about nothing? Startle at trifles? Feel irritable, peevish, sad and blue? Suffer from neuralgia, sick headache, dizziness, backache? If so, your nerves are stretched to the snapping point, like the strings of a fiddle twisted up out of tune, which screeches at the least touch. You are in a dangerous condition of health and need a medicine to take the strain off your nerves. If you are a woman, what has overstrung you is probably disordered functions, which makes more trouble, pain and nerve sickness than any other single cause. The thing to do is to follow the example, being set daily by thousands of women, and take the good, old, reliable remedy, with a record of 70 years of success, viz:

EIGHT MEMBERS FOR SECRECY.

By a vote of 8 to 6 Wednesday night the board of education rescinded its so-called anti-pull rule. There is no possible interpretation to be put upon this action which does not show it in an unfavorable light. If allowed to stand it will mean the substitution of secrecy for publicity respecting the reasons for school appointments. Or if it does not always mean this, it will mean the absence of any guaranty to the contrary. It will open the way for personal and political influences to be exerted covertly concerning such appointments. Such a step backward cannot be approved and should not be tolerated by the community.

The rule in question was adopted half a dozen years ago to free the schools from conditions which were scandalous and of long standing. It requires the superintendent, in recommending appointments, transfers, or promotions to the school management committee, to report all written or oral "communications received by him or any district superintendent or principal in connection" therewith. The committee must also forward these communications to the board in ratifying any such recommendations. In other words, the rule forbids board members and other persons, not from informing or advising the superintendent concerning candidates, but from trying to influence appointments in ways which they are not willing to have known. It is intended to shut the door against secret appeals or communications.

The rule was adopted as an essential part of a definite policy to have all candidates for school positions treated alike and treated on their merits. It was intended to prevent favorites from being boosted over the heads of others through the personal and secret intercession of some board member or other person. Looked at from any angle the course of the eight members wears a bad look. It is no answer to this criticism to say that board members should be credited with having the capacity to judge wisely about teachers. Granted that they have such capacity, they should not ask concealment in exercising it, and ask this in the face of the record of past abuses through such concealment.

The action of Wednesday night may have been taken in violation of the board's regular rules of procedure. Whether it was or not, it should not be allowed to stand. The Chicago school system should not and must not be deliberately exposed again to the evils of political pull, from which it once suffered so much.

ANOTHER HOLDUP.

The Liquor Dealers' Protective association has voted to raise the price of beer by the pint to 10 cents after the present month. The ostensible purpose is to make up the difference in the cost of licenses under the old and the new rates. The real purpose is to rouse such indignation among beer drinkers against the aldermen who voted for high license as will secure their retirement and the election of men pledged to low license fees in the future. The new council will be in power before May 1, when the new license law goes into effect, and could repeal or modify the law so that all the agitation of the last months might prove of no effect.

It ought to be plain to every one that in thus doubling the price of beer when sold by the can the saloonkeepers are robbing their customers. At present prices the profit on beer sold at 5 cents a pint is about 100 per cent. At 10 cents the profit would be 300 per cent. The increase in the cost of the license is $1.37 a day. With a profit on beer of 15 cents a quart the sale of nine quarts a day would pay for the difference in the cost of the license, and yet all day the saloonkeeper would be extorting the same high price from his customers. In many parts of Chicago beer is as much a part of the household supplies for the day as bread is. To take advantage of the present situation to put up the price is an unfair return to make for the steady patronage which already pays saloonkeepers a profit of 100 per cent on the least profitable part of their day's business. It must be remembered that the profit on beer sold by the glass, and also on all other liquors sold over the bar, is much greater than the profit on beer sold in the can.

It is to be hoped that the voters whose expenses are increased by this action will put the blame where it belongs. They are as much interested in having police protection for their homes and the lives of their families as any one, and high license was the only feasible way to secure it. If their alderman voted for high license he should receive the support of all decent citizens, whatever their views on the use of liquor. The man who believes in the use of liquor in moderation should be as ready as any one to see that the use of liquor in excess is the chief cause of crime and that it is fair to tax the sellers of liquor for the burden which they put upon the public. The proposed plan of making those who buy beer for family use pay for the police expenses incurred largely by selling whisky to toughs is wrong. Any pretext seems good for raising prices, but this is too transparent.

SPECIAL INTERESTS AND SENATORS.

The public knows that there are United States senators who represent special interests. It has seen reciprocity treaties defeated and salutary legislation thwarted because the treaty or the law was objectionable to a special interest which had senators to represent it. The public has seen special interests elect senators in order that they might have influential friends in congress.

Senator Foraker is not so well informed as the general public. The statement so often made that there are men on the floor of the senate who represent special interests offends him. He sees in it a scandalous reflection upon the character and dignity of what some of its members call the most distinguished legislative body on earth. He says there are no such senators, and that every senator when legislating is supposed to be governed only by his judgment as to what will be constitutional and of benefit to the country.

That is the supposition. The senator who believes that it is the universal practice of all his associates is the victim of a pleasing delusion. He cannot see what the public can, that there are senators whose judgments are governed and whose votes are dictated by railroads, or industrial corporations, or other special interests.

Senator Lodge is another senator who is unable to recognize palpable truths when they clash with his views of the lofty dignity of the senate. Senator Rayner said in his speech on the Hepburn rate bill, "I would advise the railroads, as their friend, to let the conflict cease." He knows, as does the public, that if the railroads did not resist the rate regulation measure it would slip through the senate without difficulty.

"Do you mean to say," interrupted Senator Lodge, "that the railroads can say what shall or shall not be? Are the railroads sitting as legislators?"

"I mean," said the senator from Maryland, "that if the railroads met tonight and agreed to strike out the words 'to suspend'"—authorizing the courts to suspend a rate fixed by the commission—"they would be struck out."

Pretty much everybody will agree with Senator Rayner. If a special interest were to withdraw its objection to legislation the senators who represented it would withdraw theirs. A measure which had seemed to them unconstitutional and not for the public good would become lawful and expedient.

No indignant assurances of senators to the contrary can change the disagreeable fact that there are senators who represent special interests, and that through them those interests often profoundly influence senatorial legislation. The railroads are not "sitting as legislators," but they have representatives who are.

BE GOOD, BE NOT TOO GOOD.

Secretary Taft, who has had enough experience in politics to give his words weight, has been giving some practical advice to the Roosevelt Republican club of Cincinnati. The essential part of it is the sentence: "The victory will be worse than useless unless some means are devised to make its effects permanent." The temptation to rest on one's arms after administering a crushing defeat to an adversary is natural but fatal. The lack of a definite organization to continue the good work is the cause of failure of many a movement which starts with every prospect of permanent success.

A victory of bolters or reformers over a machine is won through the temporary concentration of independent forces. The machine, as the name implies, has more unity, more permanence, and less thinking power. It will do what it is told to do. Mr. Taft advises young men who wish to see their high ideals realized in practical politics to identify themselves with a party organization. The organization is always at work. There may be no issue of importance before the voters, nothing to waken the enthusiasm of the independents, or to induce the indifferent to cast a ballot. On such an occasion the organization is always ready with its candidates. If a young man, or a group of young men, is not allied with the organization he has no voice in the choice of candidates. The offices to be filled may be minor ones; that is no reason why they should be turned over to grafters.

On the other hand, the American custom allows a certain right on the part of those who work hard for party success to reap a portion of the advantages of victory. A young man in politics who assumes a "holier than thou" attitude and claims all the offices for himself and the other members of his reform club, on the ground that they are the only disinterested candidates, may escape being called a hypocrite, but he can scarcely escape being called a fool. The young reformer may have one motive for desiring office, the old party worker may have another; so long as both are honest men and capable of performing the duties attached to the office neither should despise the other. When a machine becomes dangerous is when it nominates for office men whose past record or personal character makes them unfit for office. Mr. Taft suggests that this danger would arise less frequently if young men were as ready to seek to control the machine as they are to smash it. The idealist has a hard struggle against the practical politician, and the surest way to triumph is through the seizure of the enemy's weapons.

NO NEW SURFACE TRACKS.

In the early history of Chicago the steam railroads which desired to enter the city were not asked to come in on elevated tracks. Chicago was too eager to get railroads to impose severe conditions. Even if the people had foreseen the growth of the town and the loss of life that the surface tracks were to cause they would have been reluctant to compel the roads to adopt methods of construction insisted on abroad. Indeed, the roads had so little money that it was all they could do to get enough to pay for the cheapest kind of construction.

Even after it had become manifest that the steam railroad tracks would have to be elevated sooner or later the city authorities were guilty of the capital blunder of allowing some new roads to come in on grade. Subsequently it became necessary to pass ordinances to force the roads to do what they ought to have been made to do at the outset, and could have done then at less expense.

That was an error which should not be repeated. Henceforth no steam railroad should be permitted to lay new tracks on the surface within the corporate limits. For instance, there is a small road which would like to lay a surface track from the western limits to Western avenue. It should not be allowed to do it, and thus add to the number of grade crossings at which children and adults lose their lives. It is contended that much of the territory the road would traverse is vacant. The vacant territory of Chicago is being built up with startling rapidity.

It will be years before the existing grade crossings are eliminated. In the meantime no new ones should be created, thus compelling some future council to pass ordinances to get rid of them. New roads are welcome, but they should not be permitted to come in on the surface.

DEFECTS IN TELEPHONE SERVICE.

The council committee on gas, oil, and light will hear complaints today about the telephone service. A few users may take the trouble to register such complaints. Some have already done so by letter. The members of the committee, presuming them to be telephone users, must be fairly good witnesses themselves.

There are some telephone difficulties and annoyances for which the company is not accountable. It is not responsible for prolonged gossip over a line which some one else is anxiously waiting to use. It is not responsible when a careless subscriber causes the wrong party to be called up, or forgetfully leaves the receiver down, or interposes an ostentatious array of clerks and questions between himself and a call for him, or otherwise takes undue time in responding.

The main defects in the service are, however, chargeable to undue economies in administration—to an effort to reduce expenses. For instance, when an instrument is found to be out of order, usually it is not put in order until some time the next day. It would cost too much to have men on hand for executing repairs promptly. Nights and Sundays one may often wait almost indefinitely for central to respond. The girl has so many lines to attend to that she slights them all.

The telephone is a tremendous time saver. It is also a tremendous time waster through imperfect operation. To have too few trunk lines, too few operators, and too few repairers, and to make the busy signal do deceptive service when a line is out of order may mean dividends. It means injustice, however, to subscribers.

Offhand complaints before the committee may serve a purpose, but they will not lead the committee far into the interior facts and deficiencies of the telephone service. The operation of that service is not understood by the layman. If the committee is to hold itself out as having really dealt with the subject of complaints, it must have the advantage of thoroughgoing technical advice as to what and where the difficulties really are. The committee should guard itself against making any whitewashing report or superficial recommendation concerning the quality of the telephone service.

LETTER OF MARQUISE DE FONTENOY

Copyright: 1906: By the Marquise de Fontenoy

KING EDWARD has recently been placed in possession of a grewsome relic of one of his Stuart predecessors on the throne—namely, the lower portion of the vertebra, or fourth cervical, of King Charles I., and which had been severed by the ax at the time of his execution.

In 1813, when the coffin of the ill-fated monarch was accidentally discovered in the vaults of St. George's chapel at Windsor, George IV., then prince regent, caused the casket to be opened in his presence and in that of several other distinguished men, including Sir Henry Halford, who enjoyed the distinction of having been the medical adviser to no less than four British sovereigns. After the remains of King Charles, which were found in a marvelous state of preservation, had been carefully examined, the leaden coffin was soldered up again and it was only when this had been completed that the discovery was made that the portion of the vertebra to which I have referred above had been overlooked and left outside the casket.

The prince regent would not hear of the latter being opened again to replace the fragment of bone, but presented it to Sir Henry Halford, who was one of his great favorites.

◆

Sir Henry caused it to be inclosed in a case of lignum vitæ, lined with gold and with a Latin inscription inside the lid. He was proud of the relic and often showed it to friends and acquaintances. Quite recently old Lady Halford, widow of the grandson of Sir Henry Halford, realizing that at her death without issue the relic in question might find its way into the auction room, made up her mind that it would be the right thing to do to restore it to the royal family, from whom her husband's grandfather had received it. So she presented it to King Edward, who, accepting the gift, has caused it to be placed in a handsome silver box and has laid the latter on the coffin of Charles I. in the vaults of St. George's chapel, thus quietly signifying his disapproval of the ghoulish and assuredly sacrilegious practice of preserving as curios fragments of the remains of illustrious dead which should repose in hallowed tombs or graves.

◆

It is now become known that the failure of the project of a matrimonial alliance between King Alfonso of Spain and Duchess Marie Antoinette of Mecklenburg-Schwerin was due not to any lack of personal charm and beauty on the part of the young princess but to the timely warning which Queen Christina received of the terrible pecuniary embarrassments of the parents of the young duchess and of the huge load of their liabilities with which her son would be obliged to saddle himself if he married the girl in order to preserve them from the disgrace of the bankruptcy by which they have now been overtaken. Their debts exceed, it is said, $5,000,000, and are the result, it is claimed, of reckless extravagance.

It is but eighteen months ago that the Duke and Duchess Paul of Mecklenburg lost their eldest son in a particularly tragic manner through a midnight fall downstairs in his villa at Kiel, where he was stationed in connection with his naval duties, and owing to the fact that he bore the same name as his father, there was a good deal of confusion regarding the identity of the victim of the post-prandial accident, the cable dispatches from Europe announcing that it was Duke Paul the elder instead of the younger who had broken his neck.

◆

The now insolvent duke became a convert to the Roman Catholic church in order to marry Princess Marie Windischgraetz, and was obliged in consequence thereof to surrender his rights of succession to the throne of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, as well as his claims to the regency during the minority of his nephew, the present grand duke, to his younger brother. According to the terms of the arrangement then made he cannot, as a Roman Catholic, succeed to the grand ducal crown until all the other Protestant princes of his house have passed away. The princess for whom he made this sacrifice was one of the most lovely women in Europe a quarter of a century ago, and her beauty made a perfect furore in London when she spent a season there just after her marriage under the social ægis of the then princess of Wales, now Queen Alexandra.

Emperor Francis Joseph's decree granting what is known as "Hofzutritt," or admission to the imperial court, to the three sons of Count Goluchowski, the minister of foreign affairs and of the imperial house, and virtual chancellor of the dual empire, is an honor which has its disadvantages. For the publicity given to the distinction thus conferred has served to call attention to the fact that the three young counts, aged, respectively, 20, 18, and 14 years of age, do not possess the lineage to entitle them to presence at court, which is, therefore, conferred as an act of grace to them "ad personas," that is to say, for themselves only, and not for their descendants.

Some years ago the emperor, in recognition of the immense services rendered to the national finances of Austria and Hungary by the late Baron Nathaniel Rothschild and by his brother, Baron Albert, accorded to them a similar decree of "Hofzutritt," but did not extend it to Baron Albert's sons, who spent the greater part of last year in this country.

◆

Only those are entitled to this honor by right of birth who can show the proper number of nobiliary quarterings in their ancestry. In the case of an Austrian or Pole sixteen quarterings are exacted, whereas Hungarians are let off with half that number. In order to understand what this means it must be explained that the newly ennobled man possesses only one coat of arms. If he marries a wife of noble blood his son will quarter the arms of both parents. If that son marries a wife whose parents both had coats of arms the offspring of this union in turn will be entitled to quarter the arms of his four grandparents. If he marries a wife with corresponding heraldic qualifications his son will have eight quarterings and his son's son in turn will have the requisite number of sixteen. But if a man with sixteen quarterings should contract a mésalliance with a woman who is not entitled by birth to armorial bearings his son inherits nothing but the original shield of his family without any quarterings, and finds himself in the position of a novus homo, that is to say, the fabric of the family nobility must be built up again from the beginning, and meanwhile, until sixteen quarterings have again been reached, his descendants, male and female, are barred from all those prerogatives and offices open only to the real noblesse—that of the sixteen quarterings.

◆

The sons of Count Goluchowski lack the necessary number of quarterings owing to the ancestry of their mother. The latter is by birth a Princess Anna Murat. Her mother was Mlle. Berthier, granddaughter of Napoleon's famous but plebeian born field marshal of that name, whom he created prince and duke of Wagram. Countess Goluchowski's grandmother was Miss Caroline Fraser of Philadelphia, who had been the governess of the daughters of King Joseph Bonaparte at Bordentown, N. J., and, of course, Countess Goluchowski's great-grandfather, King Joachim Murat of Naples, had started out in life as a mere stable boy.

True, Countess Goluchowski has been appointed a lady of the palace and invested with the order of the star and cross, both of them dignities which, in the case of an Austrian born woman, are restricted exclusively to those possessed of sixteen quarterings. But the emperor sometimes makes exceptions in the case of foreign born women when there happen to be special reasons for his doing so. For instance, the ex-Countess George Larisch, daughter of the late empress' brother, Duke Louis of Bavaria, by his morganatic marriage with a Munich actress, was accorded both the star cross and the rank of a lady of the palace, of both of which honors she has since been deprived. Sometimes, however, the emperor shows himself strict towards foreigners, and the handsome Anglo-Belgian wife of the Austrian Prince Colloredo Mannsfeld, who, with her husband, visits America every year and who is extensively entertained in New York, has found the portals of the court of Vienna rigorously closed against her in consequence of her complete lack of the necessary genealogical qualifications.

A LINE-O'-TYPE OR TWO.

WHEN LITTLE CHILDREN SING

Ho, children sing as bees or birds,
With little heed for time or words,
Yet mystically they impart
The gladness that is in the heart—
They have no sense of rule or rhyme
Nor care for measure-beat of time;
They only sing
From their sheer joy in everything.

Some senseless sentence they have made
While carelessly they dreamed or played
They weave into a chanted glee
Wherein is all of melody,
And rapt of eyes and sweet of face
They make each spot a happy place.
We older ones
Would catch the childsong as it runs.

The child knows all the songs of earth—
And each song has its tone of mirth—
The child hears all the harmonies
Of rustling grass and windswept trees;
The chanting, humming girl or boy
Knows all the world's dim strain of joy
And bit by bit
The childsong holds and echoes it.

If you or I might tune our souls
To the true harmony that rolls
Above, below, and all around,
Our songs would lose their harsher sound;
We might, as little girls and boys,
Unconsciously sing to our toys—
Then I and you
Might strike one note that would ring true.

Perhaps the great triumphant chord
The angels sing before the Lord,
The dawnsong of the stars and suns
Is like the song of little ones—
Pure, sweet, untouched of skill or art,
But welling from the inmost heart
A perfect thing—
Such songs the little children sing.

QUESTION OF TRUSTS.

South Pasadena, Cal., March 10.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I see you state in your paper that I am in favor of combines or trusts. Any organization that makes a saving in producing the product is a blessing, because economy is human progress. If congress had done its duty and passed a law that every corporation that wanted to do business in two or more states must have a charter from the government, subject to government inspection, the same as national banks, they could not be overcapitalized, and the laboring people would then have confidence in stock and found a place to invest their savings.

Why is America the greatest nation on the globe? It is through its great organizations of railroads, forming great trunk lines, which enable the railroads to do business cheap and with great economy, for the rates in America are not one-fourth as high as in England and France, and by these great combinations we are enabled to produce cheaper than any nation on the globe.

Take India as an illustration. There they do things in a crude way, have no combinations and no great organizations for economy, unable to defend themselves, and are subject to the English government and most of the people are serfs—what we will be when we get to be socialists and all try to live without work.

Take the dressed beef firms. Before they were organized Texas was glad to sell its steers at $7 apiece, and now they want $40, because these great firms have found a market for their product that a small dealer could not have done. Small dealers could not afford to put in the machinery to utilize all the by-products, which in fact is the bulk of the profit of the great dressed beef firms. A man killing twenty head of cattle per week would have to make $10 per head to earn bread, while $1 per head is a great profit for the larger firms.

Now, it is a benefit to every man, woman, and child in the United States, and every man must see it unless he is governed by prejudices and jealousy, which the human family is much given to. Yours sincerely,

S. W. ALLERTON.

Physician Should Not Be Genius.

[From the London Mail.]

Sir Frederick Treves, the distinguished sergeant-surgeon to the king, in his rectorial address to the students of Aberdeen university, discussed the factors which appeared to make for professional success. Genius in its crude or native state was not wanted in the profession of medicine. Genius in a physician would be apt to give us flippancy, instantaneous diagnoses, the detection of disease by instinct, and other astounding phenomena which one attributed rather to the charlatan. In like manner brilliancy in a surgeon was a quality from which he might well pray to be saved. Health, serviceable knowledge, sympathy, and honesty claimed substantial positions as factors which made for distinction in a professional career.

Thousand Million Telephone Calls.

[From the London Graphic.]

Presiding at the half yearly meeting of shareholders in the National Telephone company Sir Henry Fowler said the number of messages transmitted during 1905 was 1,053 millions. To understand these figures shareholders should know that the number of inland telegrams transmitted by the postoffice was only 88 millions.

NEWS OF THE THEATERS.

Augusta Cottlow

Chicago Madrigal Club.

The Chicago Madrigal club was listened to last evening by an audience which placed a premium on seats in Music hall. Not an available place in the concert room was left unoccupied, and the work of Mr. Clippinger and his little company of twenty-nine was received with hearty approval. The approval was well deserved, for the Madrigal club has made remarkable improvement since its last concert. The singing last night was really of unusual beauty—singing which has prominent place among the best choral work that the season has brought us. And the Mendelssohns and the Apollos have not been idle during the last six months. The hardness in vocal quality which was noticed and noted at the first concert the club gave this winter was found last evening to have been entirely eliminated. The soprano voices were delightfully clear, true, and sweet, and the ease and surety with which the more delicate effects were obtained showed that some hard studying had been done and that it had placed the club's singing on a higher plane than it ever before had reached. The Madrigals have "arrived," and their concerts henceforth will have to be reckoned with in summing up the artistic worth of Chicago's musical activity.

Last evening the club sang some fourteen numbers, of which I was able to hear the first eight. These eight included an arrangement of Adolph Adam's "Comrades in Arms"; an excellently written and finely sung composition by Arthur Foote, entitled "Into the Silent Land"; Lund's "Swedish Folk Song," which is tuneful and pleased the audience; the ever charming Madrigal from "The Mikado," which brought home again a realization of how far present day light opera is from what it once was; Festa's quaint old "Down in a Flow'ry Vale"; Storch's "Night Witchery," which was exquisitely done by the club and was vocally the high point in the work of the evening so far as I heard; Von Wilm's pleasing part song, "The Clock" and John Hyatt Brewer's setting of the "Bedouin Love Song." The last named is the Madrigal which was awarded the Kimball prize in the contest established last year by the club. The new work failed to impress greatly. It is well made so far as technical construction is concerned, but it is lacking in melodic individuality, and its restless spirit, while in keeping with the nature of the text, seems more like unsteadiness and unevenness than like an impassioned utterance. The club sang the new number excellently, and the audience demanded a repetition.

The soloist of the evening was Bruno Steindel, our master 'cellist. Assisted by Mrs. Steindel at the piano, he contributed three numbers to the program. The first of these was the Allegro and Andante from the Richard Strauss Sonata, op. 6. It is a work which Mr. and Mrs. Steindel play with evident pleasure, and in nothing they do are they heard to better advantage. It is a work of distinct beauty, and in their [illegible] patient hands its every beautiful phrase [illegible] revealment.

Augusta Cottlow, the young pianist who during her childhood was well known here in Chicago as a prodigy but who since her return from Europe has played here only with orchestra, will give a recital in [illegible] theater tomorrow night. Miss Cottlow had the main portion of her musical education here from the veteran Carl Wolfsohn, and as a little girl was regarded as one of the most talented children ever heard in this country. Later she spent several years in Berlin studying with Busoni, and since her return has made her home in New York. For her recital tomorrow night she will play the following: [illegible] Sonata in D major, op. 28, Beethoven; Scherzo capriccioso, Mendelssohn; [illegible] Mazurka B flat minor, Nocturne D flat major, and Tarantelle, Chopin; Prelude, C sharp minor, Rachmaninoff; Rigaudon, Raff; and "Sposalizio" and "Mephisto-Waltz," Liszt.

◆

Tonight in Music hall a concert will be given by Emile Sauret, violinist; Waldemar Lütschg, pianist; Franz Wagner, 'cellist; Chris Anderson, baritone; and John B. Miller, tenor. The program consists of the Brahms Sonata in D minor, for piano and violin; the Sauret "Souvenir of Moscow," for violin solo; the Tschaikowsky A minor Trio, for piano, violin, and 'cello, and the following groups of songs: "Allerseelen," by Strauss; "Feldeinsamkeit," by Brahms; "Für Musik," by Franz, and "Morgenhymne," by Henschel, for tenor; and "Testament," by Duparc; "Le Mariage des Roses," by Franck; "Requiem," by Homer, and "Don Juan's Serenade," by Tschaikowsky, for baritone.

◆

The Thomas orchestra will hold its twenty-second public rehearsal this afternoon in Orchestra hall. The program Mr. Stock has arranged consists of the "Love's Springtime," Overture of Georg Schumann, the fourth Symphony of Glazounow, the Symphonic Variations of Stock, the "Forest Murmurs" from "Siegfried," and the Prelude to "Die Meistersinger."

◆

David Grosch, bass baritone, will give a song recital in the Recital hall of the Bush temple tonight. His program includes Schubert's "Aufenthalt" and "Rastlose Liebe," Strauss' "Traum durch die Dämmerung" and "Morgen," Liszt's "Es war ein König in Thule," Delibes' "Ecologue," Ries' "Come Forth" and "Most Wondrous Must It Be," Grieg's "Sunset," Hermann's "The Three Comrades," and "Amfortas' Lament," from "Parsifal."

GALA NIGHT FOR COOKS.

PRIZES OF SCHOOL OF DOMESTIC ARTS ARE AWARDED.

Gold and Silver Medals Given to Servants with Long Records in Single Families—Dainty Foods Are Sampled by Judges and Premiums Are Received by the Makers of the Various Dishes Displayed at the Annual Exhibition.

Carriages, broughams, opera buses, coupés, and hansoms rattled over the cobblestones; elevated trains, with light flashing from the wheels, rumbled over the frozen rails and stopped at the corner; cable cars clanged into State street and clattered to a standstill before the entrance; in twos and threes burly figures bustled over the snowy sidewalk in all directions, to appear suddenly out of the darkness in the strip of light that swept from the entrance of the School of Domestic Arts and Science to the street. The flower of Chicago's cooks was coming to receive medals for a term of years of faithful service.

An automobile whirled into State street and lumbered up to the curb. A portly woman threw open the door and stepped into the stream of light.

"Jawn," she cried, "Jawn, why didn't ye have the goodness to open the door for me, when you know I'm all a-fluster like a bride on her weddin' day? A foine chaffaur ye are, Jawn! Now, Jawn, come down out of there—I want to tell ye wher' ye'll stand.

Merely Getting His Bearings.

"Do I look all a-fluttered, Jawn? Now wait till I git me bearings. Ah, now I have it—ye see them moinkeys in that window. Ye do, eh? Well, ye back up into that alley and when I com' out I'll look fer them monkeys. Ye'll stand right there, won't ye, Jawn? and moind ye, if ye don't ye'll not git any hot rolls fer yer breakfast, moind ye that, Jawn."

The portly woman moved toward the entrance.

"O, Jawn, wait a minnut," came the agitated understone as she turned back and an outstretched, mitted hand grasped the brass handle of the auto door. "Turn up the lights, Jawn, th' interior lights—that pesky, blustering wind set me bonnet awry, and if there is one thing I have it is percision in sich matters. I'll not be over a minnut. I want to fix it by th' mirror."

A moment later she swept through the open doorway of the building at 39 State street. A bonnet was set far back over hair that was parted in the middle and drawn closely around a round face, the chin was titled above a black [illegible].

Prizes Awarded to Cooks.

In the lights up the bonnet took a place in a circle of other bonnets formed around Lynden Evans, who stood on a chair, awarding gold and silver medals to the servants who had earned them through long service with their present employers.

"Joanna Wren," announced Speaker Evans, "it is a pleasure to award you this gold medal. You hold the record for long service and you are to be congratulated."

Joanna Wren, her face wreathed in smiles, stepped forward and received the token. She had won the medal by serving thirty-six years in the employ of Mrs. K. E. Morgan, 1901 Barry avenue. One after another the holders of the records for long service stepped forward and accepted their honors. In order they came forward as follows:

Katherine Ledtia, for thirty-four years' service in the family of Mrs. Elizabeth D. Keen.

Ella Dixon, for thirty-two years' service in the John A. Getty household.

Kate Dolezal, for thirty-one years' service with Mrs. B. J. Carpenter, La Grange.

Mary Henderson, for thirty-one years' service with Mrs. C. A. Chapman, 85 Rush street.

Elizabeth Johnson, for thirty years' service with Mrs. Chamberlain, 6542 Kimbark avenue.

Nellie Finnen, for twenty-eight years' service with Mrs. John Mason Loomis, 55 Lake Shore drive.

Mary Rand, for twenty-five years' service with Mrs. Henry H. Brown, 206 Ashland boulevard.

Prizes for Long Service.

The awarding of the long service medals was the chief event of the evening at the annual housekeepers' exhibition at the School of Domestic Arts and Science. During the afternoon thousands of housekeepers thronged through the rooms of the school inspecting the cookery of the cooks employed in some of the Chicago homes.

Prizes were taken by Mrs. Marshall Field's cook, Mrs. Stanley Field's cook, Mrs. J. Ogden Armour's cook, Mrs. Frank O. Lowden's cook, Mrs. George M. Pullman's cook, Mrs. Ferd W. Peck's cook, Mrs. Clarence Peck's, Mrs. John S. Field's, Mrs. John Mason Loomis', and Mrs. Frank R. Chandler's.

ADVERTISE IN THE TRIBUNE

GREAT BILLIARDS BY POGGENBURG.

New Yorker Sets High Run at 112 and Averages Over 16, Beating Wright.

DEMAREST'S EASY TASK.

Chicagoan Wins from Norris by Wide Margin of 300 to 129 in C. A. A. Tourney.

STANDING OF THE PLAYERS.

	W.	L.	High run.	High average.
Poggenburg	3	0	112	16 12-18
Gardner	3	0	88	13 14-22
Demarest	2	1	83	11 14-26
Wright	1	2	111	13 14-22
Conklin	0	3	56	9 18-21
Norris	0	3	50	8 11-21

J. F. Poggenburg, the New Yorker, gave his competitors in the national amateur billiard tournament something to shoot at yesterday when he defeated H. A. Wright 300 to 160 with a high run of 112 and an average of 16 12-18. The high run beats that of 111 made by Wright against Norris, and the average stands as the best of the tournament up to date. In the other afternoon game Demarest beat Norris 300 to 129. Gardner won from Conklin in the night match, 300 to 207.

Big runs and a big average were expected when Poggenburg and Wright got together, as the men are expert nursers, but it was not expected Wright's run of 111 would be surpassed. The Frisco expert's known ability to crack out runs of three figures made him a slight favorite, and when he made two runs of 32 in his third and fourth innings phenomenal billiards was expected from him. His second run of 32, however, was surpassed in the same inning by "Pog," who rapped out 39.

High Run in Eleventh.

There was a general slowing up until the tenth inning, at the end of which the score stood, Wright, 81; Poggenburg, 72. In his eleventh time Poggenburg took advantage of an easy leave and began knocking out caroms. He held the ivories at the head of the table until he had picked up 65 before he lost control of them.

Several open table shots brought the balls in line for position at the lower end of the table, and at 77 he again had them under control. He dallied with them as he did at the head of the table, with an occasional long drive. They got away from him at 108, compelling a move toward the head of the table again, where he picked up four more caroms and retired on a rather difficult left hand single cushion shot. The collection was undoubtedly the finest ever witnessed in a tournament, as it was made up of all sorts of billiards and the player was cheered loudly.

Wright Keeps His Nerve.

The run did not feaze Wright in the least, as he replied with a neat bunch of 28, and a few innings later added 36, but it was not in him to beat Poggenburg, who kept up a record breaking clip with runs of 31, 28, and 40, and finished the game with a run of 14. Scores:

Poggenburg—20, 3, 0, 39, 1, 0, 0, 0, 9, 0, 112, 2, 31, 28, 40, 0, 1, 14. Total, 300.
High runs, 112, 40, 39, 31. Average, 16 12-18.
Wright—1, 2, 32, 32, 4, 2, 1, 1, 1, 5, 0, 28, 2, 2, 1, 1, 36, 1. Total, 160.
High runs, 36, 32, 32. Average, 8 16-18.

Demarest Defeats Norris.

Calvin Demarest experienced little difficulty in beating Charles Norris in the first afternoon game, the score when the Chicagoan clicked off his last carom being: Demarest, 300; Norris, 129.

The youngster got into the running at the outset by winning the bank and making 22 on the break. He was going along rapidly until he fell down unexpectedly on a fine single cushion shot by an overdose of natural "English." He did not get started again until his fifth time up, when, after amassing 25 beautiful caroms he "flopped" on an easy plain shot. His sixth inning netted him 16, and Norris, who had pegged out a measly 3 points, answered with 29, which proved to be his best run of the game.

Charles worked in two runs of 12 in the next few innings, which brought him within nineteen points of the local boy. That, however, was as near as he ever got to him, as Demarest gathered 27 in his thirteenth inning and followed it three innings later with a bunch of 43, the call at this stage being: Demarest, 155; Norris, 88.

Long Lead for Demarest.

Norris diminished this lead one point, in the next four innings, but when Demarest, by splendid billiards, gathered 66, the New Yorker was up against it, as the run gave Calvin a lead of 112.

Norris' best effort thereafter was 12, while the youngster picked up his required 60 points in the next five innings. Norris had considerable trouble with his cue tip, as he miscued repeatedly. He outplayed Demarest in open table work, but the youngster excelled at close work. Scores:

Demarest—22, 2, 1, 7, 25, 16, 1, 3, 4, 2, 1, 0, 27, 1, 0, 43, 9, 1, 9, 0, 66, 17, 1, 10, 15, 17. Total, 300.
High runs, 66, 43. Average, 11 14-26.
Norris—2, 1, 0, 0, 0, 29, 8, 12, 0, 12, 0, 0, 1, 12, 0, 11, 0, 1, 15, 2, 2, 1, 8, 12, 0. Total, 129.
High run, 29. Average, 5 4-25.

Gardner Wins from Conklin.

A lineup on the short rail after a run of 88 deprived Edward Gardner of the opportunity to beat Poggenburg's run of 112 and average of 16 12-18 in Gardner's match with Conklin last night, in which Gardner won, 300 to 207. The New Jersey expert was going great guns when he made his high run, playing each shot to perfection, and as he plucked eighty-two caroms from all over the table in his fifth innings, it was expected he would play the record game of the tournament.

He manipulated the ivories beautifully in his first large run, and when he began cracking them out in the twelfth session the spectators expected to see all amateur records smashed. He started and finished the run at the head of the table, and by careful nursing, excellent short and long drives, intermingled with draws, masses, cushion and bank shots, he amassed eighty-eight.

Misses by Narrow Margin.

His eighty-eighth carom, a drive around the table for position, was perfect, but the balls lined up on the short rail near the corner, which necessitated his playing either a masse or a four cushion shot. He deliberated for some time, then concluded to go to the cushions, and missed by a narrow margin. That lost him the opportunity to beat Poggenburg's run, but as he had 269 points to his credit at the end of the twelfth inning his chances of beating the best average were rosy, but the hard luck which ended his big run evidently took the fever out of him, as he plugged away for ten innings before he clicked off his last carom. Conklin did not catch his stride until the ninth inning, in which he collected twenty, and followed it with fifty-two and twenty-six, which let him out, as two runs of eleven and one of fourteen were his best thereafter. Scores:

Gardner—0, 46, 1, 2, 82, 1, 17, 0, 0, 17, 15, 88, 1, 3, 1, 0, 0, 7, 6, 2, 6, 5. Total, 300.
High runs, 88, 82. Average, 13 14-22.
Conklin—4, 17, 1, 14, 12, 1, 6, 1, 20, 52, 26, 1, 1, 0, 11, 0, 14, 6, 2, 11, 7. Total, 207.
High runs 52, 26. Average, 9 18-21.

The schedule today is: Conklin and Norris at 12:30 p. m.; Demarest and Wright at 3:00 p. m.; Gardner and Norris at 8 p. m.

Hoppe Leads Gallagher.

New York, March 15.[Special.]—Reinforced by a new tip on his cue, William Hoppe played vastly improved billiards tonight in his 2,000 point contest with Tom Gallagher, in which Hoppe is playing 18.1 balk line to his opponent's 18.2. The young champion averaged close to 28, made two runs of over 100, and took the lead for the first time. Score: Hoppe—444; average, 27 12-16; high runs, 143, 104, 51; total for three nights, 1,200. Gallagher—219; average, 13 11-16; high runs, 58, 53, 20; total for three nights, 1,019.

Barkley Leads Amateur Marksmen.

Des Moines, Ia., March 15.—John Burmister of Spirit Lake won the diamond badge handicap event at the Iowa state shoot today. L. R. Barkley of Chicago was high gun in the amateur class in the second day's shoot, scoring 189 out of 200. He was beaten for high gun by W. R. Crosby of O'Fallon, Ill., an expert, who scored 190. Fred Gilbert of Spirit Lake, champion trap shot of the world, was elected president of the Iowa association. Gilbert is sick with rheumatism and may never shoot again.

BIG SCORES MARK GAMES.

FAVORITES WIN EASILY IN BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT.

Evanston, West Side, and Central Y. M. C. A.'s, and the Lewis Institute Fives Qualify to Continue in the Central A. A. U. Championships at Evanston — Semi-Finals Will Be Played Tonight—Muscatine Puts Up Good Struggle Before Defeat.

The preliminary matches of the Central Y. M. C. A. basketball championships, played at the Evanston Y. M. C. A. last night, offered no surprises, the four favorites being easy winners.

Evanston Y. M. C. A. defeated Northwestern college, 49 to 22; West Side Y. M. C. A. defeated Hull house, 50 to 24; Central Y. M. C. A. defeated Company C of Muscatine, Ia., 44 to 21, and Lewis institute defeated the Portage, Wis., five, 55 to 14.

The result of last night's contests will bring the Evanston and West Side Y. M. C. A.s together in the semi-finals tonight, while the Central Y. M. C. A. and Lewis institute will play the other semi-final. The winners of tonight's play will meet for the first and second places tomorrow night, while the losers will contest for the third and fourth places.

In the Evanston-Naperville game the college five started the scoring with a free throw and counted 3 points before Berggren cut in and made the first field basket of the game.

Naperville caused the Evanston fans some anxiety by netting several more baskets and playing the Evanston forwards so closely they could do nothing for several minutes. All through the first period the points were divided evenly, and no man showed any particularly brilliant work.

Evanston Improves Its Play.

In the second session Evanston found its stride and played faster and more consistently, running all around the college men. The Naperville men were over weight and towards the end of the second half they were running flat footed, making little or no effort to keep the score down.

Berggren showed his class by making the majority of the baskets. Joe Baker ran him a close second in the matter of point gathering, but his play was not as spectacular as that of his captain. Lineup:

Evanston [49].		Naperville [22].
Berggren	Left forward	Schauver
R. Baker, Osborne	Right forward	Krug
J. Baker	Center	Scheuller
Albertson	Right guard	Schwab

Baskets—Berggren [9], J. Baker [7], Scheuller [4], R. Baker [3], Lipp, Albertson, Owens, Krug, Osborne. Free throws—Lipp [4], J. Baker [2], Owens [2], Scheuller [2], Krug, Schauver. Referee—Byrnes.

West Side Y. M. C. A. had an easy victory over the Hull house team, winning 50 to 24. The first ten minutes looked like a whitewash for the little Hull house players, as the west side cracks guarded them so closely that they had to deliver the ball before they were set.

Crowd Roots for Hull House.

Hull house had the sympathy of the crowd on its side, however, and when Bernstein threw the first basket he was given a rousing cheer. West Side soon had the game well in hand and began to loaf. Hull house took advantage of this and crept up in the score. The alertness with which the Hull house players followed the ball deserved the praise they received.

For awhile West Side was forced to work hard to keep the lead, but finished the half in listless fashion. Lineup:

West Side [50].		Hull House [24].
Haebick	Right forward	Behr
Palmer	Center	Bernstein
Schmidt	Right guard	Labeau
Guild	Left guard	C. Wolfe

Baskets—C. Wolfe [4], Haebick [7], Palmer [9], Bernstein [2], Wolfe [2], Touzlin [2], Behr, Labeau. Free throws—Touzlin [11], Behr [2], Wolfe. Referee—Burns. Time of halves, 20 minutes.

Plucky Fight by Muscatine.

Muscatine, the undefeated team from Iowa, put up a plucky fight against the Central aggregation. The visitors showed many flashes of speed and phenomenal basket throwing, which did not show in the final score, but created a good impression.

It was evident there were weak spots in the Central team and many of its supporters were surprised at its poor showing in speed. The strongest feature of Central's work was the passing, which was reduced to clocklike accuracy. Lineup:

Central [44].		Muscatine [21].
Reincke	Right forward	Kautz
Moller	Left forward	Fuller
Lang	Center	Garrischer
Imannhausen	Right guard	Hinnifick
Pockert	Left guard	Fifer

Baskets—Reincke [5], Moller [8], Lang [3], Imannhausen [2], Kautz, Fuller [4]. Free throws—Kautz [8], Fifer [2], Reincke [7]. Points awarded—Muscatine, 1; Central, 1.

Fast Game Won by Lewis.

The fastest game of the series was that between Lewis Institute and the Portage (Wis.) team, and it gave an impression that Lewis will stand a good show for the championship. The overwhelming score of 55 to 14 gave no indication of the strength of the Wisconsin men, who were swift and accurate to the finish. The game was the cleanest of the series and much is expected of Lewis when it bucks the Central team tonight. Lineup:

Lewis Institute [55].		Portage [14].
Falls	Right field	Rawson
Hoffman	Center	Ebert

Baskets—Falls [4], Watson [18], Hoffman [3], Page, Rennacker [8], Mahin, Ebert [2], Hinickle. Free throws—Falls [6], Rawson [6]. Point awarded—Lewis, 1. Referee—Byrne. Umpire—Childs.

GANS GIVES AWAY TEN POUNDS.

Will Meet Mike Sullivan Tonight at a Disadvantage in Weights—Betting Favors Joe Slightly.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 15.—[Special.]—Tomorrow night Joe Gans and Mike Sullivan will meet for the third time, the articles calling for a twenty round bout at 142 pounds, weigh in at 6 o'clock. The battle is receiving attention because Gans has gone out of the lightweight class and will meet Sullivan in the welterweight division.

Heretofore Gans has refused to fight at over 133 pounds, but has failed to get any matches, and finally agreed to give Sullivan a return match. Both boys ceased training today. Sullivan will outweigh Gans by at least ten pounds when they step into the ring. Gans has trained for condition without regard to weight, and today tipped the beam at 132 pounds, while Sullivan scaled at 144 pounds.

Despite the difference in weight, Gans rules a slight favorite at odds of 10 to 9, but there has been a marked slighting of the betting, owing to the uncertainty of the fight being held. Eddie Graney will referee the bout if his recent illness does not prevent his appearing. In that event Jeffries will be substituted. Sullivan is taking all the Gans money he can find, and it is probable that they will enter the ring at even money.

"Kid" Attell Wins on a Foul.

Baltimore, Md., March 15.—[Special.]—After being badly pounded by "Kid" Attell of this city, Tony Moran of New York lost the decision in the third round on a deliberate foul tonight before the New Era Athletic club. The contest, while it lasted, was a hurricane affair, with Attell having the better of the battle by a wide margin. Attell, with a heavy right swing, split Moran's ear, and followed it with a right and left to the jaw in the second round. In the third round Attell began to punish Moran badly, and when the latter saw that he was losing the contest he deliberately fouled Attell twice, and was disqualified.

Results of Peoria Bouts.

Peoria, Ill., March 15.—[Special.]—In two fast ten round bouts tonight Otto Sieloff of Chicago won over Milt Kinney of Alton and George Williams of Chicago was given the decision over "Kid" Taylor of this city. Two good preliminaries resulted in a knockout of Bob Akers by the "Milwaukee Kid" and a knockout of Denny Carr by "Young" Furey.

FAMOUS TROTTERS GO TO FARM.

Lou Dillon and John A. McKerron May Never Be Raced Again—Leave Cleveland Tomorrow.

Cleveland, O., March 15.—[Special.]—Lou Dillon, the champion trotter; John A. McKerron, the famous stallion; Harry McKerron, a promising 5 year old son of John A. McKerron, and a filly by Egon Star will be shipped from the Glenville track on Saturday to Pat Shanks' farm at Litchfield, O. These turf stars may never be seen again at the famous racetracks. John A. McKerron will spend this season on Shanks' farm.

Lewis Relay Team Picked.

Lewis institute track candidates under Instructor Wheeler held a tryout yesterday at Bartlett gymnasium for the relay race to be run at the Illinois Athletic club's charity meet. Eight men ran a quarter each and the time was better than that registered in some of the meets at the gymnasium. Morris and Vickery made the best time. Both were well under :58. The following are the times of the six men selected: Vickery, :57 1-5; Nicholls, :58 4-5; Morris, :57 4-5; Graves, :58 3-5; McMullen, :60 4-5; Johnson, :60 2-5.

WEARY JOURNEY FOR NATIONALS.

Spend Twelve Hours in Car Traveling to New Camp at Champaign.

ARE NOT AFRAID OF SNOW

Lundgren, Beebe, and Rothgeb Join Their Teammates at University City.

Champaign, Ill., March 15.—[Special.]—After a weary day spent in a railroad coach, Manager Chance and the Chicago Nationals piled off the train here tonight at 9 o'clock, mighty glad to put their feet on solid ground again.

A city covered with snow greeted the big leaguers, but the weather was not any worse than bracing, and Manager Chance asserted the sight of the snow did not scare him a little bit. "I never saw a bunch start out with such spirits," he said. "With anything like favorable weather this will be a dandy place for us to train."

Carl Lundgren, looking fine and fit after a month's work in the Illinois gymnasium, greeted his teammates, and Pitcher Pfeffer, who was traded to the Boston Nationals, also was there shaking hands. Beebe, the former Illinois pitcher, familiarly known to his college mates as "the man with the iron arm," who is a new pitching recruit, also was on hand along with "Big" Rothgeb, the Illinois football and baseball player who is to have a tryout as an outfielder by the Nationals. Beebe and Rothgeb have been training for several weeks.

George Huff Optimistic.

Manager Chance has only one regret—that all the indoor work will have to be on a wood floor—but the Illini have meet with success practicing on the floor, and the disadvantage will not be great. Light work is the program for the players tomorrow. They will be introduced to the university gymnasium, where they will do some exercising.

The series of practice games with the collegians does not begin until March 26, so the Nationals will have plenty of time in which to limber up. Director George Huff is optimistic concerning the weather, and expects to get outdoors next week. Today he had men clearing the snow off the Illinois field diamond. This is a model diamond, well drained, and it will not suffer from the damp.

The players had an arduous day. They left West Baden at 9 a. m. and got into Crawfordsville at 1:30 p. m. They expected to connect with a train due in the twin cities at 3:40 p. m., but missed connections. The special car was sidetracked at the Hoosier town, and the journey was not resumed until 6:15 p. m.

Schulte Gives an Opera.

The players remained in their car most of the afternoon, and cards were the principal amusement, although several daring ones went forth for walks.

The rendition of a "hiafiutin' opera," entitled "Ginger," by Frank Schulte, was a feature. Johnny Kling, Art Hoffman, and "Bull" Smith are expected tomorrow. The team is housed at the Beardsley hotel. Manager Chance, Tinker, Wicker, and Slagle were here four years ago with Frank Selee.

WHITE SOX GO TO THE RACES.

New Orleans Gymnasium Closed to Them Because Mack's Athletes Abused Courtesies.

New Orleans, La., March 15.—[Special.]—The thirteen White Sox found badges for the Fair Grounds in their boxes at the hotel this morning and gladly accepted the courtesies. There was nothing else to do. The baseball field was too wet for use, and the janitor of the Young Men's Gymnastic club, where visiting ball players have been wont to take their baths, had been given restrictive orders.

Whether the day at the races was of physical or financial benefit to the ball players subsequent stories may reveal.

One of the attractive features of New Orleans as a spring training camp has been spoiled, it is said, by the roughhouse tactics of Connie Mack's Athletics. The Young Men's Gymnastic club is one of the finest athletic homes in the south. Clubs coming here for spring practice have been given free use of its baths, dressing rooms, and gymnasium with the simple restriction that when the players were in uniform they should use the back door in going and coming. Mack's players were put up as usual during the recent visit, but it is charged they abused the hospitality of the club by making "roughhouse" in the café, insulting members, abusing attendants, parading through the parlors with their spikes on, crowding members out of the pool, and committing other breaches of hospitality.

Secretary Fredericks and Manager Jones knew nothing of this, and when they applied, as usual, for cards for the players today they were dumbfounded.

"I am sorry," said Secretary Heyl, "but by order of the house committee the privileges of this club will hereafter be denied to professional baseball clubs."

The explanation was forthcoming in the form of a bitter arraignment of the Philadelphia players, who were here last week. "I am sorry this order affects the Chicago White Sox, who have always behaved like gentlemen here," he added.

Manager Frank of the New Orleans club was appealed to and a modification of the rule was secured. Individual cards were issued to the White Sox, provided each be properly vouched for by two members of the Young Men's Gymnastic club and make their visits in street attire.

The privileges of the Gymnastic club for years have been the chief incentive for baseball managers to send teams here for spring practice. With this athletic club, with all its modern facilities and appliances, closed to professional players, New Orleans might as well be taken off the spring training chart.

The White Sox will commence work at the ball park tomorrow. The grounds have dried out, and there is a prediction of bright and pleasant weather. A game with Frank's Pelican's is scheduled for Sunday. The practice hours are to be from 9 to 11 a. m and from 3 to nightfall.

ANSONS WIN STRENUOUS GAMES

Average 1,027 2-3 and Twice Defeat Edelweiss Five in Monroe Bowling League Tournament.

In these days of strenuous bowling even four figure averages are uncertain. Although notching 1,025 1-3 in the Monroe league last night, the Edelweiss five dropped two games to the Anson's, who counted 1,027 2-3. A. H. Medwtzky led the losers with 228 1-3. Four of the Anson players averaged over the double century mark. In the other series the Halls twice defeated the Hemmers. Woodbury averaged 215 1-3 and brought his general average over 200.

CHAOS IN BADGER'S CAMP.

GRADUATE MANAGER DOWNER OF WISCONSIN RESIGNS.

No Plans Made for a Successor, but the Faculty Desires a Man to Take Charge of All Athletics, Similar to Stagg's Position at University of Chicago—Retiring Official Pays Off Debts of $6,000 and Leaves a Balance of $2,000.

Madison, Wis., March 15.—[Special.]—Graduate Manager George F. Downer sent his resignation to the board of regents today. The reason he ascribed for the resignation is that athletics are in such an uncertain condition at Wisconsin that he saw no opportunity for advance. Mr. Downer has not made known his future plans further than the announcement that he intends to go into business.

Mr. Downer has been manager of athletics at Wisconsin since 1904, succeeding Charles Kilpatrick. During this time he has paid off $6,000 in debts and leaves office with nearly $2,000 in the treasury. No definite plans have been made as to his successor. Harry Brewer of Janesville and Harvey Holmes, director of athletics at the University of Southern California, have been mentioned.

It is said the faculty intends to employ a man who will have complete charge of all athletics as Coach Stagg does at Chicago. Under present conditions it is doubtful if a capable man could be secured, for it is understood the salary limit will be $2,500. The faculty is opposed to a high salaried athletic director.

Bemis Pierce will not coach the Wisconsin baseball team this year. Today he signed a contract with Minneapolis and will report for duty this month.

RICKEY PROVES GOOD MUDDER.

Captures Six Furlong Handicap Over Sticky Track at City Park—Bon Mot Is Successful.

New Orleans, La., March 15.—[Special.]—The City Park Jockey club presented the lightest card of the meeting today and it was run over a track fetlock deep in sticky mud. The six furlong handicap was scratched down to four starters, Minnie Adams, Bric-à-Brac, and Principia being notable absentees. Principia found a softer spot farther along in the card.

The mile condition race was reduced to three starters. Garnish, with 114 pounds up, was made a lukewarm odds on favorite, but was a bad last at the end. He showed the way for three-quarters of a mile, but stopped all over in the final quarter. Bon Mot took up the running. Kleinwood gave him a stout argument and the finish came none too soon for Bon Mot, which staggered home winner by half a length. Summaries:

First race, 7-16 mile, selling—Tom Dolan, 111 pounds [Nicol], 11 to 10, won; Vendido, 111 [C. Morris], 10 to 1, second; Beau Brummel, 111 [Troxler], 9 to 2, third. Time, :44.

HANDICAP IS WON BY ST. VALENTINE.

Shields' Entry Beats Cigarlighter by a Length at Fair Grounds.

HARD RACE TO VAN NESS.

Favorite Barely Manages to Score Victory Over Lady Henrietta in the Sprint.

New Orleans, La., March 15.—[Special.]—Willie Shields took Riedmore out of the handicap at the Fair Grounds today and placed his sole dependence on St. Valentine. Redfern was posted to ride St. Valentine, but Jack Martin was substituted. It was not a bad guess all around.

St. Valentine won like the best of the lot, running over Footlights Favorite in the middle ground and then racing down Cigarlighter, which proved to be the only contender. He was home first by a length. Martin took excellent care of him, also of the balance of the field.

Van Ness was favorite in the six furlong sprint, but he did not win like one. It was a hard race between him and the second choice, Lady Henrietta. Van Ness barely managed to save the purse by a head. Arabo was a good third.

Third Alarm should have won the fifth race, but L. Smith could not keep him straight. He was disqualified for interfering with Polly Prim in the stretch after he had finished second. Polly Prim could not have won, although she ran an excellent race.

Martin got everything out of Balshed in the half mile for 2 year olds, and by sheer force of riding got him first by a neck from Blackburn. Salvisa was one of which most was expected, but L. Smith rode a poor race on her and refused to take any kind of a chance. Summaries:

First race, ½ mile, selling—Balshed, 114 pounds [J. Martin], 4 to 1, won; Blackburn, 102 [W. Hayes], 13 to 5, second; Salvisa, 115 [L. Smith], 2 to 1, third. Time, :51.

Second race, ¾ mile—Van Ness, 118 pounds [Obert], 1 to 3, won; Lady Henrietta, 107 [L. Smith], 13 to 5, second; Arabo, 109 [W. Robbins], 16 to 1, third. Time, 1:17 4-5.

Third race, 1 mile and 70 yards—Katie Powers, 100 pounds [Moreland], 15 to 1, won; Canyon, 105 [Bedell], 18 to 5, second; Aurumaster, 107 [Obert], 9 to 1, third. Time, 1:49 4-5.

Fourth race, 1 1-16 miles, handicap—St. Valentine, 111 pounds [J. Martin], 9 to 5, won; Cigarlighter, 98 [Moreland], 2 to 1, second; Little Scout, 106 [Livingston], 13 to 1, third. Time, 1:52 2-5.

Fifth race, ¾ mile—Deux Temps, 102 pounds [W. Hayes], 7 to 2, won; Third Alarm, 110 [L. Smith], 8 to 5, finished second but was disqualified; Polly Prim, 98 [Obert], 4 to 5, second; Shipwreck, 97 [Warren], 100 to 1, third. Time, 1:17.

Sixth race, 1 mile and 20 yards—Hortensia, 110 pounds [W. Hayes], 4 to 1, won; Water Pansy, 109 [Bedell], 12 to 1, second; Katharine L., 85 [Belac], 100 to 1, third. Time, 1:50.

EXCITEMENT AN EASY WINNER.

Captures Hot Springs Feature, Leading All the Way—Six Favorites Successful on Muddy Track.

Hot Springs, Ark., March 15.—[Special.]—Excitement, from the stable of Ed Trotter & Co., captured the feature race at the Oaklawn track today. Cutter was second and Aaron J. finished third. Only four horses started in the event and Excitement, cleverly rated by Cherry, led the field throughout. The course was a sea of mud, and the six favorites won. Radtke piloted three horses to victory. Summaries:

First race, ⅝ mile—Merlingo, 105 pounds [Radtke], 7 to 10, won; Kizil, 100 [Downing], 6 to 1, second; Towner, 105 [Dennison], 3 to 1, third. Time, 1:17.

Second race, 7-16 mile—Maxim Gorky, 115 pounds [Radtke], 9 to 10, won; Margaret Morris, 115 [Hildebrand], 20 to 1, second; Duchess of Dantzic, 115 [Mountain], 30 to 1, third. Time, :44 2-5.

Third race, 13-16 mile—Excitement, 93 pounds [Cherry], 6 to 5, won; Cutter, 112 [Sewell], 14 to 5, second; Aaron J., 117 [Radtke], 5 to 2, third. Time, 1:22 3-5.

Fourth race 1 mile—Cottage Maid, 103 pounds [Radtke], 6 to 5, won; Sambo, 111 [Cherry], 8 to 1, second; Fra Fillipo, 98 [Callus], 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:45.

Fifth race, ½ mile—Tres Joli, 111 pounds [Sewell], 11 to 10, won; Jacoma, 113 [Cherry], 13 to 10, second; Biawawi, 107 [Mountain], 60 to 1, third. Time, :51.

Sixth race, 1 1-16 miles—Tristan Shandy, 102 pounds [Cherry], 5 to 2, won; George Vivian, 102 [Radtke], 3 to 1, second; Payne, 107 [Kelly], 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:51.

ROADS SEEK 25,000 MEN.

WESTERN RAILWAYS ARE FACING A LABOR FAMINE.

Activity in Building Operations Causes Demand for Thousands of Workmen—$2 and More a Day Is Offered for Unskilled Men—Contractors Appeal to Passenger Officials—Eastern Lines Vote Against Reducing Grain Rates to Seaboard.

Western railroads are facing a labor famine. Twenty-five thousand men are needed in the northwestern and southwestern states to build the roads that are already under way, and it is estimated that before the first of June more than twice that number will be required. There never has been such great activity in railroad building in the west as at present and the visible supply of labor in that part of the country has been exhausted.

Railroad contractors have been able to resume work earlier this year than usual on account of the open winter, and they are making strenuous efforts to get men from the east to go out west for this work. Ten thousand men are needed by the Western Pacific, the new Gould line to southern California, and they are offering from $2 to $2.25 a day for unskilled labor with the chance of steady work until the cold weather sets in again next fall.

Ask Aid of Railroads.

E. B. and A. L. Stone & Co. are the contractors for the western division of this line, with headquarters at Oakland. They have sent notices to the passenger departments of the railroads asking the passenger agents to make efforts to get men to take advantage of the colonist rates of $33 from Chicago to the coast. They are also urging the passenger men to send them men to act as foremen, agreeing to pay them from $60 to $100 a month.

The Utah Construction company, which is also constructing a section of the Western Pacific, is also crying for men, offering practically the same wages. Their headquarters are at Oroville, Cal., and they say they want not only unskilled labor but skilled men as well, such as carpenters, steam drill men, sawmill men, and loggers.

Shippers Find a Grievance.

Manufacturers and shippers all over the country have found a common grievance against the railroads. They claim that the railroad makes the rates on import goods so low that the manufacturer in Europe can get his goods to market cheaper than the manufacturers in this country can. They have complained of this irregularity and asked that the import rates be raised, but when the railroads took the matter up among themselves it was found that most of them have contracts running well into the year which will prevent any change in the rates this year.

Vote Against Grain Rate Cut.

The eastern roads voted against reducing the all rail grain rate from Chicago to the seaboard. The rates will stand at 17½ cents on domestic grain and 13½ cents on export grain, despite the fact that the lakes will open soon and take away their business. It is understood that the failure to reduce the rates at this time is due to the opposition of the Pennsylvania road, while it is known that the move was favored by the New York Central lines. As the grain rates are usually reduced every summer it is probable that the thing will be accomplished later in the year.

Measured Service.

When telephone service was provided in Chicago at flat rates only, the exchange reached a maximum of about 9,000 telephones and then stopped. The introduction of measured rates, which alone has made 5c a day service possible, has increased the total to more than 110,000, of which 90%, by choice of the subscribers, are upon some one of the many plans for measured rate service offered by the Company.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

Hogs could not recover from the slump experienced during the latter part of Wednesday's session, and there was no strength to the trading yesterday morning, even at the opening. As compared to the best levels of the day preceding, prices looked 10c to 15c lower.

The cattle market was slow and generally steady, although sellers had some difficulty in disposing of the light run of 5,000 head. The live mutton trading was irregular.

Hogs.

The demand for hogs was weak and stale stock, the bane of sellers, again was in evidence. As shippers did not have many orders, it was easy for the packers to keep the market in the bad rut where it had been dropped the previous day. Near the close there was a slightly better tone and sales were made more easily. Receipts were 14,000.

Quotations:

Good to prime butchers	$6.10@6.25
Good to choice shipping	6.05@6.22½
Good to choice heavy mixed	6.05@6.22½
Heavy packing	6.00@6.10
Light mixed	6.05@6.22½
Good to prime heavy	6.10@6.27½
Good to choice pigs	5.25@6.00

Cattle.

Trade was at times almost inert, though prices changed little from those of Wednesday. The best price for steers was $6.25, sold to Armour—a load of prime steers averaging 1,531 lbs. Butcher cattle were generally steady, but active enough to clean up the supply. Good stuff was scarce.

Prices for the day:

Choice to prime steers	$5.90@6.40
Common to good steers	4.65@5.80
Inferior to common steers	3.50@4.50
Good to fancy cows and heifers	3.50@5.25
Yearlings, good to choice	4.50@5.60
Fair to choice feeders	3.40@4.70
Fair to choice stockers	3.25@4.25
Good cutting to fair beef cows	2.75@3.25
Common to good canning cows	1.75@2.50
Bulls, common to choice	2.35@4.35
Calves, common to good	4.00@6.75
Calves, good to choice	6.75@8.00

Sheep.

The sheep market was considered strong, with receipts of 12,000, prices in many cases being 10c above the levels of Wednesday. Good sheep showed more strength than good lambs, but both scored advances. Choice sheep were wanted badly and found a ready sale. Few good ewes and yearlings were offered.

The range of prices:

Fair to prime wethers	$5.60@6.10
Ewes, fair to prime	5.15@5.95
Yearlings, good to choice	5.60@6.25
Culls, ewes, fair to good	3.75@4.00
Bucks and stags	3.50@4.00
Feeding lambs	6.00@6.50
Native lambs	6.50@6.90

DULL DAY IN WALL STREET

HOURS PASS ON EXCHANGE WITHOUT TRANSACTIONS.

Slight Tendency of Prices to Rally Late in Day Rendered Ineffective by Lack of Volume of Trading and Market Closes Weak—Chicago Tractions Continue Downward Course and Have Tendency to Drag Down People's Gas.

[BY A SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.]

NEW YORK, March 15.—[Special.]—The stock market reached an extreme of dullness today, and for long periods no transactions were recorded. Prices fell at first, and later showed some recovery, but the volume of business was not sufficient to make the recovery of any account.

The continued collapse in the Chicago Union Traction shares caused some anxiety as to possible consequences where these securities might figure as a basis for credits. The relapse in People's Gas was regarded as sympathetic, partly on account of liquidation induced by the fall in the traction shares and partly by the sentimental effect of the evidence offered of the disastrous consequences possible from hostile municipal action. The continued liquidation in Consolidated Gas and rumors of a varying cut in the dividend rate reinforced this interpretation.

The call money market held its firmer tone today, the rate rising to 9 per cent during a late flurry. The day's dividend disbursements, including the $15,000,000 by the Standard Oil company, were estimated at over $18,000,000.

With the passage through the senate at Albany today of a bill fixing reserve requirements for trust companies it is thought to be likely that some accumulation of the reserves of these companies may have commenced in anticipation of the coming enactment of this measure into law. Louisville and Nashville was conspicuous for strength today, influenced by rumors of an intended increase in the dividend rate. The market closed weak.

Bonds were steady. Total sales, par value, $1,845,000. United States bonds were all unchanged on call.

Money on call, strong and higher; 5@9 per cent; ruling rate, 5½ per cent; closing bid, 5 per cent; offered, 5½ per cent. Time loans, steady; 60 days and 90 days, 5@5¼ per cent; six months, 5 per cent. Close: Prime mercantile paper, 5@5½ per cent. Sterling exchange, strong; closing easier, with actual business in bankers' bills at 485.85@485.90 for demand, and at 482.70@482.75 for 60 day bills. Posted rates, 483@483½ and 486½@487. Commercial bills, 482⅜@482¼. Bar silver, 64⅝c. Mexican dollars, 49⅝c. Government bonds, strong. Railroad bonds, steady.

SOUNDER TONE TO WHEAT.

GENERAL RALLIES ON IMPROVED CASH AND FLOUR TRADE.

All Leading Markets Report Better Demand for Breadstuff—Business at Sample Tables Done at Higher Prices—Argentine Estimate Small—Good Bidding for Scanty Offerings of Corn—Oats Have Substantial Rise—Provisions Are Advanced.

Wheat conducted itself yesterday like a bull article. At no time between the go to work and lay off whistles did it lower its head to the finishing figures of the previous session, but at times held at a materially higher level. The pit seemed to have been in the mood for an upturn, and, backed up by news of a substantial sort, it performed according to that mood. The May wheat at one time showed an advance of 1⅛c, but ended up ⅝@¾c better than yesterday. The more distant months closed at advances of ⅝c.

A generally improved demand for flour and a better tone to the cash situation, with a little more encouragement from abroad, were the main cogs in the wheel that whirled up the bulls. The talk on the flour situation appeared convincing enough to stir many shorts to cover and to warrant considerable new investment buying. Millers both northwest and southwest expressed a more hopeful view of the situation, and local flour dealers were of the opinion that if wheat values maintained present strength for a reasonable time the trade in the manufactured article would show a material improvement. The business transacted at the sample tables was brisk and at better prices. Big lots of No. 2 red were handled at prices ranging from 2½c to 3c over the May in store, and No. 2 hard was traded in at 2½c under. Whether or not the deals in the No. 2 grade were new transactions the trade guessed at. Some men in a position to speak declared most of them to be of the "changing" variety, but the good advance in prices served to bolster up confidence all around. Montreal reported large sales of Manitoba wheat, principally to France, and New York wired that the Ogilvie Milling company was a good buyer of Winnipeg May wheat. New York also said that the foreign interest in American flour was keener, and that if wheat held firm the volume of actual business with Europe would assume important proportions.

Argentine Estimate Small.

A good deal of profit taking was indulged in around the cent advance, but the demand was sufficient to prevent much of a loss in the pit. When the selling was strongest Broomhall came along with word that the weekly exports from Argentina would be only 3,200,000 bu, compared to actual shipments of 4,392,000 bu last week. This caused the more timid shorts to renew covering and resulted in an improvement in the tone of the market near the close.

Liverpool was slightly higher, chiefly on firmer La Plata cargoes, and Paris showed a slight gain. The northwest combined bearish news with the encouraging flour gossip wired in. Duluth and Minneapolis had [illegible] cars of wheat, compared to 191 cars the corresponding day last year. The latter also added to the bearish flavor by reporting an increase of 550,000 bu in its stocks for five days. "Rather puzzling," said a trader, "that, in view of the enormous accumulation of stocks at Minneapolis, the millers and elevators there were paying full May price for the grain." The primary receipts of wheat were 319,500 bu, about 34,000 bu less than those of the similar day last year. A report from Minneapolis which was given considerable weight was that much of the liberal arrivals at the northwestern points has been at the expense of the country elevators, and that the farmers themselves are selling on only a modest scale. Duluth reported bids for durum wheat from Mediterranean ports.

The weather and crop reports from the winter regions were most favorable, and the Price Current said that, while recent conditions were trying on the plant, there had been no actual damage. That paper regarded the government's estimate of farm reserves as too small.

On the early advance Clifford, Pringle, and brokers who usually act for Cudahy were sellers. Ware-Leland, Lake, Love, Gifford, and Kiston also were mentioned among sellers. Bartlett-Frazier, Canby, Brosseau, Harris, and scattered commission houses bought. It was said that Lichstern also took on a fair line. To the pit observer much of the scattered buying appeared to be for Armour interests. Buying by Wells was said to have been for foreign account.

Good Tone to Corn.

Corn was higher from beginning to end, closing [illegible] over the previous closing quotations. Shorts plainly showed their nervousness throughout, and the better tone was due largely to their covering. Factors that worked for the improvement were the strength in wheat, small arrivals, bad roads, and the increased prospect of still lighter movement from the farms. The grain at the sample tables, meagerly offered, was ½c higher for the better grades and 1c up for the poorer, and this condition added to the strength in the pit. Only two of the 119 cars received here graded. Shipments hence were [illegible] bu and the seaboard clearances, at [illegible] bu, were much smaller than those of the corresponding day in 1905. The primary receipts were 274,000 bu, 337,000 bu less than those of a year ago. Liverpool was ⅛d lower to ⅛d higher for futures and ½d lower for spot. Broomhall estimated the Argentine shipments at 80,000 bu, compared to actual exports of 203,000 bu last week and 51,000 bu last year. There was considerable more changing of May to July by the same brokers who gave up Armour's name on similar transactions the day before. Updike bought May and sold July at ¼c difference. Phillips, Gerhart, and Pringle were among sellers early. Trego-Montgomery, Sickel-Roberts, and scattered commission houses bought near the start. There was an impression in the pit that much of the grain bought was to cover a short line, presumably for Champlin. Even at the day's best prices the recognized big holders would not put out freely. In view of the probable decrease in the movement to market the sentiment in the trade showed material improvement. The estimate for today was 147 cars.

Gains Scored in Oats.

Oats kept in the front rank of progressive grains, and displayed soundness and strength throughout. The firmness of wheat and corn, light receipts, and an oversold pit condition were the principal factors of influence. It required an advance of ½@⅝c to bring forth liberal offerings to the shorts, and the willingness to buy and the reluctance to sell kept prices at about that rise all day. The final bell showed 29⅞c for May, 29c for July, and 28⅝c for September, gains of ⅜@½c, ⅛c, and ½c respectively. The receipts were only 80 cars, 2 over the estimate, and clearances at the seaboard were 10,000 bu. Prices at the sample tables were ½@¾c higher, the trade being fair. Nash-Wright, Lake, Bartlett-Frazier, and cash houses were among the best buyers, selling being scattered.

Provisions Up at Finish.

Provisions, moderately active, were about steady at the start, but eased off, particularly in the case of pork, soon afterward. The latter part of the session witnessed some good buying, the result of which was gains of 12½c for pork and 5@7½c for lard and ribs for the day. The market at the yards was easier despite the fact that the hog arrivals—14,000 head—fell 12,000 under the estimate. The small receipts were attributed chiefly to unfavorable weather conditions. The principal western points reported 44,000 head received, compared to 76,500 last week and 57,000 last year. Shipments of meats hence were 127,000 lbs larger than those of last year, those of lard showing an increase of 9,000 lbs. The sentiment in the trade appeared to be quite as bullish as heretofore.

Rye Market Steady.

There was a slightly steadier tone to the rye market. Offerings were small. Receipts were 3 cars with 2 estimated for today. May sold at 61c and closed 61c bid, 63c asked; March, nominally, 60c; No. 2 was quoted 60@61c.

Barley was decidedly dull. Offerings were the lightest for some time, and buyers paid little attention to the market. Prices ruled firm. Receipts were 28 cars. Feed was quoted [illegible]; malting, 38@53c; screenings, 29@[illegible]

Flaxseed was unchanged. There was no trade. No. 1 was quoted $1.07½; No. 1 northwestern, $1.13½; May, $1.13½. Receipts were 1 car here, 28 cars at Minneapolis, and 48 cars at Duluth.

Timothy seed was dull and unchanged. Contract spot was quoted $3.17½; September, $3.40; country lots, $2.00@3.20.

Clover was in slow demand, only a few small lots being traded in. Contract spot was quoted $13.50; poor to choice, $9.50@13.25.

INTERESTING TRADE GOSSIP ON 'CHANGE.

There was an excellent demand for No. 2 red wheat again in the local cash market. Sales of about 200,000 bu were made, the premiums over May price ranging from 2½@3½c. The bulk of the sales were made at 3c over May. Sales of 75,000 bu No. 2 hard at 3c under May price in store, and 20,000 bu mixed lots were reported. A Kansas City message said: "Holders of wheat report an active demand for milling grades in store, not only from local mills but also from east of here. Some fairly large sales reported at 3@4¼c over May option, f. o. b. Prices generally ½@1c higher; No. 2 hard, 75½@79c; No. 2 red, 89½@90½c." A St. Louis miller bought 40,000 bu No. 2 hard out of store at Kansas City. St. Louis No. 2 red was quoted 90@92½c; No. 2 hard, 78@82c. There was a good demand for cash wheat at Minneapolis. Mills were the principal buyers. No. 1 northern sold at May price to ¼c over; No. 2 northern, 1½@2c under May. New York wired: "Manitobas are firmly held. Early bids were higher than yesterday's, but little wheat offered." Cash corn was in active demand here and offerings were light. Prices ½@1¼c higher. Oats were ¼@½c higher. Local sales were 50,000 bu corn and 250,000 bu oats. Seaboard sales were 80,000 bu wheat, 16,000 bu corn, 100,000 bu oats.

A marked improvement in the demand for flour was reported from nearly all the large milling and exporting centers. Several private messages were received from different sections of the country, all noting a much better tone to the inquiries. Minneapolis wired Shearson-Hammill: "There is a much better demand for flour and some cash business is being done every day, although the volume is not large. If the market will stay where it is now the foreigners will take hold and a large export business will be done." Eastern advices claimed that consumers in the east have practically no surplus flour on hand and that when the general buying gets started it will last for a long time. The demand the last few days in the east has been good and there was said to be every indication of more general buying. New York flour handlers said that their mills had raised the price of flour 10@15c per brl since Monday. Montreal reported a big improvement in their flour trade with large sales made. It is understood that the output of the northwestern mills will be materially increased in the next few days. The domestic demand has been satisfactory all the week, and Minneapolis millers are looking for bids from foreigners today.

From one of the "hopeful": "Liberal sales of No. 2 red winter wheat here at good premiums over the May price have started considerable figuring on the cost of bringing fresh supplies here for May delivery. The stock of No. 2 hard is light, and it is deliverable only at 2 cents discount or penalty. That grade is selling in Kansas City at about the Chicago May price, and cost of bringing here is 8 cents per bushel. No. 1 northern laid down here from Duluth would show 3 to 4 cents loss at present May price here, and from Minneapolis would show 5 to 6 cents loss. The northwest is a reluctant seller of cash wheat, and they are talking a May premium up there over Chicago. We are supposed to be trading in real wheat here in Chicago, and there are many chances of contract wheat being much higher and harder to get here in May than it is now, and there are some good bulls who really want the real wheat on their May purchases."

"March liquidation of May wheat is unusual," said J. F. Mackenzie. "The result has been to demonstrate that the small holding of long wheat is sufficient to moderately congest May wheat and that sellers who are not in a position to deliver Chicago receipts might be placed in an uncomfortable position and be forced to cover both hedges and short sales at an advance from the level. No. 2 red wheat is out of the running as a delivery proposition. No. 1 northern is in too small quantity to be important and the No. 2 hard is in the hands of the elevator man, who never has been noted for charity to his fellow short."

E. G. Heeman made this comment: "For some months the sole argument of the bears in wheat and corn has been that, having raised a big surplus in this country, the price must go to an export basis. That sounds logical enough, but in past years, when crops averaged considerably smaller and when this country was exporting much more than now, the average price was fully 10c to 20c per bu lower. If we have to go to an export basis for wheat it will never stop going down, and no one has ever presumed it cut any figure in corn."

A northwestern grain man wired: "Those who have looked into the country elevator stocks say they are much smaller than trade generally suppose. Some estimate them less than 4,000,000 bu. One elevator man just told me their stocks were 8,000 less than last year. Understand two of the largest line houses claim theirs are smaller than last year. I don't think they are far from 5,000,000 bu and growing less every day, as they are shipping wheat out and the farm deliveries are almost nothing."

Montreal advices stated that large export sales of Manitoba wheat were being made, but the amount was not given out. The sales were made principally to France, although Germany was said to be taking a fair amount. A much better demand from all continental countries was reported. It was also stated that 100 loads could be sold around present prices, but holders wanted better prices.

The Price Current in its weekly summary said: "Recent conditions trying on wheat crop, but not necessarily disturbing the general position. Bad condition of roads interfering with operations. Official estimate of farmers' wheat stocks regarded largely short of real situation. Packing, 435,000 hu against 450,000 last year."

Business on the Omaha exchange has picked up sharply since March 1, according to messages received from there. The trade was said to be largely local, but that the people out there were waking up and getting enthusiastic over the prospects. Nearly 700,000 bu were traded in yesterday morning, mostly corn.

A New York exporter wired Wrenn & Co. that he had received the following from a prominent Duluth house: "Don't think Buffalo has bought a bushel of wheat yet for spring shipment. Buffalo has Duluth wheat now on hand for sale as cheap as opening would cost."

The board of trade "Bohemians" will hold their next monthly dinner at the Auditorium on Monday evening. Walter Fitch, president of the board, Jailer John M. Whitman, and Quin O'Brien will be the principal speakers. It is expected that 125 will sit at the table.

Schwabacher's weekly estimate of provision stocks in Chicago was as follows:

	Old.	New.
Pork, brls	6,000	13,000
Lard, tierces		48,000

Dakota farmers are not disposed to part with their wheat at present prices, according to Kansas City advices. One of the largest loaning companies operating in the Dakotas said: "Farmers won't sell what little wheat they have left at these prices. They are afraid of a wet spring."

New York wired: "Message from a leading St. Louis miller says: 'We have worked 11,000 brls flour for export recently. There is no doubt that foreigners are taking our flour in greater quantities. Local flour brokers report improved export demand and sales.'"

Broomhall's Liverpool cable said: "Wheat support was the result of a better demand for La Plata cargoes. There was a slight easiness in corn owing to the fact that both Danubian and La Plata offerings were more pressing."

There was a sale of a small cargo of kiln dried corn c. i. f. Buffalo at opening of navigation at ⅝c over Chicago May. This was a better price than any one had expected in view of the general dullness of the trade.

"These July provisions are going into strong hands," said Pringle-Fitch-Rankin. "The big packers are leading the buying. Everything seems to point to a considerably higher range of prices."

Closing prices for wheat in foreign markets were: Liverpool, ⅛@⅜d higher; Antwerp, unchanged; Berlin, May, unchanged; Budapest, April, ⅛c lower; Paris, unchanged to ¼c higher.

Topeka, Kas., wired: "Wheat fields are covered with nine inches of snow. It is generally believed that this will insure a crop of 70,000,000 bu."

The Ogilvie Milling company of New York were reported buyers of Winnipeg May wheat. This was construed as forecasting export sales.

Offers on May wheat sold 78⅛@78⅜-½c and closed at 78⅜c; bids closed 77⅞-½c. Offers on May corn closed 43⅝-¾c, bids 43⅝c.

Estimated receipts for today are: Wheat, 4 cars; corn, 147 cars; oats, 95 cars; rye, 2 cars; barley, 14 cars; hogs, 13,000.

Minneapolis wheat stocks increased 550,000 bu for five days. Duluth wheat stocks increased 100,000 bu.

It was reported that the Pillsbury people had planned to reopen their idle mills next Monday.

Broomhall cabled that the stocks of wheat at Baha Blanca amounted to 1,216,000 bu.

BOND ISSUE FALLING DUE.

NORTH CHICAGO 5S, $1,500,000, WILL MATURE ON JULY 1.

Holders of Traction Securities Apparently Can See Little Possibility at Present of Improving the Situation by Foreclosure—Status of Street Railway Affairs Badly Mixed—New Yorkers Are Affected by Municipal Ownership Sentiment in This City.

On July 1 there will fall due $1,500,000 North Chicago Street Railroad 5s. It could not be learned yesterday that determination had been reached as to what course would be pursued by the company. It would appear, however, to those not interested in the properties that the holder of these bonds will be no better off if he seeks foreclosure than if he does not for the time being. As the matter stands there are obligations enough ahead of these bonds to cover tangible assets, and the situation is so mixed that it will be difficult for some time for bondholders to learn just where they stand.

The North Chicago City railway company made a lease to the North Chicago Street railroad company and the North Chicago Street railroad company made a contract with the Chicago Union Traction company in which there were mutual obligations. But the original company, the North Chicago City railway company, sold a 999 year contract, which is now null and void. This lease was the original fabric of value on which all other contracts and values have been based. The subsequent companies have not received what they thought they were getting, as the lease is terminated by the expiration of franchises.

In some quarters it was thought the Morgan syndicate might retire the bonds in question on maturity. But it appears now that the reasonable course at this time is to await developments. By July 1 the status of the street railroads will be definite so far as the intentions of the city are concerned.

Market for the Securities.

There were no transactions in any of the bond issues yesterday. West Chicago Consolidated 5s were quoted variously in the matter of bid and asked prices. They had been offered at 75 with no bids. There has been a bid of 50. The Chicago Consolidated 4½s were 40 bid and 59½ asked.

North and West Chicago stocks were lower, but transactions were small. North Chicago lost 4 points from the opening, closing at 30. West Chicago lost 2 points from the opening, closing at 28. Small lots are coming on the market, being holdings of small investors.

Chicago Union Traction was not dealt in on the local exchange, but was active in New York. The price of the common was fairly steady, closing at 5¼, against 6 the previous day. The preferred dropped from 22 to 16½, closing at 16⅞.

New Yorkers Changing Views.

The New Yorkers are beginning to see that things in Chicago are different from New York. It has been a costly lesson to learn that the municipal ownership idea is rampant here and that the people have elected a mayor on that issue. This is a statement of fact, aside from other questions.

There was free selling of People's Gas stock. Holders are beginning to reason that if values, for whatever cause, can be wiped out so disastrously as in the case of Union Traction, then other investments in public service corporation securities possibly may suffer in some manner. This again is a statement of the condition and not what should or should not be.

Corn Products' Profits Large.

Since the Glucose interests got together the earnings in the business have increased greatly. For the last two months it is understood the Corn Products company has been earnings at a rate in excess of the full 7 per cent on preferred stock.

Poor Year for Missouri Pacific.

For the year ended Dec. 31, 1905, the Missouri Pacific failed to earn its dividend of 5 per cent by $18,207. The surplus applicable to dividends was $3,872,663, against dividend requirements for a full year of $3,890,873, being 5 per cent on the capital stock of $77,817,875. As a result of this showing the stock sold off yesterday from 99¾, the previous day's close, to 95, the low being the last quotation.

The published announcement of the retirement of John D. Rockefeller Jr. and E. Prentice Parmelee from the directory also caused adverse comment, though it is reported these two directors have not been interested in Missouri Pacific for a long time.

In his report to the stockholders President Gould said the year was marked by extremely cold weather and severe snow storms in January and February, and later on by excessive rainfall and unusual floods, all of which adversely affected traffic and earnings. Yellow fever in New Orleans in July and the subsequent rigid quarantines throughout the southern states were particularly disastrous to the railway traffic throughout that district. The quarantine practically put an embargo upon traffic in general for nearly six months and the effect was felt throughout the entire Missouri Pacific system. The earnings of the road were seriously affected by the small cotton crop, not more than one-half an average crop being harvested in the territory covered by the Missouri Pacific system. During the latter part of the year flood conditions seriously affected the western and southern branches of the system. President Gould declares in closing his report that "in view of all these discouraging and disappointing circumstances the earnings for the final six months of the year were fairly well maintained."

Dividends Declared.

The New York Air Brake company declared the regular quarterly dividend of 2 per cent, payable April 18. Books close April 2, reopen April 18.

Directors of the Chicago Title and Trust company declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent, payable April 2. Books close March 20 and reopen April 2.

General Financial News.

Since last Friday the New York subtreasury has gained $1,580,000 from the banks.

Stockholders of the Consolidated Gas company held an adourned meeting yesterday and again adjourned, this time until the first week in May.

The International Smokeless Powder and Dynamite company has passed the quarterly dividends on the preferred and common stocks.

The New York and Pennsylvania Telephone and Telegraph company, a subcompany of the American Telephone company, operating in the northern counties of Pennsylvania and the southern counties of New York, has issued its report for 1905, which shows gross earnings to have been $568,481, an increase of $44,905, and the net earnings $115,525, an increase of $17,148. The balance for the year after interest was $13,248, an increase of $5,341.

Diamond Match.

There are reports that the Diamond Match company is seeking to buy up independent concerns, with which it has a large fight on hand. A telegram from New York to a local news bureau was to the effect that the officials were neither negotiating nor had in contemplation negotiations.

There is no director in Chicago and no interest here familiar with the business of the company. The denial, however, may be well doubted. It is known that efforts have been made to secure control of one particular independent concern. Again, it has always been the policy of the Diamond Match company to buy up competitors when they got troublesome. The patents on the Diamond's most important match machine will soon expire, and one of the independent concerns claims to have a machine now that is superior to the Beecher, which, with improvements, the Diamond company uses.

POTATO PRICES ARE ADVANCED.

Potato prices were advanced 2@3c, owing to the light receipts and cold weather. Only 20 cars were received, and part of these were to be shipped out. Live poultry again was firm, with another ½c advance in the price of chickens. For dressed stock there was a fair demand. Receipts of both live and dressed poultry were limited. Veal was a shade stronger. Trade was not large. The cold, stormy weather restricted trade in greenstuff, the demand being slow. There was a fair supply on the market.

The Globe-Wernicke Co.

The issue of Treasury stock of the Pittsburgh Bullfrog Mining Corporation Limited, at thirty-five cents per share, being nearly subscribed, the price will be

ADVANCED TO 45 CENTS PER SHARE
WEDNESDAY, MARCH 21st.

The two veins recently discovered on our Sapper claim, composed of quartz and white talc, the identical Shoshone formation, indicate that equal development will make the shares of this Corporation worth many times par, as it has already done for the Montgomery-Shoshone. That this fact is thoroughly appreciated by the knowing ones on the ground is shown by the large number of orders being received for the stock from Bullfrog and Rhyolite.

Immediate application is therefore advisable on the part of those who wish to secure this stock at 35 cents, as no more than the allotted amount will be sold at this price.

The right is reserved to reduce or return any subscription.

APPLICATIONS BY MAIL should be accompanied by check to the order of this Corporation, at the rate of 35 cents per share for the number desired. Minimum subscription accepted, 100 shares.

The dinner party was a small one, the speaker and Miss Cannon and a few other guests only being present. YERKES' WILL IS PROBATED.

Docket Fee, $3,200, Paid Under Protest, Because Similar Case Is Pending in Supreme Court.

The will of Charles T. Yerkes was admitted to probate yesterday on petition of Clarence A. Knight, attorney for the estate; Frank Waller of New York, clerk in the office of Mr. Yerkes; Louis S. Owsley, and W. T. Nelson. Mrs. Yerkes-Mizner did not appear in court.

An order was issued restraining Owsley, who was appointed executor, from withdrawing any of the stocks or securities deposited with the Central Trust company or any cash or other property belonging to the estate except through an order of the court or by vouchers approved by the court. The order, it was explained, was a formality to protect Mr. Owsley.

All the legatees and the devisees of the will filed appearances through Mr. Knight. The estate was excused from registering the real estate in accordance with the provisions of the Torrens law. The docket fee, $3,200, was paid under protest, because a test case similar to this is pending before the Supreme court.
